OBJECTIVES

- 1. Understand the qualities unique to cataloging continuing resources
- 2. Understand the parts of the MARC record that record aforementioned unique qualities
- 3. To instill self-confidence in catalogers completely new to or vaguely familiar with serials cataloging!

CAVEATS

- This presentation assumes knowledge of MARC cataloging
- This presentation is by no means comprehensive of the many complexities of cataloging serials
- This presentation does not address holdings and item formatting in detail
- This presentation does not address format changes in detail

CONTINUING RESOURCES

Serials are a continuing resource whose core concept is that the title is published at various intervals over a indeterminate period of time with each issue assigned enumeration at publisher's discretion.

A serial can be represented by either one or multiple bibliographic records

MULTIPLE BIBLIOGRAPHIC RECORDS?!

Yes, you will create a new bibliographic record each time the following occurs:

- Title change
- Main entry change
- Translated title undergoes change in original title
- Change in corporate body used as a preferred title qualifier
- Changes in media type
- Edition statement

MULTIPLE BIBLIOGRAPHIC RECORDS?!

... unless the change is one of these, then you just need to note the oddity in the record:

- Small title changes in grammar, hyphenation, articles, prepositions, conjunctions, etc. (can be either addition to or subtraction of)
- Changes in enumeration, frequency, captions

WHAT IS THE VISTA?

- The Vista* is UCO's student newspaper that was established in 1903. It also happens to be the longest, continually published student newspaper in Oklahoma.
- The Vista* is an important archival resource about its parent institution. Along with other local archival resources, UCO's catalogers have been responsible for ensuring this title's discoverability.

HOW TO CATALOG?

Multiple Records

- Each record represents publisher name iteration with records linked together
- Holdings and items are easier to navigate on patron display side

Single Record

- All publisher name iterations listed in multiple 264 fields
- Century's worth of holdings and items complicate patron display

...how it went.

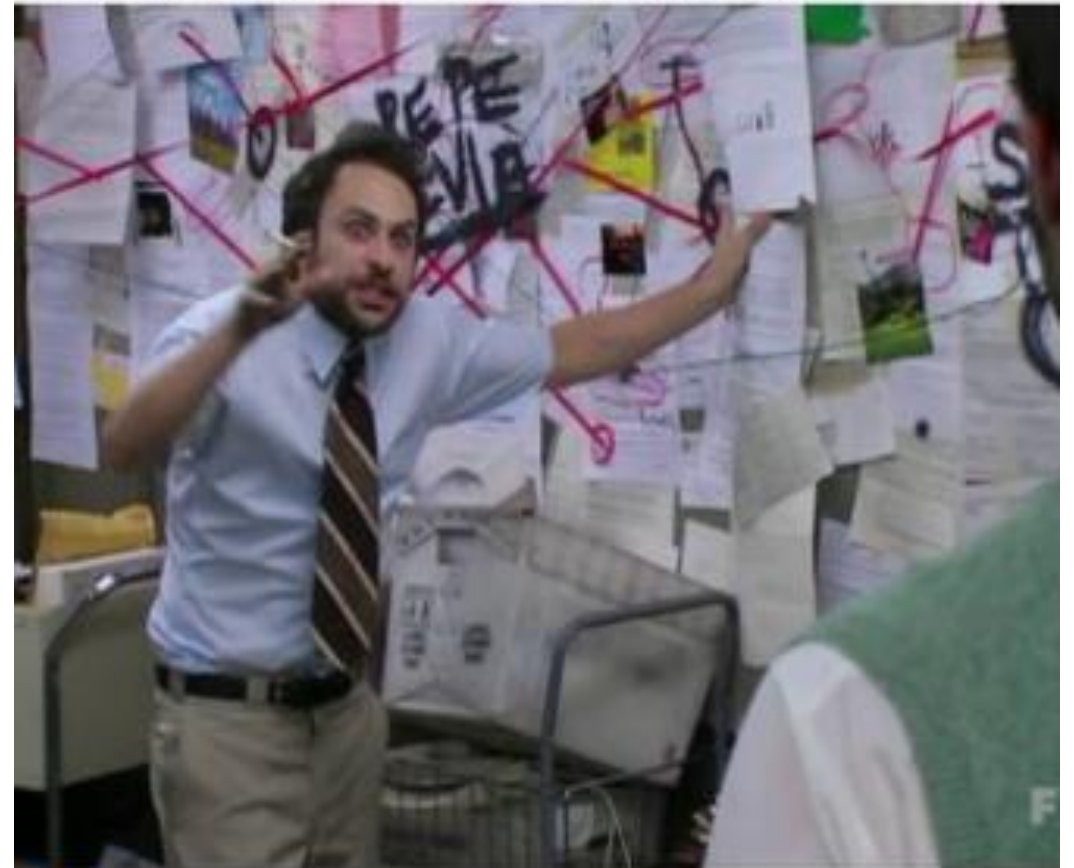

This is an accurate depiction of me while re-cataloging our university student newspaper to account for the fact that the uni changed names 6 times, at least 3 frequency changes every 20 years, a subseries under a different name and enumeration / chronology, new authority records for school names, and I haven't even arrived at updating holdings / items yet.

The Summer Quarter Begins May 23.

TWO THOUSAND

"Two thousand students will be in Central this summer; and Central will take care of them in fine shape. This is President Mitchell's prediction of the summer term enrollment. The correspondence relative to the Summer Term is far larger than it was last year; hence, my estimate of 2000 is conservative."

This is not merely an expression of an opinion; it means that 2000 will be enrolled during the Summer Term. What a wonderful opportunity for every one to be a part of TWO THOUSAND ambitious young people!

OKLAHOMA CITY LATE TEACHER AT CENTRAL

The Latin Department at Central had the honor and pleasure of having Miss Newby of the Latin Department of the High School of Oklahoma City visit on the afternoon of March 17th. Miss Newby is a sister of Mr. Ernest Newby who was registrar of the University of Oklahoma for many years. At present she is rendering excellent service as teacher of Latin in Oklahoma City and came to Central hoping to get some new ideas to help her in her work. We trust she will be disappointed in her visit and we hope she will come again. At the meeting of the Classical Teachers of Oklahoma recently, Miss Newby was elected Secretary. At the same meeting the head of the Latin Department at Central was honored by being given an opportunity to deliver an address. We wondered at the time whether any good would come from our effort. Our wonder ceases now, however, for that address resulted in giving us a chance to entertain for a short time this wide awake, energetic teacher. May her visit result in good!

POSTERS FOR ALL WHO ARE PREPARED

This is good news, which President Mitchell brings to us—a good position for every one who is prepared to teach well. Or, as he phrased it recently in Assembly: "We have more requests for good teachers than we can supply at this time. There is a position at a good salary for every candidate who is prepared to hold such a position."

So then read requests from a large number of requests for Central trained teachers. One Superintendent wrote: "I already have ten of your teachers, and I am filling every vacancy this year with Central teachers."

All this sounds not only good, but true! Central is a college for the TRAINING OF TEACHERS NOW TO TEACH SCHOOLS WELL.

THE VALUE OF EDUCATION

[From the Indianapolis News.] Figures presented by the Indianapolis bank show that of 5,000,000 children with no schooling their new attain distinction. Of 25,000,000 with an elementary schooling the number to gain distinction is 90%. Two million with a high school education show a distinction gained by 1,241. Out of 1,000,000 who go through college, 1,708 become distinguished in some walk of life.

Less than one per cent. of the men in America are college bred, yet this small percentage has furnished 55 per cent. of American Presidents, 54 per cent. of the Vice Presidents, 62 per cent. of the Secretaries of State, 50 per cent. of the Secretaries of Treasury, 42 per cent. of the Attorneys General, 47 per cent. of the Speakers of the House, and 48 per cent. of the Supreme Court Justices.

With a college education the child has an advantage in life, with a high school education a chance in 1,000, with an elementary schooling none, one chance in 40,041, and with no schooling, one chance in 241,200.

STEAL THY BOOKS

In the spring time text-books are more than usually inclined to go astray, according to President Mitchell's observation in Assembly recently. "Keep on good terms with your school work," he advised, "and your books will be less likely to go on a strike."

THE TRIANGLE

An even dozen young men and women took part in the elimination contest for choosing Central's representatives on the Normal College Tri-Angular debate to be held in each of the six Normal Colleges the last Friday evening in April. Those winning are Raymond Barry, Everett Edick, Ferris J. Schaaf, Edna Fink, Elmer McLane, and Lester Carpenter. They are all strong debaters; they are all good students; they are all able to bring glory to Central. They MUST bring victory!

The affirmative will be presented by Everett Edick, Elmer McLane, and Ferris J. Schaaf; the negative, by Raymond Barry, Edna Fink, and Lester Carpenter.

The Vista states a recipe for making the winning debater—first, study the question, study it more; second, think and plan as you study; and when you don't study, remember that a good speech is a growth; see that you know and understand FULLY and CLEARLY just what MUST be PROVED to WIN; third, know your own mind, train your voice, train your voice further, forget your voice, get in earnest, get ready in earnest, get so in earnest that you will not flinch, make extraordinary effort to make your position in the controversy CLEAR and CONVINCING to the AUDIENCE.

To sum up, finally.—Get WHOLLY in to the contest and WIN!

THE STATE READING CONTEST

Soon we shall be invited to that annual State Reading Contest. Let us get ready for it. Perhaps in no other endeavor has Central shown such a uniform record of superiority as in Reading. During five of the last six years—we mean to be accurate—Central has won in the State Reading Contest. Central must win this year. Let us get ready to win!

Just a word to the young people over the State who desire to acquire skill in Expression.—President Mitchell has planned and is preparing for YOU the best Department of Expression in Oklahoma.

Let us forget—let US win the State Reading Contest!

CENTRAL AND THE NORTH CENTRAL ASSOCIATION

The Alumni, students, and faculty of Central have lately had cause for rejoicing over the honor that has come to Central in the form of membership in the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. The citizens of Edmond, too, have added cause for the pride that they feel in the school. That others, besides those who have personal reasons for desiring Central to be a member of the Association, have recognized the work of our school is a source of gratification to all supporters of the Brown and Blue. Central has at last come into a share of the honor that is rightly hers.

Schools in fifteen states in the north central part of the United States comprise the Association. Beginning over a decade ago, when a group of school men at the University of Michigan became interested in this matter and called late conference on workers in adjoining states, the Association has now grown to be one of importance, and membership in it means recognition not only by other Associations, but also by all Colleges and Secondary Schools in the Association. The Bi-School commission of the Association is composed of three delegates from each of these states, and each state also sends a delegate to the College Commission. Both Commissions meet at the same time in Chicago every year in March to consider applications, requirements for membership and rules of the Association.

President Mitchell asked Dean Babcock, the secretary of the association, to send a representative to inspect Central. He sent Professor Matt of the University of Kansas, who, after a thorough inspection, recommended Central for membership in the Association. His recommendation proved final and now a student of Central knows that

PRESIDENT MITCHELL: AS HE LOOKS

PRESIDENT MITCHELL

As he thinks: "As a man, I think he is in." In President Mitchell's view as to the phenomena of school, "conduct" is the big word. "Lead education from day to day show itself in improved conduct from day to day." "A good name is the best asset; three literary minutes of your school life have magnified the same you brought here and will leave less." Also, he notes, through preparation very high. "Let the standard of scholarship of this school be second to none anywhere," he recently requested of the faculty.

As he is industrious, business-like, energetic, enthusiastic. First at his work in the morning; last to quit in the afternoon. This suggests the industry with which President Mitchell applies himself as director of Central State Teachers' College. He doesn't grow tired, apparently; but rather seems to thrive on ten hours a day in and all about Central. Business-like, as denoting

RANDOM THOUGHTS

March, my friend, seems dark and dreary. Like sky, we sad, and show, we weary. With aches and heavy eyes, That see but dark and gloomy skies.

April's soft smile and tinkling showers, That wake the grass and sleeping flowers.

Seen distant far from human ken, Though dreams of her come now and then. But come, my soul, and face the light With courage true and all thy might.

Put far behind the dark, sad days And look for life's irradiant ways. The best's ahead, the worst's behind For those whose eyes are not perverted.

The forward look, the brave, true heart Should seek for life's main part. And dare the day, though dark and drear With never a thought of coward fear.

And, strong in faith, face every sorrow: A day of life's joy and sad of sorrow. So, may we hope to serve and live.

For 'tis not what we get, but give Which sheds the light of sweet, true love— The silver haze of Noah's dove.

—Edmond Dendridge Murdock.

President Mitchell, would suggest system, reason, logic, arrangement, a careful regard for the often unnoticed but vitally significant phenomena of school, preparation, and attention in putting his decisions into action. "If you were to call him several names," among them, you would certainly call him "energetic." In coming up the stairs he does not, it is true, take his steps at a time; but he never drops himself any lower, slides down the stairway or grovels or up the same, through the halls, or in the expression of his convictions. Not ostentatious in the way he wears it, evidenced by the coat when he leaves it first under the wire—by great gusts of general reformation; but the enthusiasm that bears to be demonstrated by those hours of untiring effort put forth to make Central the BEST Teachers' College to be found anywhere.

THE PRESIDENT CANDIDATE

The Freshman Class was asked to nominate a candidate for May Queen. The class acted on this suggestion and unanimously nominated Miss Jennie Clark to be its representative in the campaign.

Miss Clark was chosen because of her wide popularity, not only in Central, but everywhere she knows. Because of her charming personality and her cheery smile, Miss Clark has won the admiration of both faculty and students of Central.

Miss Clark is a member of the Ladies' Quartette, the Tea, the Co. Club, and the Bronze Book Staff.

Anyone who knows or has seen Miss Clark can understand why the Freshman Class chose the distinction of having the May Queen among its members even before the election has been rendered.

The Freshman Class believes that every student in Central will acknowledge without hesitation that Miss Clark is the most popular young lady in school.

If you have not met her, do go and the Freshman Class feels confident that you will vote for her.

WIN WITH A WINNER. —Russell Myers.

New faculty posts created in budget

TAMLEQUAH, Okla. (AP)—Twenty Oklahoma colleges will receive 117 new faculty members in the $718.6 million budget approved Friday by the State Regents for Higher Education.

Regents Chair George Kaiser said the new faculty positions will help reduce class sizes, improve academic counseling and quiet a common complaint that too many classes are taught by graduate students.

Also included are merit-based faculty salary increases, which average 5.1 percent and are as high as 15 percent.

AIDS vaccine to be tried by Salk

SAN DIEGO (AP)—Polio vaccine pioneer Jonas Salk said he will be the first uninfected person to be injected with his experimental AIDS vaccine.

Salk plans to inject himself before the end of the year, and said he hopes to show that the vaccine is safe for the next group of uninfected volunteers: celibate nuns and priests.

Instead of only preventing an initial infection from occurring, Salk's vaccine should boost the body's immune defenses after the AIDS virus has already been established.

The 76-year-old pioneer said he injected himself with a 1942 influenza vaccine as well as his 1952 polio vaccine.

Long, hot summer for New Yorkers

NEW YORK (AP)—Summer in the Big Apple may not be much fun for millions of kids if Mayor David Dinkins' "doomday budget" is adopted this week as proposed.

Central Park's polar bears may need a new home, solars at Coney Island will be shut off, beaches will close, pools will be drained in early August and playgrounds will be littered with glass and graffiti.

No agency is being spared as city leaders try to close a $3.5 billion gap this week in the $29 billion budget. More than 10,000 workers lost their jobs Friday. Taxes are being raised

Ceremony makes new name official

Observance marks sixth change in university history

By Barbara Howry
Managing Editor

It's now official. Central State University became the University of Central Oklahoma in ceremonies at 9 a.m. Monday when President Bill Lillard and three students raised a UCO flag at Centennial Square.

Over 200 dignitaries, administrators, professors, staff and students gathered to witness the sixth name change for the university.

Student Association's Todd Dealy served as master of ceremonies and introduced Lillard as the first speaker. Lillard said this would mark the first time ever Oklahoma would be included in the name of the university.

Then he said it was about time to have Oklahoma in the name, the crowd responded with applause.

Governor George Nigh was the next speaker and he said the name change was important for UCO's future.

Nigh said his high school students used to ask him why they had to study Oklahoma history. He said it was important for people to know where they have been as they move into the future.

Although Governor David Walters was listed on the program, he did not attend. He sent a representative to read a document proclaiming July 1, 1991 as the University of Central Oklahoma Day.

Other congratulatory messages were added from Higher Education Chancellor Dr. Hans Brisch, Board of Regents of Oklahoma Colleges Past President Belva Howard, Oklahoma State Representative Ray Vaughn, Edmond Mayor Randall Shadd and Edmond Chamber of Commerce President Ruth Ross.

After the CSU flag had been taken down and the UCO flag raised, the crowd joined in singing the school's alma mater, which had been rewritten to reflect the name change. V

Summer enrollment hits all-time high

By Kathy Karr
Staff Writer

Summer enrollment at the University of Central Oklahoma is at an all-time high with 6,398 students enrolling, an increase of 366 over last summer's figure.

"I see that we're up, particularly at the sophomore, junior, senior and graduate level," said Darrell E. Gilliland, admissions and records director.

The number of students enrolled in all classifications has increased. Enrollment of graduate students has risen 5.7 percent, senior enrollment 8.3 percent, junior enrollment 7.1 percent, sophomore enrollment 6.8 percent and freshman enrollment 8 percent, Gilliland said.

"We seem to have more continuing students this year than we've had in other semesters. I'm talking about those that went in the spring semester and just go ahead and enroll in the summer term," he said.

Another possible reason for the increase, Gilliland said, is students who live in the Edmond area, but attend other institutions, return home for summer and take classes at UCO to transfer back to their schools.

The number of hours taken by students is used to calculate UCO's full-time equivalency (FTE), which is also the highest ever. FTE is the average hour load of all students. For undergraduates the FTE is calculated by adding the total number of hours students are enrolled and dividing that number by 7.5. For graduate students the number of hours students are enrolled is divided by six. Graduate and undergraduate totals are then added to get the FTE figures.

"Essentially, that (FTE) will take all of your students, both part-time and full-time and give them a full-time equivalency," said Laura Tyrer, institutional research and planning assistant.

FTE figures can be used to determine the number of faculty needed, program budgeting, faculty/student ratios and the number of courses needed, Tyrer said. V

GENERAL TIPS FOR SERIALS CATALOGING: TIP 2

- When sourcing records from WorldCat, be aware of records tagged 'ndsp' or 'pcc' in 043 – their presence in 043 field indicate that the record has been formatted to specific standards
- All it really means for the lay cataloger is that changes can't be made in OCLC if institution is not part of CONSER, etc.
