FIFTY-SECOND CONGRESS.

[FIRST SESSION.]

OFFICIAL

CONGRESSIONAL DIRECTORY

FOR THE USE OF THE UNITED STATES CONGRESS.

By W. H. MICHAEL,

CLERK OF PRINTING RECORDS.

THIRD EDITION.

CORRECTED TO MAY 7, 1892.

WASHINGTON:
GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE.
1892.

ENTERED ACCORDING TO ACT OF CONGRESS, IN THE YEAR 1892,

By W. H. MICHAEL,

IN THE OFFICE OF THE LIBRARIAN OF CONGRESS, AT WASHINGTON.

NOTE.

This is the third and last edition of the Directory for the first session, Fifty-second Congress. The new features in it, worthy of mention, are the biographical sketches of members of the United States Supreme Court and of the Cabinet. These sketches are official like those given of the Senators and Representatives. The maps of Congressional districts have been corrected up to date, and occupy less space than they did in the first edition, and the statistical matter is presented in more compact form. All matter contained in the Directory has been thoroughly revised and corrected for this edition.

The following contests have been decided: Senate—W. H. Clagget vs. Fred. T. Dubois, Idaho, in favor of Dubois; R. H. M. Davidson vs. Wilkinson Call, Florida, in favor of the latter: House—Henry T. Noyes, Republican, vs. Hosea H. Rockwell, Democrat, Twenty-eighth New York, in favor of Mr. Rockwell; Alexander K. Craig, Democrat, vs. Andrew Stewart, Republican, Twenty-fourth Pennsylvania, in favor of Mr. Craig, Democrat. Hon. John V. McDuffie, Republican, vs. Louis W. Turpin, Democrat, Fourth Alabama district, allowed his case to go by default. Three cases remain to be disposed of, viz, John B. Reynolds, Democrat, vs. George W. Shonk, Republican, Twelfth Pennsylvania district; Thomas H. Greevy, Democrat, vs. Edward Scull, Republican, Twentieth Pennsylvania district; Thomas E. Miller, Republican, vs. William Elliott, Democrat, Seventh South Carolina district.

THE CAPITOL.

The Capitol is situated in latitude $38^{\circ} 53' 20'' .4$ north and longitude $77^{\circ} 00' 35'' .7$ west from Greenwich. It fronts east, and stands on a plateau eighty-eight feet above the level of the Potomac.

THE ORIGINAL BUILDING.

The southeast corner-stone of the original building was laid on the 18th of September, 1793, by President Washington, with Masonic ceremonies. It is constructed of sandstone from quarries in Aquia Creek, Virginia. The work was done under the direction of Stephen H. Hallett, James Hoban, George Hadfield, and B. H. Latrobe, architects. The north wing was finished in 1800, and the south wing in 1811. A wooden passage way connected them. On the 24th of August, 1814, the interior of both wings was destroyed by fire, set by the British. The damage to the building was immediately repaired. In 1818 the central portion of the building was commenced under the architectural superintendence of Charles Bulfinch. The original building was finally completed in 1827. Its cost, including the grading of the grounds, alterations, and repairs, up to 1827, was $2,433,844.13.

THE EXTENSIONS.

The corner-stone of the extensions was laid on the 4th of July, 1851, by President Fillmore, Daniel Webster officiating as orator. This work was prosecuted under the architectural direction of Thomas U. Walter, till 1865, when he resigned. It was completed under the supervision of Edward Clark, the present Architect of the Capitol. The material used in the walls is white marble from the quarries at Lee, Massachusetts, and that in the columns from the quarries at Cockeysville, Maryland. These extensions were first occupied for legislative purposes January 4, 1859.

DIMENSIONS OF THE BUILDING.

The entire length of the building from north to south is seven hundred and fifty-one feet four inches, and its greatest dimension from east to west three hundred and fifty feet. The area covered by the building is one hundred and fifty-three thousand one hundred and twelve square feet.

THE DOME.

The dome of the original central building was constructed of wood, covered with copper. This was replaced in 1856 by the present structure of cast-iron. It was completed in 1865. The entire weight of iron used is 8,909,200 pounds.

The dome is crowned by a bronze statue of Freedom, which is nineteen feet six inches high, and weighs 14,985 pounds. It was modeled by Crawford. The height of the dome above the base-line of the east front is two hundred and eighty-seven feet five inches. The height from the top of the balustrade of the building is two hundred and seventeen feet eleven inches. The greatest diameter at the base is one hundred and thirty-five feet five inches.

The rotunda is ninety-five feet six inches in diameter, and its height from the floor to the top of the canopy is one hundred and eighty feet three inches.

The Senate Chamber is one hundred and thirteen feet three inches in length, by eighty feet three inches in width, and thirty-six feet in height. The galleries will accommodate one thousand persons.

The Representatives' Hall is one hundred and thirty-nine feet in length, by ninety-three feet in width, and thirty-six feet in height.

The room now occupied by the Supreme Court was, until 1859, occupied as the Senate Chamber. Previous to that time the court occupied the room immediately beneath, now used as a law library.

The Library of Congress occupies the entire western projection of the central Capitol building. The original library was commenced in 1800, but was destroyed with the Capitol in 1814 during the war with England. It was afterwards replenished by the purchase of the library belonging to ex-President Jefferson, by Congress, embracing about 7,000 volumes. In 1851 it contained 55,000 volumes, and by an accidental fire in that year the whole collection was destroyed, except 20,000 volumes. It was rebuilt in 1852, when $75,000 was appropriated in one sum to replenish the collection. The new library halls, three in number, are fitted up with ornamental iron cases and iron ceilings, the whole being perfectly fire-proof. The library is recruited by regular appropriations made by Congress, which average about $11,000 per annum; also by additions received by copyright, by exchanges, and from the Smithsonian Institution. The library of the Smithsonian Institution has now been deposited in the Library of Congress, where it is secured against loss by fire. This collection is especially rich in scientific works, embracing the largest assemblage of the transactions of learned societies which exists in the country. The library was also enriched by the presentation to the Government, in 1882, of the large private library of Dr. Joseph M. Toner, of Washington, numbering over 27,000 volumes, besides nearly as many pamphlets. The donor, whose public spirit is worthy of emulation, adds to the collection annually. The library of copyright books was removed here from the Patent Office in 1870, and all copyrights issued in the United States are now recorded in the books deposited in the office of the Librarian of Congress. The present number of volumes in the whole library, including law books, which are kept in a separate library room under the Supreme Court, is over 645,000, besides about 200,000 pamphlets. A new building to contain its overflowing stores of learning and to afford room for their proper arrangement is in progress of erection, a liberal appropriation having been made by the Fiftieth Congress. This collection is very rich in history, political science, jurisprudence, and in books, pamphlets, and periodicals of American publication, or relating in any way to America. At the same time the library is a universal one in its range, no department of literature or science being unrepresented. The public are privileged to use the books in the library, while members of Congress and about thirty official members of the Government only can take away books. The library is open every day (Sundays excepted) during the session of Congress from 9 a. m. to the hour of adjournment. In the recess of Congress it is open between the hours of 9 a. m. and 4 p. m.

RULES GOVERNING PRESS GALLERIES.

1. Persons desiring admission to the Press Gallery shall make application to the Speaker as required by Rule 36 of the House of Representatives; and shall also state, in writing, for what paper or papers they are employed; and shall further state that they are not engaged in the prosecution of claims pending before Congress or the Departments, and will not become so engaged while allowed admission to the gallery; and that they are not in any sense the agents or representatives of persons or corporations having legislation before Congress, and will not become either while retaining their place in the gallery. Visiting journalists who may be allowed temporary admission to the gallery must conform to the restrictions of this rule.

2. The applications required by above rule shall be authenticated in a manner that shall be satisfactory to the Standing Committee of Correspondents, who shall see that the occupation of the gallery is confined to bona fide correspondents of reputable standing in their business, who represent daily newspapers, and not exceeding one seat shall be assigned to each paper; and it shall be the duty of the Standing Committee, at their discretion, to report violations of the privileges of the gallery to the Speaker, and pending his action thereon the offending correspondent shall be suspended.

3. Clerks in the Executive Departments of the Government, and persons engaged in other occupations whose chief attention is not given to newspaper correspondence, are not entitled to admission; and the Press list in the Congressional Directory shall be confined to telegraphic correspondents.

4. Members of the families of correspondents are not entitled to admission.

5. The gallery, subject to the approval of the Speaker of the House of Representatives, shall be under the control of the Standing Committee of Correspondents.

CHARLES F. CRISP,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.

FRED A. G. HANDY, Chairman,

JOHN M. CARSON,

PERRY S. HEATH,

JOHN P. MILLER,

W. G. STERETT,

Standing Committee of Correspondents.

NOTE.—Rules identical with the above have been approved by the Committee on Rules of the Senate.

THE EXECUTIVE.

THE PRESIDENT.

Benjamin Harrison, President of the United States, was born at North Bend, Hamilton County, Ohio, August 20, 1833; received a classical education, graduating from Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, in 1852; studied law at Cincinnati, Ohio; removed in March, 1854, to Indianapolis, Ind., where he has since resided and practiced law, except during temporary absence in the Army and on official duty at Washington; was elected in October, 1860, by the people, Reporter of the decisions of the Supreme Court of the State; was commissioned in July, 1862, Second Lieutenant of Indiana Volunteers; recruited Company A of the Seventieth Indiana Volunteer Infantry; was commissioned Captain, and on the organization of the regiment was commissioned Colonel; in August went with the regiment to Kentucky, and served till mustered out in June, 1865; was brevetted Brigadier-General in February, 1865; in October, 1864, while in the field, was re-elected Reporter of the Supreme Court, which office he had resigned to enter the Army; after having been mustered out he entered upon the duties of Reporter and served four years; in 1870 was the nominee of the Republican party for Governor of Indiana, but was defeated; was appointed a member of the Mississippi River Commission in 1879; was elected to the United States Senate to succeed Joseph E. McDonald, and entered upon the duties of the office March 4, 1881; received the votes of the Republican members of the Legislature for re-election, but was defeated; was elected to his present office November 6, 1888, receiving 233 electoral votes, being the total votes of twenty States, against 168 electoral votes, being the total votes of eighteen States for Grover Cleveland, Democrat.

James Gillespie Blaine, of Augusta, Secretary of State, was born in Washington County, Pennsylvania, January 31, 1830; was graduated from Washington College, Pennsylvania, in 1847; taught mathematics in the Military Academy at Blue Licks, Kentucky; was employed for a time as a land surveyor; located in Augusta, the capital of Maine, in 1853, and became editor of the Journal; removed to Portland to edit The Daily Advertiser; was elected to the Legislature 1858-'62, and was Speaker of the House; was elected to the National House of Representatives in 1862 and served till elected to the United States Senate in 1876; was elected Speaker in 1869 and held the position till the Democrats got control in 1875; resigned his seat in the Senate in 1881 to enter the Cabinet of President Garfield; after the death of Garfield devoted his time to the completion of his work "Twenty Years in Congress"; was nominated for President by the Republicans in 1884; peremptorily declined being a candidate in 1888; was appointed to the position he now occupies upon the organization of President Harrison's Cabinet.

Charles Foster, of Fostoria, Ohio, Secretary of the Treasury, was born near Tiffin, that State, April 12, 1828; received his education in the public schools, in the Academy of Newark, Ohio, and under private tutors; was engaged continuously for fifty-six years in the mercantile and banking business; consented to accept the Colony of the One hundred and first Ohio Regiment, but was prevented by circumstances over which he had no control; was elected to the Forty-second, Forty-third, Forty-fourth, and Forty-fifth Congresses; was a member of the committee and chairman of the subcommittee appointed in 1875 to inquire into Louisiana affairs; was elected Governor of his State in 1879, and re-elected in 1881; was appointed by the President, in May, 1888, chairman of a commission to negotiate a treaty with Sioux Indians, received the votes of the Republican members of the Ohio Legislature in 1890 for United States Senator; was appointed to his present position February 7, 1891, to succeed Hon. William Windom, deceased.

Stephen Benton Elkins was born in Perry County, Ohio, September 26, 1841; received his early education in the public schools of Missouri, and graduated from the University of that State, at Columbia, in the class of 1860; was admitted to the bar in 1863, and in the same year emigrated to New Mexico, where he acquired a knowledge of the Spanish language and began the practice of law; was a member of the Territorial Legislative Assembly of New Mexico in 1864 and 1865; held the offices of Territorial District Attorney, Attorney-General, and United States District Attorney; was elected to the Forty-third Congress as a Republican, and while abroad was renominated and elected in 1875; during his first term in Congress was made a member of the Republican National Committee, on which he served for three Presidential campaigns; after leaving Congress Mr. Elkins devoted himself to business affairs. He was appointed Secretary of War December 17, 1891.

Benjamin Franklin Tracy, of Brooklyn, New York, Secretary of the Navy, was born in Owego, New York, April 26, 1830; was educated in the common schools and Owego Academy; was admitted to the bar in 1851; was elected District Attorney for Tioga County on the Whig ticket in November, 1853, and re-elected in 1856; declined a renomination in 1859; was elected in 1861 a member of the State Assembly by Republicans and War Democrats; was appointed by the Governor in the spring of 1862 to recruit for the Union Army and personally recruited two regiments, the One hundred and ninth and One hundred and thirty-seventh, and accepted the Colony of the former; participated in the battles of the Wilderness and Spottsylvania; on account of ill health went North to recuperate, and after a brief period accepted the Colonelcy of the One hundred and twenty-seventh United States Colored Troops, and was assigned to the command of the military post at Elmira, including the prison camp and draft rendezvous for western New York; at the close of the war resumed the practice of law in the city of New York; in October, 1866, was appointed United States District Attorney for the Eastern District of New York, and resigned in 1873, to resume the practice of his profession in Brooklyn; in December, 1881, was appointed by the Governor of New York an Associate Justice of the State Court of Appeals, and filled that office till January, 1883; was appointed March 5, 1889, to his present position, and was confirmed the same day by the Senate.

John Wanamaker, of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, Postmaster-General, was born July 11, 1838, in the country part of that city before its consolidation with the county; attended the Landreth public school, and entered, as a boy of fourteen, a retail store; commenced mercantile business in 1861; in delicate health at the breaking out of the war, was refused service as a soldier; with George H. Stuart organized the Christian Commission, which, from its headquarters in Philadelphia, distributed millions of dollars' worth of supplies to the Army; always refused public office, but acted as chairman of town, Irish famine, yellow fever, and other public committees; did the first active financial work for the Centennial Exposition, and was a member of the Board of Finance and chairman of the Bureau of Revenue; declined the offer of the Republican nomination of Congressman at large for the State of Pennsylvania in 1882; in 1886 declined the nomination for mayor of Philadelphia tendered by Independent Republicans; was a Republican elector in 1888; was chairman of the committee advisory to the Republican National Committee in 1888, and was appointed Postmaster-General March 4, 1889.

John Willock Noble, Secretary of the Interior, was born in Lancaster, Ohio, October 26, 1831; was educated in the schools of Cincinnati, Miami University, Ohio, and Yale College; graduated from the latter institution in 1851; was admitted to the bar in 1853 at Columbus, Ohio, and in 1855 at St. Louis, Missouri, where he began practice; removed to Keokuk, Iowa, the following year and formed a law partnership with Ralph P. Lowe; served two years as City Attorney; took part in the engagement at Athens, Missouri, before he was an enlisted soldier; entered the service as First Lieutenant, August, 1862, and served continuously for four years, and rose by promotion from grade to grade to Colonel of his regiment, and was brevetted Brigadier-General for distinguished and meritorious services in the field; resumed the practice of law at the close of the war in St. Louis; was appointed United States District Attorney for Eastern Missouri in 1867, which office he resigned in 1870; was tendered the office of Solicitor-General by President Grant, but declined, preferring the practice of his profession; Miami University and Yale respectively have conferred upon him the degree of LL.D.; was appointed Secretary of the Interior by President Harrison in 1889.

William Henry Harrison Miller, of Indianapolis, Indiana, Attorney-General of the United States, was born in Augusta, Oneida County, New York, September 6, 1840; received his preparatory education in the country schools and Whitestown Seminary, and was graduated from Hamilton College, New York, in 1861; taught school for a short time in Ohio after leaving college; enlisted in the Eighty-fourth Ohio Infantry, a three-months regiment, in May, 1861, and was mustered out in the September following; read law in the office of the late Chief Justice Waite; to procure money with which to prosecute his studies, returned to teaching, and was principal of the public schools of Peru, Indiana; during the time he was thus engaged read law and was admitted to the Peru bar in 1865; began the practice of law in that city, and filled the office of county school examiner in connection with his law business; removed to Fort Wayne in 1866 and established himself in the practice of his profession; in 1874 removed to Indianapolis and formed a law partnership with Harrison & Hines, and continued in the exclusive practice of law until his appointment to the position he now occupies; in 1889 Hamilton College conferred on him the degree of LL. D.

Jeremiah M. Rusk, of Wisconsin, was born in Morgan County, Ohio, June 17, 1830. Was educated in the common schools of the neighborhood, which he attended winters and worked on his father's farm summers. He continued to reside on a farm until his removal to Wisconsin, in 1853, since which time—with the exception of a short time—he has been engaged in farming. Held several county offices in Wisconsin; was a member of the Legislature of that State in 1862; was commissioned Major of the Twenty-fifth Wisconsin Volunteer Infantry in July, 1862, and was soon after promoted to the Colonelcy. Served with General Sherman from the siege of Vicksburg until mustered out at the close of the war, and was brevetted Brigadier-General for bravery at the battle of Salkehatchie. Was elected Bank Comptroller of the State of Wisconsin in 1866, and re-elected in 1868; was elected to the Forty-second, Forty-third, and Forty-fourth Congresses, and was Chairman of the Committee on Invalid Pensions in the Forty-third Congress. Was a member of the Congressional Republican Committee for several years, and was a Delegate to the National Republican Convention in 1880. Was appointed by President Garfield, and confirmed by the Senate, as Minister to Paraguay and Uruguay, which appointment he declined; and was also tendered by President Garfield the Mission to Denmark, and the position of Chief of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, both of which he declined. Was elected Governor of Wisconsin in 1881, re-elected in 1884, and elected for a third term in 1886. Was appointed Secretary of Agriculture in President Harrison's Cabinet on the 4th day of March, 1889.

DEPARTMENT DUTIES.

THE DEPARTMENT OF STATE.

THE SECRETARY OF STATE.

The Secretary of State is charged, under the direction of the President, with the duties appertaining to correspondence with the public ministers and consuls of the United States, and with the representatives of foreign powers accredited to the United States; and to negotiations of whatever character relating to the foreign affairs of the United States. He is also the medium of correspondence between the President and the chief executive of the several States of the United States; he has the custody of the great seal of the United States, and countersigns and affixes such seal to all executive proclamations, to various commissions, and to warrants for pardon, and the extradition of fugitives from justice. He is regarded as the first in rank among the members of the Cabinet. He is also the custodian of the treaties made with foreign states, and of the laws of the United States. He grants and issues passports, and exequaturs to foreign consuls in the United States are issued through his office. He publishes the laws and resolutions of Congress, amendments to the Constitution, and proclamations declaring the admission of new States into the Union. He is also charged with certain annual reports to Congress relating to commercial information received from diplomatic and consular officers of the United States.

THE ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF STATE

becomes the Acting Secretary of State in the absence of the Secretary. Under the organization of the Department the Assistant Secretary, Second Assistant Secretary, and Third Assistant Secretary are respectively charged with the immediate supervision of all correspondence with the diplomatic and consular officers in the countries named in the divisions of those Bureaus, and of the miscellaneous correspondence relating thereto, and, in general, they are intrusted with the preparation of the correspondence upon any questions arising in the course of the public business that may be assigned to them by the Secretary.

THE CHIEF CLERK.

The Chief Clerk has the general supervision of the clerks and employés and of the business of the Department.

BUREAU OF INDEXES AND ARCHIVES.

The duty of opening the mails; preparing, registering, and indexing daily all correspondence to and from the Department, both by subjects and persons; the preservation of the archives; answering calls of the Secretary, Assistant Secretaries, Chief Clerk, and chiefs of bureaus for correspondence, etc.

DIPLOMATIC BUREAU.

Division A.—Correspondence with Austria-Hungary, Belgium, Denmark, France, Germany, Great Britain, Greece, Netherlands, Roumania, Servia, and Switzerland, and miscellaneous correspondence relating to those countries.

Division B.—Correspondence with Argentine Republic, Bolivia, Brazil, Chili, Colombia, Ecuador, Hayti, Italy, Paraguay, Peru, Portugal, Russia, Santo Domingo, Spain, Sweden and Norway, Uruguay and Venezuela, and miscellaneous correspondence relating to those countries.

Division C.—Correspondence with Barbary States, Central America, China, Korea, Egypt, Fiji Islands, Friendly and Navigator's Islands, Hawaiian Islands, Japan, Liberia, Madagascar, Mexico, Muscat, Persia, Siam, Society Islands, Turkey, and other countries not assigned, and miscellaneous correspondence relating to those countries.

CONSULAR BUREAU.

Correspondence with consulates, and miscellaneous correspondence relating thereto.

Division A.—Correspondence with consulates within the dominion of Great Britain, and miscellaneous correspondence relating thereto.

Division B.—Correspondence with consulates within the dominions of Argentine Republic, Austria-Hungary, Belgium, Bolivia, Brazil, Chili, Denmark, Greece, Italy, Netherlands, Paraguay, Peru, Portugal, Russia, Spain, Sweden and Norway, Switzerland, and Uruguay, and miscellaneous correspondence relating thereto.

Division C.—Correspondence with consulates within the dominions of Barbary States, Central America, Colombia, China, Ecuador, Egypt, France, Friendly and Navigator's Islands, Hawaiian Islands, Hayti, Japan, Liberia, Madagascar, Mexico, Muscat, San Domingo, Siam, Turkey, Venezuela, and other countries not assigned, and miscellaneous correspondence relating thereto.

Division D.—Correspondence with consulates in Germany, and miscellaneous correspondence relating thereto.

BUREAU OF ACCOUNTS.

Custody and disbursement of appropriations under direction of the Department; charged with custody of indemnity funds and bonds; care of the building and property of the Department.

BUREAU OF ROLLS AND LIBRARY.

Custody of the rolls, treaties, etc.; promulgation of the laws, etc.; care and superintendence of the library and public documents; care of the Revolutionary archives, and of papers relating to international commissions.

BUREAU OF STATISTICS.

Preparation of the reports upon Commercial Relations.

EXAMINER OF CLAIMS.

[From the Department of Justice.]

The examination of questions of law and other matters submitted by the Secretary or the Assistant Secretary, and of all claims.

THE TREASURY DEPARTMENT.

THE SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY.

The Secretary of the Treasury is charged by law with the management of the national finances. He prepares plans for the improvement of the revenue and for the support of the public credit; superintends the collection of the revenue, and prescribes the forms of keeping and rendering public accounts and of making returns; grants warrants for all moneys drawn from the Treasury in pursuance of appropriations made by law, and for the payment of moneys into the Treasury; and annually submits to Congress estimates of the probable revenues and disbursements of the Government. He also controls the construction of public buildings; the coinage and printing of money; the collection of statistics; the administration of the coast and geodetic survey, life-saving, light-house, revenue-cutter, steamboat-inspection, and marine-hospital branches of the public service, and furnishes generally such information as may be required by either branch of Congress on all matters pertaining to the foregoing.

The routine work of the Secretary's office is transacted in the offices of the Supervising Architect, Director of the Mint, Superintendent of Engraving and Printing, Supervising Surgeon-General of Marine Hospitals, General Superintendent of Life-Saving Service, Supervising Inspector-General of Steamboats, Bureau of Statistics, Light-House Board, and in the following divisions: Warrants, Estimates, and Appropriations; Appointments; Customs; Public Moneys; Loans and Currency; Revenue-Marine; Stationery, Printing, and Blanks; Mails and Files; Special Agents; and Miscellaneous.

ASSISTANT SECRETARIES OF THE TREASURY.

One of the three Assistant Secretaries has the general supervision of the work assigned to the divisions of Appointments; Public Moneys; Stationery, Printing, and Blanks; Loans and Currency; Mails and Files; Miscellaneous; Chief Clerk and Superintendent; Secret Service, and Marine Hospital Service; the signing of all letters and papers as Assistant Secretary, or "by order of the Secretary," relating to the business of the foregoing divisions and bureaus that do not by law require the signature of the Secretary, and the performance of such other duties as may be prescribed by the Secretary or by law.

One Assistant Secretary has the general supervision of the work assigned to the divisions of Customs; Revenue Marine; Special Agents, and Bureau of Navigation; the signing of all letters and papers as Assistant Secretary, or "by order of the Secretary," relating to the business of the foregoing divisions and bureaus that do not by law require the signature of the Secretary, and the performance of such other duties as may be prescribed by the Secretary or by law.

One other Assistant Secretary has the general supervision of the work assigned to the divisions of Mails and Files; Warrants, Estimates, and Appropriations; Stationery, Printing, and Blanks; and the offices of the Light-House Board; Supervising Architect, and the Bureau of Engraving and Printing; the signing of all letters and papers as Assistant Secretary, or "by order of the Secretary," relating to the business of the foregoing divisions and bureaus that do not by law require the signature of the Secretary, and the performance of such other duties as may be prescribed by the Secretary or by law.

THE CHIEF CLERK.

The Chief Clerk supervises, under the immediate direction of the Secretary and Assistant Secretaries, the duties of the clerks and employes connected with the Department. The superintendence of all buildings occupied by the Department in this city; the transmission of the mails; the care of all horses, wagons, and carriages employed; the direction of engineers, machinists, firemen, or laborers. The expenditure of the appropriations for contingent expenses of the Treasury Department; for furniture and repairs of same; fuel, lights, water, and miscellaneous items, and the assignment of custodians' force for buildings under the control of the Department; the supervision of accounts relating to World's Columbian Exposition; the distribution of the mail; the custody of the records and files and library of the Secretary's office; the answering of calls from Congress, and elsewhere, for copies of papers, records, etc. Supervision of all the official correspondence of the Secretary's office, so far as to see that it is expressed in correct and official form; the enforcement of the general regulations of the Department, and the charge of all business of the Secretary's office not assigned.

THE FIRST COMPTROLLER.

All warrants issued by the Secretary of the Treasury, whether intended to cover public revenues into the Treasury, or to authorize payments of money from the Treasury, or to accomplish any other of the purposes for which warrants are used, require the counter-signature of the First Comptroller. All accounts examined and stated by the First Auditor, except those relating to receipts from customs, and all examined and stated by the Fifth Auditor, and by the Commissioner of the General Land Office, are re-examined and revised in this office, and the balances thereon certified; and the First Comptroller is to superintend the recovery of all debts certified by him to be due to the United States. The requisitions issued in payment of drafts for salaries and expenses of ministers and consuls abroad are examined, certified, and reported on by this office, as also the requisitions of marshals, collectors of internal revenue, secretaries of Territories, and other disbursing officers, for advances of public funds. Many other duties in adjusting claims against the United States are required of this office.

THE SECOND COMPTROLLER.

Accounts received from the Second, Third, and Fourth Auditors are revised, viz: Reported by the Second Auditor—for organizing volunteers, recruiting, pay of the Army, special military accounts, Army ordnance, the Indian service, the Army Medical Department, contingent military expenses, back pay and bounty to officers and soldiers, the Soldiers' Home, and the National Home for Disabled Volunteers. Reported by the Third Auditor—disbursements by the Quartermaster's, the Subsistence, and the Engineer Departments; Army pensions, property taken by military authority for the use of the Army, and miscellaneous war claims. Reported by the Fourth Auditor—disbursements for the Marine Corps, by Navy paymasters for pay and rations, by paymasters at navy-yards, for Navy pensions at foreign stations, and the financial agent at London.

The work of the office is distributed among seven divisions: Army Paymasters', Army Pension, Back Pay and Bounty, Indian, Miscellaneous, Quartermasters', and Navy divisions.

THE COMMISSIONER OF CUSTOMS.

The Commissioner of Customs revises and certifies the accounts of revenues collected from duties on imports and tonnage; fines, penalties, and forfeitures under the customs and navigation laws, and from miscellaneous sources connected with customs matters; accounts of the importation, withdrawal, transportation, and exportation of goods under the warehouse system; for disbursements for the expenses of collecting the revenue from customs, revenue-cutter service, life-saving service, shipping service, seal fisheries in Alaska, construction and maintenance of lights, marine-hospital service, debentures, and excess of deposits for unascertained duties, refund of duties exacted in excess; approves and files the official bonds given by customs officers, and transmits their commissions; files the oaths of office of the persons paid in the accounts certified by him, and prepares for the use of the law officers of the Department the accounts of those in arrears under the heads above mentioned.

The office is organized in two divisions, viz: Customs, Appointments, etc.

THE FIRST AUDITOR.

The First Auditor receives all accounts accruing in the Treasury Department (except those arising under internal revenue laws), and, after examination, certifies the balance, and transmits the accounts, with the vouchers and certificate, to the First Comptroller or to the Commissioner of Customs, having respectively the revision thereof. The subordinate divisions of his office are—

Customs Division.—Receipts and expenditures of the customs service, including fines, emoluments, forfeitures, debentures, drawbacks, marine-hospital service, revenue-cutter service, etc.

Judiciary Division.—Fees of United States marshals, district attorneys, commissioners and clerks; rent of court-houses, support of prisoners, and other expenses of United States courts.

Public Debt Division.—Redemption of the public debt, including principal, premium, and interest; payment of interest; redemption of certificates of deposit; notes destroyed.

Warehouse and Bond Division.—Examination of warehouse and bond accounts received from custom-houses.

Miscellaneous Division.—Accounts of mints and assay offices; Territories; Coast Survey; salaries and contingent expenses of the legislative, executive, and judicial departments of the Government; construction, repair, and preservation of public buildings; Treasurer of the United States for general receipts and expenditures.

THE SECOND AUDITOR.

The Second Auditor examines the following classes of accounts and claims, certifies the balances and transmits the accounts, vouchers, and certificates to the Second Comptroller for his decision thereon:

Claims arising since 1816 for arrears of pay and bounty due soldiers or their heirs; accounts of Army paymasters, recruiting, ordnance, and medical officers; the Soldiers' Home; the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers; Artillery School, Fort Monroe; Infantry and Cavalry School at Fort Leavenworth, and Army and Navy Hospital, Hot Springs, Arkansas; contingent expenses of the Army and the Adjutant-General's department; expenses of the commanding general's office; publication of official records of the war of the rebellion, and all other Army accounts and claims not adjusted by the Third Auditor; also, all accounts relating to Indian affairs, including claims of contractors and others for supplies furnished and services rendered. The Second Auditor finally adjusts, without reference to the Comptroller, all returns of clothing, etc., rendered by Army officers and the property accounts of Indian agents.

The work is distributed among eleven divisions, namely: Book-keepers'; Pay and Bounty; Paymasters'; Indian; Ordnance, Medical, and Miscellaneous; Property; Archives (or Files); Division for Investigation of Fraud (in connection with bounty and other claims); Inquiries and Replies; Old Army, and Mail.

THE THIRD AUDITOR.

The Third Auditor examines accounts relating to the Quartermaster's Department, Subsistence Department, Corps of Engineers, and Signal Service of the Army; the Military Academy, military prison, and payment of Army pensions; claims for Army supplies and transportation; for occupation of real estate for military purposes; lost horses; reimbursement of expenses incurred on last sickness and burial of deceased pensioners, and claims of States and Territories for aid in suppression of the rebellion; Indian hostilities, and border invasion. The divisions are—

Book-keepers' Division.—Keeps accounts of appropriations upon which requisitions are drawn by the Secretary of War and the Secretary of the Interior.

Military Division.—Accounts of quartermasters for transportation of the Army and supplies; the purchase of clothing, camp and garrison equipage, horses, mules, forage, fuel, etc.; the erection and repair of quarters, barracks, hospitals, offices, and stables; payment to hired men and soldiers on extra duty; expenses incurred in the apprehension of deserters; hire of escorts, expresses, interpreters, spies, and guides; burial of officers and soldiers; care of national cemeteries, and all other authorized expenses of the Army not otherwise assigned; support of the Military Academy and military prisons; accounts of commissaries and acting commissaries for purchase, preservation, and distribution of provisions and stores necessary for the subsistence of the Army; accounts of engineers for construction and preservation of fortifications and breakwaters, improvement of rivers and harbors, and surveys on the coasts, lakes, and rivers; accounts of the Signal Service for Army signaling, the construction and repair of military telegraphs, and the observation and report of storms for the benefit of commerce.

Army Pension Division.—Adjusts agents' accounts for payment of Army pensions, and conducts correspondence and all other business in connection therewith; adjusts under section 4718, Revised Statutes, claims for expenses on account of last sickness and burial of deceased pensioners.

Horse Claims Division.—Adjusts claims for compensation for horses and equipage lost by officers and enlisted men in the military service and of other persons for horses, mules, oxen, wagons, sleigh, and harness, while the same was in the military service by impressment or contract.

Miscellaneous Claims Division.—Adjusts claims for supplies purchased or appropriated by the Army; for vessels, horses, cars, engines, and other means of Army transportation and railroad stock purchased or lost in the military service; for the occupation of real estate for military purposes; for court-martial fees, traveling expenses, etc.; those growing out of the various Indian wars; those of various descriptions under special acts of Congress; and those not otherwise assigned for adjudication; claims of States and Territories under various acts of Congress for expenses incurred in the suppression of the rebellion, Indian hostilities, and border invasions.

Collection Division.—Prepares transcripts of accounts of defaulting officers reported for suit; examines all cases for information from files of the office in various matters, including reports on evidence relating to claims for bounty land and pensions to soldiers of the war of 1812; copies and compares difference sheets and miscellaneous papers, and has charge of the settlements, etc., made by the office.

THE FOURTH AUDITOR.

The Fourth Auditor examines, adjusts, and transmits to the Second Comptroller all accounts concerning the pay, expenditures, pensions, and prize-money of the Navy. The divisions are: Paymasters' Division.—Examines the accounts of paymasters, including mechanics' rolls.

Navy Pay and Pension Division.—Examines the accounts of the disbursements by the Navy pay agents at Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, San Francisco, and Norfolk; and of Navy pension agents at Boston, New York City, Philadelphia, Chicago, Washington, and San Francisco.

Record and Prize-Money Division.—Has charge of the records and files of the office, adjusts the prize-money accounts, and prepares tabulated statements for Congress.

General Claims Division.—Adjusts claims of a miscellaneous character, such as arrears of pay, bounty, etc., arising in the Navy and Marine Corps.

Book-keepers' Division.—Ledger accounts of all appropriations for the naval establishment and of all disbursing officers and claimants.

THE FIFTH AUDITOR.

The Fifth Auditor examines, adjusts, and transfers to the First Comptroller the diplomatic and consular accounts, the expenditures of the Department of State, including all international commissions; the accounts of the internal revenue, the census, the Patent Office, the Smithsonian Institution and National Museum, and the contingent expenses of the Post-Office Department. There are three divisions:

Diplomatic and Consular Division.—Adjustment is made of the expenses of all diplomatic missions abroad for salaries, contingencies, and loss by exchange; consular accounts for fees, salaries, loss by exchange, contingent expenses, salaries of interpreters and marshals, consular courts and prisons; the relief and passage of American seamen; the return of persons charged with crime; the rescuing of shipwrecked American seamen; estates of American citizens dying abroad; accounts of the bankers of the United States at London; awards of commissions and expenses of international exhibitions; commissions; State Department disbursements, etc.

Internal-Revenue Division.—Accounts of collectors of internal revenue, including salaries, contingent expenses, and compensation of store-keepers.

Miscellaneous Division.—All miscellaneous internal-revenue accounts, including salaries and expenses of agents, surveyors of distilleries, fees and expenses of gaugers, direct tax accounts, counsel fees, drawbacks, taxes refunded, redemption of stamps, accounts for the manufacture of paper and stamps, and for the salaries of the office of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue; also accounts of the Census Office, Smithsonian Institution, and National Museum; contingent expenses of the Post-Office Department, and sundry accounts of the Patent Office.

THE SIXTH AUDITOR.

The Sixth Auditor examines and adjusts all accounts relating to the postal service, and his decisions on these are final, unless an appeal be taken in twelve months to the First Comptroller. He superintends the collection of all debts due the United States for the service of the Post-Office Department, and all penalties imposed; directs suits and all legal proceedings in civil actions, and takes all legal means to enforce the payment of moneys due the United States for services of the Post-Office Department. There are ten subordinate divisions, viz:

1. Examining.—Receives and audits the quarterly postal accounts of all Presidential post-offices in the United States.

2. Collecting.—The collection of balances due from and the payment of balances due to late and present postmasters, and the final settlement of postal accounts.

3. Bookkeeping.—Audits the quarterly postal accounts of all fourth-class post-offices in the United States and keeps the ledger accounts of the Department.

4. Pay.—The adjustment and payment of all accounts for the transportation of the mails, both foreign and domestic, and all post-office supplies.

5. Review Division.—Reviews the accounts of postmasters at Presidential post-offices and accounts for mail transportation and miscellaneous expenses.

6. Foreign Division.—Adjustment of postal and money-order accounts with foreign countries.

7. Inspecting Division.—Examination of weekly money-order statements and vouchers.
8. Recording Division.—Stating accounts of postmasters at money-order and postal-note offices, payment of commissions, and collection of balances.
9. Assorting Division.—Arranging paid money orders and postal notes by States, post-offices, and numerically.
10. Checking Division.—Comparison of paid money orders and postal notes with statements of issuing postmasters.

THE TREASURER OF THE UNITED STATES.

The Treasurer of the United States is charged with the receipt and disbursement of all public moneys that may be deposited in the Treasury at Washington and the sub-treasuries at Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, New Orleans, San Francisco, Saint Louis, Chicago, and Cincinnati, and in the national-bank United States depositories; is trustee for bonds held to secure national-bank circulation, and custodian of Indian trust fund bonds; is agent for paying the interest on the public debt, and for paying salaries of members of the House of Representatives. The Treasury subdivisions are:

Chief Clerk.—Receives and distributes the official mail; has charge of the correspondence and the disposition and payment of the clerical force, and the custody of the records and files; and of the issue of duplicate checks and drafts.

Cash Division.—For receipt and payment of public funds at Washington.

Issue Division.—Completion of new United States notes, gold and silver certificates, and count of silver, gold, and minor coin.

Redemption Division.—All currency except national-bank notes received and redeemed.

Loan Division.—Interest checks prepared and bonds redeemed.

Accounts Division.—The accounts of the Treasury, the sub-treasuries, and the United States national banks depositories are kept.

National-Bank Division.—Has custody of bonds held for national-bank circulation, for public deposits, and various public trusts, and makes collection of semi-annual duty.

National-Bank Redemption Agency.—Notes of national banks are redeemed and accounted for.

THE REGISTER OF THE TREASURY.

The Register of the Treasury is the official bookkeeper of the United States, and prepares a statement which shows all receipts and disbursements of the public money (except those under the supervision of the Post-Office Department), which statement is transmitted annually to Congress by the Secretary of the Treasury. He signs and issues all bonds and sends to the Treasurer of the United States schedules showing the names of persons entitled to receive interest thereon. He registers all warrants drawn by the Secretary of the Treasury upon the Treasurer of the United States; and transmits statements of balances due to individuals after the settlement of their accounts by the First Comptroller or the Commissioner of Customs, upon which payment is made. The work is distributed among four divisions, as follows:

Loan Division.—In this division registered and coupon bonds are issued, and all registered bonds transferred; it also has charge of the conversion of coupon into registered bonds; the ledger accounts with holders of registered bonds, and the preparation of schedules upon which interest on the registered bonds is paid.

Receipts and Expenditures Division.—In this division are kept the great account books of the United States, which show the civil, diplomatic, internal-revenue, miscellaneous, and public-debt receipts and expenditures; also, statements of warrants and transfer drafts issued.

Note, Coupon, and Currency Division.—In this division redeemed bonds, paid interest coupons, interest checks, and interest-bearing notes are examined and registered. Treasury notes, legal tenders, and fractional currency are examined, canceled, and the destruction thereof witnessed and recorded. It also has charge of the files of the Bureau, and prepares, for use in Government suits, certified transcripts of accounts of Government officers.

Interest, Expense, and Warrant Division.—In this division the interest on the various loans, the premiums and discounts on bonds sold, and the expenses of negotiation are ascertained. It also receives and registers all civil accounts and civil pay warrants.

THE COMPTROLLER OF THE CURRENCY.

The Comptroller of the Currency has, under the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury, the control of the national banks. The divisions of this Bureau are:

Organization Division.—The organization of national banks.

Issue Division.—The preparation and issue of national-bank circulation.

Reports Division.—Examination and consolidation of the reports of national banks.

Redemption Division.—The redemption and destruction of notes issued by national banks.

THE DIRECTOR OF THE MINT.

The Director of the Mint has general supervision of all the mints and assay offices of the United States.

He prescribes rules, to be approved by the Secretary of the Treasury, for the transaction of business at the mints and assay offices. He regulates the distribution of silver coin and the charges to be collected of depositors. He receives for adjustment the accounts of the mints and assay offices, superintends their expenditures and annual settlements, and makes special examinations of them when deemed necessary. All appointments, removals, and transfers in the mints and assay offices are subject to his approval. The purchase of silver bullion and the allotment of its coinage are made by the Director; and, at his request, also transfers of the moneys in the mints and assay offices, and advances from appropriations for the mint service.

Tests of the weight and fineness of coins struck at the mints are made in the assay laboratory under his charge. The values of the standard coins of foreign countries are annually estimated for custom-house and other public purposes. Two annual reports are prepared by the Director, one for the fiscal year, and printed in the Finance Report of the Secretary of the Treasury, the other for the calendar year, on the statistics of the production of the precious metals.

THE SOLICITOR.

The Solicitor of the Treasury takes cognizance of all frauds or attempted frauds on the customs revenue. He is charged by law with duties regarding the compromise of debts and with a supervision over suits for the collection of moneys due the United States, excepting those due under internal-revenue laws. His approval is required of official bonds of United States Assistant Treasurers, Department Disbursing Clerks, Collectors of Internal Revenue, the Secretary and the Chief Clerk of the Department of Agriculture. As the law officer of the Treasury Department many matters are referred to him for his examination and opinion arising under the customs, navigation, banking, and registry laws, and in the administration of the Department. He is also charged by law with the supervision of suits and proceedings arising out of the provisions of law governing national banking associations in which the United States and any of its agents or officers are parties; also, with the charge, release, and sale of lands acquired in payment of debt, excepting those acquired under internal-revenue laws.

THE COMMISSIONER OF INTERNAL REVENUE.

The Commissioner makes assessment of, and has general superintendence of the collection of all internal-revenue taxes, and of the enforcement of internal-revenue laws; employment of internal-revenue agents; compensation and duties of gaugers, store-keepers, and other subordinate officers; the preparation and distribution of stamps, instructions, regulations, forms, blanks, hydrometers, stationery, etc.; and analysis of foods and drugs in the District of Columbia, and payment of bounty on sugar.

The business of his office is divided into the several subject-matters and distributed among eight divisions, as follows:

Appointments.—Discipline of official force, general files, registering and copying letters, distributing mail, issuing commissions and leaves of absence, printing and distributing blanks, blank books, and stationery.

Law.—Seizures, forfeitures, compromises, suits, abatement and refunding claims, direct taxes, etc.; distraints, and lands purchased on same for (or otherwise forfeited to) the United States.

Tobacco.—Matters relating to tobacco, snuff, and cigars not in suit or in bond.

Accounts.—Revenue and disbursing accounts, allowances to collectors of internal revenue for salaries, etc., purchase of blank books and other supplies for collectors and revenue agents; examination and reference of bills of agents, gaugers, etc.; miscellaneous claims under appropriation acts (except for abatement, refunding, and drawback); estimates for appropriations by Congress, and statistical records.

Distilled Spirits.—Matters pertaining to distilleries, distilled spirits, fermented liquors, wines, rectification, gaugers' instruments, approval of bonded warehouses, assignment of store-keepers, etc.

Stamps.—Preparation, safe-keeping, issue, and redemption of all stamps, accounts pertaining thereto, and preparation, custody, and issue of steel dies for canceling stamps.

Assessments.—Assessments, bonded accounts, warehouse reports of store-keepers and gaugers, exports, drawbacks, and general supervision of oleomargarine tax and the analysis of food and drugs in the District of Columbia.

Revenue Agents.—Supervision of agents (under Commissioner's direction), examination of their reports and accounts, and discovery and suppression of violations of internal-revenue law.

Sugar Bounty.—General supervision of matters relating to bounty on sugar.

There is a chemical laboratory connected with this Bureau, in charge of a chemist and microscopist, for making the required tests and analysis of oleomargarine and foods and drugs.

THE SUPERINTENDENT OF THE COAST AND GEODETIC SURVEY.

The Coast and Geodetic Survey is charged with the survey of the Atlantic, Gulf, and Pacific coasts of the United States, including the coasts of Alaska; the survey of rivers to the head of tide-water or ship navigation; deep-sea soundings, temperature and current observations along the said coasts and throughout the Gulf Stream and Japan Stream flowing off from them; magnetic observations and gravity research; determinations of heights by geodetic leveling, and of geographical positions by lines of transcontinental triangulation, which, with other connecting triangulations and observations for latitude, longitude, and azimuth, furnish points of reference for State surveys and connect the work on the Atlantic coast with that on the Pacific.

Results of the survey are published in the forms of annual reports, which include professional papers of value; bulletins which give information deemed important for immediate publication; notices to mariners, issued monthly; tide tables, issued annually; charts upon various scales, including harbor charts, general charts of the coast, and sailing charts; chart catalogues and coast pilots.

SUPERVISING INSPECTOR-GENERAL OF STEAM VESSELS.

The Supervising Inspector-General superintends the administration of the steam-boat inspection laws, presides at the meeting of the Board of Supervising Inspectors, receives all reports, and examines all accounts of inspectors.

The Board of Supervising Inspectors meets in Washington annually, on the third Wednesday in January, to establish regulations for carrying out the provisions of the steam-boat inspection laws.

SUPERVISING SURGEON-GENERAL, MARINE-HOSPITAL SERVICE.

The Supervising Surgeon-General is charged with the supervision of the marine hospitals and other relief stations of the service, and the care of sick and disabled seamen taken from the merchant vessels of the United States (ocean, lake, and river), and from the vessels of the Revenue-Marine and Light-House Services. This supervision includes the purveying of medical and other supplies; the assignment of and orders to medical officers; the examination of requisitions, vouchers, and property returns, and all matters pertaining to the service.

Under his direction all applicants for pilots' licenses are examined for the detection of color blindness. Ordinary seamen, on request of a master or agent, are examined physically to determine their fitness before shipment, and a like examination is made of the candidates for admission to the Revenue-Marine Service and candidates for appointment as surfmen in the United States Life-Saving Service.

He examines also and passes upon the medical certificates of claimants for pensions under the laws of the Life-Saving Service.

Under the act of April 29, 1878, he is charged with the framing of regulations for the prevention of the introduction of contagious diseases and the prevention of their spread; and under the act of August 1, 1888, he is charged with the conduct of the quarantine service of the United States. He has the direction of laboratories established to investigate the cause of contagious diseases, and publishes each week an abstract of sanitary reports received from all parts of the United States and (through the State Department) from all foreign countries.

Under the law of March 28, 1890, known as the Interstate Quarantine Law, he is charged with preparing the rules and regulations, under direction of the Secretary of the Treasury, necessary to prevent the introduction of certain contagious diseases from one State to another, and he has, also, supervision of the medical inspection of alien immigrants, which, under the law of March 3, 1891, is conducted by the medical officers of the Marine Hospital Service.

GENERAL SUPERINTENDENT OF THE LIFE-SAVING SERVICE.

It is the duty of the General Superintendent to supervise the organization and government of the employés of the service; to prepare and revise regulations therefor as may be necessary; to fix the number and compensation of surfmen to be employed at the several stations within the provisions of law; to supervise the expenditure of all appropriations made for the support and maintenance of the Life-Saving Service; to examine the accounts of disbursements of the district superintendents, and to certify the same to the accounting officers of the Treasury Department; to examine the property returns of the keepers of the several stations, and see that all public property thereto belonging is properly accounted for; to acquaint himself, as far as practicable, with all means employed in foreign countries which may seem to advantageously affect the interest of the service, and to cause to be properly investigated all plans, devices, and inventions for the improvement of life-saving apparatus for use at the stations which may appear to be meritorious and available; to exercise supervision over the selection of sites for new stations the establishment of which may be authorized by law, or for old ones the removal of which may be made necessary by the encroachment of the sea or by other causes; to prepare and submit to the Secretary of the Treasury estimates for the support of the service; to collect and compile the statistics of marine disasters contemplated by the act of June 20, 1874, and to submit to the Secretary of the Treasury, for transmission to Congress, an annual report of the expenditures of the moneys appropriated for the maintenance of the Life-Saving Service, and of the operations of said service during the year.

BUREAU OF STATISTICS.

The Chief of the Bureau of Statistics collects and publishes the statistics of our foreign commerce, embracing tables showing the imports and exports, respectively, by countries and customs districts; the transit trade inwards and outwards by countries and by customs districts; imported commodities warehoused, withdrawn from, and remaining in warehouse; the imports of merchandise entered for consumption, showing quantity, value, rates of duty, and amounts of duty collected on each article or class of articles; number of immigrants, their nationality, occupation etc., arriving from foreign countries, and the number of passengers departing for foreign countries; the inward and outward movement in our foreign trade and the countries whence entered and for which cleared, distinguishing the nationalities of the foreign vessels; also special information in regard to our internal commerce.

The publications of the Bureau are as follows: Annual Report on Commerce and Navigation; Annual Report on Internal Commerce; Annual Statistical Abstract of the United States; Quarter-yearly Reports on Commerce, Navigation, and Immigration; Monthly Summary Statements of Imports and Exports; Monthly Reports of Total Values of Foreign Commerce and Immigration; Monthly Reports of Exports of Breadstuffs, of Provisions, of Petroleum, and Cotton.

The divisions of the Bureau are as follows: Division of Examination and Revision; Division of Compilation; Miscellaneous Division; Library and Files.

THE BUREAU OF ENGRAVING AND PRINTING.

The Bureau of Engraving and Printing designs, engraves, prints, and finishes all of the securities and other similar work of the Government printed from steel plates (except postage stamps and postal-notes), embracing United States notes, bonds, and certificates, national-bank notes, internal-revenue and customs stamps, Treasury drafts and checks, disbursing officers' checks, licenses, commissions, patent and pension certificates, and portraits of deceased members of Congress and other public officers authorized by law.

THE WAR DEPARTMENT.

THE SECRETARY OF WAR.

The Secretary of War is at the head of the War Department, and performs such duties as the President may enjoin upon him concerning the military service.

He has supervision of all the estimates of appropriations for the expenses of the Department, of all purchases of Army supplies, and of all expenditures for the support and transportation of the Army, and of such expenditures of a civil nature as are by law placed under his direction.

He also has supervision of the United States Military Academy at West Point; of national cemeteries; of the publication of the Official Records of the War of the Rebellion, and of the Board of Ordnance and Fortification.

He has charge of all matters relating to river and harbor improvements; the prevention of obstruction to navigation; the establishment of harbor lines, and approves the plans and location of bridges authorized by Congress to be constructed over the navigable waters of the United States.

THE ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF WAR.

The Assistant Secretary of War performs such duties in the Department of War as shall be prescribed by the Secretary or may be required by law.

THE CHIEF CLERK.

The Chief Clerk has charge of the official mail and correspondence, and performs such duties as are enjoined by law or assigned to him by the Secretary of War.

MILITARY BUREAUS OF THE WAR DEPARTMENT.

The chiefs of the military bureaus of the War Department are officers of the Regular Army of the United States, and a part of the military establishment, viz:

The Adjutant-General promulgates all orders of a military character of the President, the Secretary of War, and the Major General commanding the Army, and conducts the correspondence between the latter and the Army; receives reports and returns pertaining to the Army; prepares commissions, appointments, and acceptances of resignations for issuance; receives all muster-rolls, and prepares consolidated reports of the Army and the militia; he also is the custodian of the records of the military prison at Fort Leavenworth and under the immediate direction of the Secretary of War has charge of the recruiting service.

The Inspector-General, with his assistants, inspects all military commands and stations, the Military Academy, the schools of application, the military department of all colleges and schools at which officers of the Army are detailed, all depots, rendezvous, armories, arsenals, fortifications, and public works of every kind under charge of, or carried on by, officers of the Army; and also the money accounts of all disbursing officers of the Army. To the Inspector-General are referred matters relating to military duties and conduct; the matériel, personnel, discipline, instruction, uniform, and outfit of the Army, and the character, quality, and adequacy of its supplies.

The Inspector-General's Department is specially established to promote uniform economy, efficiency, and compliance with the laws and orders.

The Quartermaster-General, aided by assistants, provides transportation for the Army; also clothing and equipage, horses, mules, and wagons, vessels, forage, stationery, and other miscellaneous quartermaster's stores and property for the Army, and of clothing and equipage for the militia; constructs necessary buildings, wharves, roads, and bridges at military posts, and repairs the same; furnishes water, heating and lighting apparatus; pays guides, spies, and interpreters, and is in charge of national cemeteries.

The Commissary-General has administrative control of the Subsistence Department—of the disbursement of its appropriations; the providing of rations and their issue to the Army; the purchase and distribution of articles authorized to be kept for sale to officers and enlisted men; and the adjustment of accounts and returns for subsistence funds and supplies, preliminary to their settlement by the proper accounting officers of the Treasury.

The Surgeon-General, under the immediate direction of the Secretary of War, is charged with the administrative duties of the Medical Department; the designation of the stations of medical officers, and the issuing of all orders and instructions relating to their professional duties. He directs as to the selection, purchase, and distribution of the medical supplies of the Army. The Army Medical Museum and the official publications of the Surgeon-General's office are also under his direct control.

The Paymaster-General is charged with the payment of the officers and enlisted men of the Army and civil employes of the Department; with furnishing funds to his officers and seeing that they duly account for the same, and with a preliminary examination of their accounts; also with the payment of Treasury certificates for bounty, back pay, etc., and balances due deceased officers and soldiers of the volunteer and regular Army.

The Chief of Engineers commands the Corps of Engineers, which is charged with all duties relating to fortifications, whether permanent or temporary; with torpedoes for coast defense; with all works for the attack and defense of places; with all military bridges, and with such surveys as may be required for these objects, or the movement of armies in the field. It is also charged with the harbor and river improvements; with military and geographical explorations and surveys; with the survey of the lakes; and with any other engineer work specially assigned to the corps by acts of Congress or orders of the President.

The Chief of Ordnance commands the Ordnance Department, the duties of which consist in providing, preserving, distributing, and accounting for every description of artillery, small arms, and all the munitions of war which may be required for the fortresses of the country, the armies in the field, and for the whole body of the militia of the Union. In these duties are comprised that of determining the general principles of construction and of prescribing in detail the models and forms of all military weapons employed in war. They comprise also the duty of prescribing the regulations for the proof and inspection of all these weapons, for maintaining uniformity and economy in their fabrication, for insuring their good quality, and for their preservation and distribution; and for carrying into effect the general purposes here stated large annual appropriations are made, and in order to fulfill these purposes extensive operations are conducted at the national armories, the gun factory, arsenals, and ordnance depots.

The Judge-Advocate-General is directed by law to "receive, review, and cause to be recorded, the proceedings of all courts-martial, courts of inquiry and military commissions." He also furnishes the Secretary of War reports and opinions upon legal questions arising under the laws, regulations, and customs pertaining to the Army, and upon questions arising under the civil law; reports upon applications for clemency in the cases of military prisoners; examines and prepares legal papers relating to the erection of bridges over navigable waters; drafts bonds, and examines those given to the United States by disbursing officers, colleges, and others; examines, revises, and drafts charges and specifications against officers and soldiers; and also drafts and examines deeds, contracts, licenses, leases, and legal papers generally.

The Chief Signal Officer is charged with the supervision of all military signal duties, and of books, papers, and devices connected therewith, including telegraph and telephone apparatus and the necessary meteorological instruments for use on target ranges, and other military uses; the construction, repair, and operation of military telegraph lines, and the duty of collecting and transmitting information for the Army by telegraph or otherwise, and all other duties usually pertaining to military signaling.

THE NAVY DEPARTMENT.

THE SECRETARY OF THE NAVY.

The Secretary of the Navy performs such duties as the President of the United States, who is Commander-in-Chief, may assign him, and has the general superintendence of construction, manning, armament, equipment, and employment of vessels of war.

The Chief Clerk has general charge of the records and correspondence of the Secretary's Office.

THE ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF THE NAVY.

The Assistant Secretary of the Navy performs such duties in the Navy Department as shall be prescribed by the Secretary of the Navy, or may be required by law.

inventions, and improvements, and the registration of trade-marks and labels. He is aided by an Assistant Commissioner, Chief Clerk, three Examiners-in-Chief, an Examiner of Interferences, and thirty-two Principal Examiners.

COMMISSIONER OF PENSIONS.

The Commissioner of Pensions supervises the examination and adjudication of all claims arising under laws passed by Congress granting bounty land or pension on account of service in the Army or Navy during the Revolutionary War and all subsequent wars in which the United States has been engaged. He is aided by two Deputy Commissioners and the Chief Clerk of the Bureau, each of whom has supervision over business arising in divisions of the Bureau assigned, under order of the Commissioner, to his immediate charge.

COMMISSIONER OF THE GENERAL LAND OFFICE.

The Commissioner of the General Land Office is charged with the survey, management, and sale of the public domain, and the issuing of titles therefor, whether derived from confirmations of grants made by former governments, by sales, donations, or grants for schools, railroads, military bounties, or public improvements. He is aided by an Assistant Commissioner and Chief Clerk.

COMMISSIONER OF INDIAN AFFAIRS.

The Commissioner of Indian Affairs has charge of the several tribes of Indians in the States and Territories. He issues instructions to, and receives reports from, agents, special agents, and school superintendents; superintends the purchase, transportation, and distribution of presents and annuities; and reports annually the relations of the Government with each tribe. He is aided by an Assistant Commissioner, who under the law also performs the duties of Chief Clerk.

COMMISSIONER OF EDUCATION.

The duties of the Commissioner of Education are to collect such statistics and facts as shall show the condition and progress of education in the several States and Territories, and to diffuse such information respecting the organization and management of schools and school systems and methods of teaching as shall aid the people of the United States in the establishment and maintenance of efficient school systems, and otherwise promote the cause of education throughout the country.

COMMISSIONER OF RAILROADS.

The Commissioner of Railroads is charged with the duty of prescribing a system of reports to be rendered to him by the railroad companies whose roads are in whole or in part west, north, or south of the Missouri River, and to which the United States have granted any loan of credit or subsidy in bonds or lands; to examine the books and accounts of each of said railroad companies once in each fiscal year, and at such other times as may be deemed by him necessary to determine the correctness of any report received from them; to assist the Government directors of any of said railway companies in all matters which come under their cognizance, whenever they may officially request such assistance; to see that the laws relating to said companies are enforced; to furnish such information to the several departments of the Government in regard to tariffs for freight and passengers and in regard to the accounts of said railroad companies as may be by them required, or, in the absence of any request therefor, as he may deem expedient for the interest of the Government; and to make an annual report to the Secretary of the Interior, on the 1st day of November, on the condition of each of said railroad companies, their road, accounts, and affairs, for the fiscal year ending June 30 immediately preceding.

DIRECTOR OF THE GEOLOGICAL SURVEY.

The Director of the Geological Survey has charge of the classification of the public lands, and examination of the geological structure, mineral resources, and products of the national domain.

SUPERINTENDENT OF THE CENSUS.

The Superintendent of the Census supervises the taking of the census of the United States every tenth year, and the subsequent arrangement, compilation, and publication of the statistics collected.

CENSUS OFFICE.

In accordance with an act of Congress approved March 1, 1889, entitled "An act to provide for taking the Eleventh and subsequent Censuses," the Superintendent of the Census, under the direction of the Secretary of the Interior, shall cause to be taken as of the date of June 1, 1890, a census of the population, wealth, and industry of each State and Territory, and of the District of Columbia. He shall also at the time of the general enumeration herein provided for, or prior thereto, as the Secretary of the Interior may determine, collect the statistics of, and relating to, the recorded indebtedness of private corporations and individuals, and make report thereon to Congress; and he shall collect, from official sources, information relating to animals not on farms. The Superintendent shall, under the authority of the Secretary of the Interior, cause to be taken on a special schedule of inquiry the names, organizations, and length of service of those who have served in the Army, Navy, or Marine Corps of the United States in the war of the rebellion, and who are survivors at the time of said inquiry, and the widows of soldiers, sailors, or marines. The population schedule shall include an inquiry as to the number of negroes, mulattoes, quadroons, and octoroons. The Superintendent shall also collect and publish the statistics of the population, industries, and resources of the District of Alaska, with such fullness as he may deem expedient or practicable under the appropriations made, or to be made, for the expenses of the Eleventh Census. He may employ special agents, or other means, to make an enumeration of all Indians living within the jurisdiction of the United States, with such information as to their condition as may be obtainable, classifying them as to Indians taxed and Indians not taxed. He may also employ experts and special agents to investigate and ascertain the statistics of the manufacturing, railroad, fishing, mining, cattle, and other industries of the country, and of telegraph, express, transportation, and insurance companies as he may designate and require.

The only volumes that shall be prepared and published in connection with the said Census shall relate to population and social statistics relating thereto, the products of manufactures, mining and agriculture, mortality and vital statistics, valuation and public indebtedness, recorded indebtedness, and to statistics relating to railroad corporations, incorporated express, telegraph, and insurance companies, a list of the names, organizations, and length of service of surviving soldiers, sailors, and marines, and the widows of soldiers, sailors, and marines.

THE POST-OFFICE DEPARTMENT.

THE POSTMASTER-GENERAL.

The Postmaster-General has the direction and management of the Post-Office Department. He appoints all officers and employes of the Department, except the four Assistant Postmasters-General, who are appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate; appoints all postmasters whose compensation does not exceed one thousand dollars; makes postal treaties with foreign Governments, by and with the advice and consent of the President, awards and executes contracts, and directs the management of the domestic and foreign mail service.

THE FIRST ASSISTANT POSTMASTER-GENERAL.

The First Assistant Postmaster-General has charge of the following divisions, viz :

Salary and Allowance Division.—The duty of readjusting the salaries of postmasters and the consideration of allowances for rent, fuel, lights, clerk hire, and other expenditures.

Free Delivery.—The duty of preparing cases for the inauguration of the system in cities, the appointment of letter-carriers, and the general supervision of the system.

Division of Post-Office Supplies.—The duty of sending out the blanks, wrapping-paper, twine, letter-balances, and canceling stamps to offices entitled to receive the same.

The Money-Order Division.—Under the immediate direction of a Superintendent, who has supervision and control thereof, including the domestic money-order business and the postal-note business, and the superintendence of the international money-order correspondence with foreign countries, as well as the preparation of postal conventions for the exchange of money-orders therewith, and the conduct of correspondence relating to these subjects.

The clerical force of the Money-Order Division is distributed into six sub-divisions, as follows:

The Examining Sub-Division receives in the first instance the money-order weekly statements of postmasters, and subjects the same to critical examination, that it may be ascertained whether they are in proper form, and whether the postmaster has promptly deposited, in accordance with regulation, the surplus money-order funds received by him.

The Blank Sub-Division is charged with ordering from contractors supplies of blanks and blank books for the money-order business, of caring for the same, and of filling requisitions therefor from postmasters.

The Duplicate Sub-Division disposes of applications for the issue of duplicate money-orders and postal notes, and all such duplicates are prepared therein, and, after being signed by the Superintendent, are transmitted to postmasters.

The Sub-Division of Domestic Correspondence prepares replies to inquiries from postmasters and the public in cases involving construction of the postal laws and regulations relating to the money-order business, and relating also to controversies between postmasters and the public as to the payment of money-orders or postal-notes; and to it is assigned the preparation of the annual list of post-offices to be established as money-order and postal-note offices.

The Sub-Division of Drafts, Credits, and Transfers prepares for transmittal to postmasters, upon their application, blank drafts to supply them with funds for the payment of money-orders and letters of credit upon the postmaster at New York for the same purpose, and keeps a record thereof; it also records all transfers made for a similar purpose by the postmasters from their postal funds to their money-order funds.

The International Sub-Division conducts correspondence between postmasters and this office and between this office and foreign post-office departments, relating to international money-orders; it also issues duplicates of, and authorizes repayment of, international money-orders. This division has charge, furthermore, of the payment, by bills of exchange procured for the purpose, of balances found due in the settlement of accounts of money-orders exchanged between the United States and foreign countries, and receives and duly disposes of bills of exchange transmitted from foreign countries in payment of balances due the United States on money-order account.

Dead-Letter Office.—Under the immediate direction of the Superintendent, who is charged with the treatment of all unmailable and undelivered mail matter which is sent to it for disposition; the enforcement of the prompt sending of such matter according to regulations; the duty of noting and correcting errors of postmasters connected with the delivery or withholding of mail matter; the investigation, by correspondence, of complaints made with reference thereto; the verification and allowance of claims for credit by postmasters for postage-due stamps affixed to undelivered matter; the examination and forwarding or return of all letters which have failed of delivery; inspection and return to country of origin of undelivered foreign matter; recording and restoration to owners of letters and parcels which contain valuable inclosures; care and disposition of all money, negotiable paper, and other valuable articles found in undelivered matter and correspondence, both foreign and domestic, relating to these subjects.

Its clerical force is distributed into seven divisions, as follows: Opening Division, Unmailable and Property Division, Money Division, Minor Division, Returning Division, Foreign Division, Inquiry Division.

Correspondence Division.—To this division are referred all inquiries received from postmasters concerning the discharge of their duties; disputes regarding the delivery of mail matter; inquiries relative to the construction of postal laws and regulations; and all correspondence of a miscellaneous character.

THE SECOND ASSISTANT POSTMASTER-GENERAL.

The Second Assistant Postmaster-General has charge of the transportation of all mails. His office embraces four divisions and two offices, viz:

Contract Division prepares all advertisements inviting proposals for star, steamboat, and mail-messenger service, receives the proposals, prepares orders for the award of contracts, attends to the execution of contracts, prepares cases and orders for the establishment of new service or changes in existing service, attends to all correspondence relating thereto, and prepares statistics and reports of mail service required by law.

Division of Inspection is charged with the examination of monthly and special reports of postmasters as to performance of mail service by contractors and carriers; the preparation of cases and orders for deductions for nonperformance of service and for the imposition of fines for delinquencies of contractors and carriers, of authorization for payment of railway postal clerks, of certifications of service to the Sixth Auditor, and the correspondence relative to nonperformance of contract requirements for carrying the mails.

Railway Adjustment Division prepares cases authorizing the transportation of mails by railroads, the establishment of railway postal-car service and changes in existing service; prepares orders and instructions for the weighing of mails, receives the returns and computes basis of pay therefrom; prepares cases for the adjustment of allowances to railroads for carrying the mails and for postal cars, and attends to all correspondence relating to these matters.

Mail Equipment Division is charged with the preparation of advertisements inviting proposals for furnishing mail-bags, mail locks and keys, label cases, mail-bag-cord fasteners, and mail-bag catchers; the receipt of proposals and the preparation of contracts therefor, the issuing of such articles for the use of the service, the repairing of the same, the keeping of records and accounts and the preparation of all correspondence incident to these duties.

Office of Railway Mail Service has charge of the railway-mail service and the railway post-office clerks, prepares for the Second Assistant Postmaster-General cases for the appointment, removal, promotion, and reduction of said clerks, conducts the correspondence, and issues the orders relative to moving the mails on railroad trains; has charge of the dispatch, distribution and separation of mail matter in railway post-office cars and the principal post-offices, and conducts the weighing of mails when ordered.

Office of Foreign Mails has charge of all foreign postal arrangements (except those relating to the money-order system), including the preparation of postal conventions and the regulations for their execution, as well as the consideration of questions arising under them; and conducts the correspondence relative thereto both with foreign Governments and private citizens. It also has the supervision of the ocean mail steamship service in all its details, including the settlement of the accounts with steamship companies for the conveyance of mails from the United States to foreign countries.

THE THIRD ASSISTANT POSTMASTER-GENERAL.

The Third Assistant Postmaster-General has charge of the Finance Office, etc., embracing the following four divisions:

Division of Finance.—The duty of issuing drafts and warrants in payment of balances reported by the Auditor to be due to mail contractors or other persons; the superintendence of the collection of revenue at depository and depositing offices, and the accounts between the Department and the Treasurer and Assistant Treasurers and special designated depositories of the United States. This division receives all accounts, monthly or quarterly, of the depository offices, and certificates of deposit from depositing offices.

Division of Postage-stamps and Stamped Envelopes.—The issuing of postage-stamps, stamped envelopes, newspaper wrappers, and postal cards; also the supplying of postmasters with envelopes for their official use, including registered-package envelopes.

Division of Registered Letters.—The duty of preparing instructions for the guidance of postmasters relative to registered letters, and all correspondence connected therewith; also the compilation of statistics as to the transaction of the business.

Division of Files, Mails, etc.—The duty of receiving, distributing, and indexing all papers coming into the office; of dispatching and recording all papers sent from the office, and of keeping and attending to the office files.

The office of the Third Assistant Postmaster-General has also charge of the Special Delivery System, and of all business relating to the rates of postage and the classification of mail matter, including the official entry of newspapers and periodicals.

FOURTH ASSISTANT POSTMASTER-GENERAL.

The Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General has charge of the Bureau including the Divisions of Appointments, Bonds, and Commissions, and of Post-Office Inspectors and Mail Depredations.

Division of Appointments.—The duty of preparing all cases for establishment, discontinuance, and change of name or site of post-offices, and for the appointment of all postmasters, and attending to all correspondence consequent thereto.

Division of Bonds and Commissions.—The duty of receiving and recording appointments; sending out papers for postmasters and their assistants to qualify; receiving, entering, and filing their bonds and oaths; and issuing the commissions for postmasters.

Division of Post-Office Inspectors and Mail Depredations.—To this office is intrusted the general supervision of the work of the Post-Office Inspectors; the consideration and adjustment of their accounts for salary and expenses. To it are referred all complaints of losses or irregularities in the mails, and all reported violations of the postal laws.

THE DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE.

THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL.

The Attorney-General is the head of the Department of Justice, and the chief law officer of the Government. He represents the United States in matters involving legal questions; he gives his advice and opinion on questions of law when they are required by the President or by the heads of the other Executive Departments, on questions of law arising upon the administration of their respective Departments; he exercises a general superintendence and direction over United States Attorneys and Marshals in all judicial districts in the States and Territories; and he provides special counsel for the United States whenever required by any Department of the Government.

He is assisted by a Chief Clerk and other clerks and employes in the executive management of the business of the Department.

A Law Clerk, who is also an Examiner of Titles, assists the Attorney-General in the investigation of legal questions and in the preparation of opinions.

THE SOLICITOR-GENERAL.

The Solicitor-General assists the Attorney-General in the performance of his general duties, and by special provision of law in the case of a vacancy in the office of Attorney-General, or in his absence, exercises all these duties. Except when the Attorney-General otherwise directs, the Attorney-General and Solicitor-General conduct and argue all cases in the Supreme Court and in the Court of Claims in which the United States is interested; and, when the Attorney-General so directs, any such case in any court of the United States may be conducted and argued by the Solicitor-General; and in the same way the Solicitor-General may be sent by the Attorney-General to attend to the interests of the United States in any State court or elsewhere.

THE ASSISTANT ATTORNEYS-GENERAL.

Four Assistant Attorneys-General assist the Attorney-General and the Solicitor-General in the performance of their duties. Two assist in the argument of causes in the Supreme Court and in the preparation of legal opinions; one is charged with the conduct of the defense of the United States in the Court of Claims, and has to assist him six assistant attorneys; the other is charged with the defense of the Indian depredation claims.

Under the act of 1870 the different law officers of the Executive Departments exercise their functions under the supervision and control of the Attorney-General. They are: the Assistant Attorney-General for the Department of the Interior; the Assistant Attorney-General for the Post-Office Department; the Solicitor of the Treasury; and the Solicitor of Internal Revenue, Treasury Department; and the Solicitor for the Department of State.

THE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

THE SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE.

The Secretary of Agriculture is charged with the supervision of all public business relating to the agricultural industry. He appoints all the officers and employés of the Department, with the exception of the Assistant Secretary and the Chief of the Weather Bureau, who are appointed by the President, and directs the management of all the divisions and sections and the bureaus embraced in the Department. He exercises advisory supervision over the agricultural experiment stations deriving support from the National Treasury, and has control of the quarantine stations for imported cattle, and of interstate quarantine rendered necessary by contagious cattle diseases.

ASSISTANT SECRETARY.

The Assistant Secretary performs such duties as may be required by law or prescribed by the Secretary. To his office has been assigned the control and direction of the scientific policy and operations of the following divisions and sections:

The Botanical Division, the Division of Vegetable Pathology, the Pomological Division, the Microscopical Division, the Chemical Division, except the investigations and experiments in the manufacture of sugar from sorghum, the Ornithological Division, the Forestry Division, the Entomological Division, and the Office of Experiment Stations. All questions relating to the scientific operations and policy of the above-mentioned divisions, but involving questions of administrative policy, while primarily matters for the consideration of the Assistant Secretary, are submitted to the Secretary for his approval before final action is taken.

The Chief of the Weather Bureau, under the direction of the Secretary of Agriculture, has charge of the forecasting of weather; the issue of storm warnings; the display of weather and flood signals for the benefit of agriculture, commerce, and navigation; the gauging and reporting of rivers; the maintenance and operation of seacoast telegraph lines, and the collection and transmission of marine intelligence for the benefit of commerce and navigation; the reporting of temperature and rainfall conditions for the cotton interests; the display of frost and cold-wave signals; the distribution of meteorological information in the interests of agriculture and commerce, and the taking of such meteorological observations as may be necessary to establish and record the climatic conditions of the United States, or as are essential for the proper execution of the foregoing duties.

The Bureau of Animal Industry makes investigations as to the existence of contagious pleuro-pneumonia and other dangerous communicable diseases of live stock, superintends the measures for their extirpation, makes original investigations as to the nature and prevention of such diseases, and reports on the condition and means of improving the animal industries of the country. It also has charge of the inspection of import and export animals, of the inspection of vessels for the transportation of export cattle, and of the quarantine stations for imported neat cattle; supervises the interstate movement of cattle, and inspects live stock and their products slaughtered for food consumption.

The Statistician collects information as to the condition, prospects, and harvests of the principal crops, and of the numbers and status of farm animals, through a corps of county correspondents and the aid of a supplementary organization under the direction of State agents, and obtains similar information from European countries monthly through the Deputy Consul-General at London, assisted by consular, agricultural, and commercial authorities. He records, tabulates, and co-ordinates statistics of agricultural production, distribution, and consumption, the authorized data of governments, institutes, societies, boards of trade, and individual experts; and writes, edits, and publishes a monthly bulletin for the use of editors and writers, and for the information of producers and consumers, and for their protection against combination and extortion in the handling of the products of agriculture.

The Chemist makes analyses of natural fertilizers, vegetable products, and other materials which pertain to the interests of agriculture. Applications are constantly made from all portions of the country for the analysis of soils, minerals, liquids, and manures.

The Office of Experiment Stations represents the Department in its relations to the agricultural experiment stations in the several States and Territories. Its object is to promote uniformity of methods in the work of the stations, and, in general, to furnish to them such advice and assistance as will best promote the purposes of the act of Congress by which they were established. To this end, it indicates lines of inquiry, aids the stations in the conduct of co-operative experiments, helps to make available to them the processes and results of experimental inquiry in the United States and abroad, and compiles, edits, and publishes accounts of station investigations.

The Entomologist obtains and disseminates information regarding insects injurious to vegetation; investigates insects sent him in order to give appropriate remedies; conducts investigations of this character in different parts of the country; and mounts and arranges specimens for illustrative and museum purposes.

The Ornithological Division investigates the economic relations of birds and mammals, and recommends measures for the preservation of beneficial and destruction of injurious species.

The Division of Forestry is occupied with experiments, investigations, and reports dealing with the subject of forestry; with the distribution of seeds of valuable economic trees; and with the dissemination of information upon forestry matters.

The Botanist investigates plants and grasses of agricultural value or of injurious character, and answers inquiries relating to the same; also has charge of the Herbarium, receives botanical contributions and purchases for its improvement, and distributes duplicate specimens to agricultural colleges and educational institutions.

The Pomologist collects and distributes information in regard to the pomological industry of the United States; investigates the habits and peculiar qualities of fruits, their adaptability to various soils and climates and conditions of culture; and introduces new and untried fruits from foreign countries.

The Division of Vegetable Pathology investigates the diseases of plants, such as the rusts, smuts, blights, rots, etc., and by experiment seeks to determine remedies for their mitigation and prevention.

The Microscopist makes investigations mostly relating to parasitic growths, to the characteristics of fibers, and to the adulteration of foods.

The Office of Fiber Investigations collects and disseminates information regarding the cultivation of textile plants, directs experiments in the culture of new and hitherto unused plants, and investigates the merits of new machines and processes for textile manufactures.

The Division of Records and Editing exercises general supervision of the Department printing; issues in the form of press notices official information of interest to agriculturists, and distributes to agricultural publications and writers synopses of Department publications.

The Division of Illustration and Engraving comprises the artists and engravers engaged in preparing illustrations for the Department publications, and its chief is charged with general supervision of the illustration work.

The Seed Division collects new and valuable seeds and plants for propagation in this country, and distributes them to applicants in all parts of the country, such applicants being required to furnish the Department with a report as to results obtained with seeds so furnished them.

The Division of Gardens and Grounds is charged with the care and ornamentation of the park surrounding the Department buildings, and with the duties connected with the conservatories and gardens for testing and propagating exotic and economic plants.

THE DEPARTMENT OF LABOR.

THE COMMISSIONER OF LABOR.

A Bureau of Labor, connected with the Department of the Interior, was established by act of Congress approved June 27, 1884. By an act of Congress approved June 13, 1888, a Department of Labor was created, and the Bureau of Labor, with its officers and duties, transferred to the Department of Labor.

The Department is placed in charge of a Commissioner of Labor, who is directed to acquire and diffuse among the people of the United States useful information on subjects connected with labor in the most general and comprehensive sense of that word, and especially upon its relation to capital; the hours of labor; the earnings of laboring men and women; and the means of promoting their material, social, intellectual, and moral prosperity. He is also especially charged, in accordance with the general design and duties prescribed by the law, at as early a date as possible and whenever industrial changes shall make it essential, to ascertain the cost of producing articles, at the time dutiable in the United States, in leading countries where such articles are produced, by fully specified units of production, and under a classification showing the different elements of cost of such articles of production, including wages paid in such industries, etc.

It is also the duty of the Commissioner to ascertain and report as to the effect of the customs laws upon the currency and on the agricultural industry, especially as to their effect on the mortgage indebtedness of farmers; what articles are controlled by trusts, or other combinations of capital, business operations, or of labor, and what effect such trusts, or other combinations of capital, business operations, or of labor have on production and prices.

The Commissioner is also to establish a system of reports, by which, at intervals of not less than two years, he can ascertain the general condition, so far as production is concerned, of the leading industries of the country. He is also especially charged to investigate the causes of, and facts relating to, all controversies and disputes between employers and employes as they may occur, and which may happen to interfere with the welfare of the people of the different States. He may obtain information upon the various subjects committed to him, and, as he may deem desirable, from different foreign countries. He is to make a report annually in writing to the President and Congress of the information collected and collated by him, and he is authorized to make special reports on particular subjects whenever required to do so by the President or either House of Congress, or when he shall think the subject in his charge requires it.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION.

This Commission, appointed under "An act to regulate commerce," approved February 4, 1887, has authority to inquire into the management of the business of all common carriers who are subject to the provisions of the act. These are all which are "engaged in the transportation of passengers or property wholly by railroad, or partly by railroad and partly by water when both are used, under a common control, management, or arrangement, for a continuous carriage or shipment, from one State or Territory of the United States, or the District of Columbia, to any other State or Territory of the United States, or the District of Columbia, or from any place in the United States to an adjacent foreign country, or from any place in the United States through a foreign country to any other place in the United States, and also in the transportation in like manner of property shipped from any place in the United States to a foreign country and carried from such place to a port of transshipment, or shipped from a foreign country to any place in the United States and carried to such place from a port of entry either in the United States or an adjacent foreign country." It has jurisdiction generally over rates on interstate traffic, to pass upon their reasonableness and justice, to decide questions of unjust discrimination, and of undue preference, to prescribe the publicity to be given to joint tariffs, and to institute and carry on proceedings for the enforcement of the provisions of the law. It has power to call for reports; to require the attendance of witnesses and the production of books and papers; to hear complaints made against any such carrier of a violation of the act, and to determine what reparation shall be made to a party wronged; to institute inquiries on its own motion or at the request of State Railroad Commissions, and to report thereon; and it is required to make an annual report, which shall be transmitted to Congress. It is also empowered in special cases to authorize any such common carrier to charge less for a longer distance than for a shorter over the same line, and to prescribe the extent to which the carrier may be relieved from the "long and short haul clause" of said act. The Commission also appoints a secretary and clerks, whose duties are not specifically defined by the act.

UNITED STATES CIVIL-SERVICE COMMISSION.

The purpose of the civil-service act, as declared in its title, is "to regulate and improve the civil service of the United States." It provides for the appointment of three Commissioners, a Chief Examiner, a Secretary, and other employes, and makes it the duty of the Commission to aid the President as he may request in preparing suitable rules for carrying the act into effect; to make regulations for and control the examinations provided for, and supervise and control the records of the same; and to make investigations and report upon all matters touching the enforcement and effect of the rules and regulations.

The service classified under the act, and to which it and the rules apply, embraces the Ex-

Executive Departments at Washington, the Department of Labor, and the Civil-Service Commission, the customs districts in each of which there are fifty or more employes, eleven in number, the post-offices in each of which there are fifty or more employes, now fifty-two, the Railway Mail Service, and the Indian School Service, including altogether about thirty-six thousand places.

COURT OF CLAIMS.

Jurisdiction.—This court was established by act of Congress, February 24, 1855 (10 Stat. L., 612). It has general jurisdiction of all "claims founded upon the Constitution of the United States or any law of Congress, except for pensions, or upon any regulation of an Executive Department, or upon any contract, expressed or implied, with the Government of the United States, or for damages, liquidated or unliquidated, in cases not sounding in tort, in respect of which claims the party would be entitled to redress against the United States, either in a court of law, equity, or admiralty, if the United States were suable, except claims growing out of the late civil war, and commonly known as war claims," and certain rejected claims.

It has jurisdiction also of claims of like character which may be referred to it by any Executive Department, involving disputed facts or controverted questions of law, where the amount in controversy exceeds $3,000, or where the decision will affect a class of cases or furnish a precedent for the future action of any Executive Department in the adjustment of a class of cases, or where any authority, right, privilege, or exemption is claimed or denied under the Constitution. In all the above-mentioned cases the court, when it finds for the claimant, may enter judgment against the United States, payable out of the public treasury. An appeal, only upon questions of law, lies to the Supreme Court on the part of the defendants in all cases, and on the part of the claimants when the amount in controversy exceeds $3,000. The findings of fact by the Court of Claims are final and not subject to review by the Supreme Court.

By the act of March 3, 1883, chapter 116 (22 Stat. L., 485, and 1 Supplement to R. S., 2d Ed., p. 403), called the "Bowman Act," the head of an Executive Department may refer to the court any "claim or matter" pending in his Department involving controverted questions of fact or law. The court is required to find the facts and its conclusions of law and to report the same to the Department for its guidance and action. The same act authorizes either House of Congress, or any of its committees, to refer to the court any "claim or matter" involving the investigation and determination of facts, the court to find the facts and report the same to Congress for such action thereon as may there be determined. This act is extended by act of March 2, 1887, chapter 359 (24 Stat. L., 505, and 1 Supplement to R. S., 2d Ed., p. 559).

There is a statute of limitations which prevents parties from bringing actions on their own motion beyond six years after the cause of action accrued, but the Departments may refer claims at any time, if they were pending therein within the six years. The only limitation under the "Bowman Act" is that the court shall have no jurisdiction of any claim barred before the passage of the act by any then existing provision of law.

By act of January 20, 1885 (23 Stat. L., 283, and 1 Supplement to R. S., 2d Ed., p. 471), Congress gave to the court jurisdiction over "claims to indemnity upon the French Government arising out of illegal captures, detentions; seizures, condemnations, and confiscations prior to the ratification of the convention between the United States and the French Republic, concluded on the 30th day of September, 1800." The time of filing claims is limited to two years from the passage of the act, and all claims not presented within that time are forever barred. The court finds the facts and the law, and reports the same in each case to Congress.

By act of March 3, 1891, chapter 538 (26 Stat. L., 851, and Supplement to R. S., 2d Ed., p. 913), the court is vested with jurisdiction of certain Indian depredation claims.

There are five judges, who sit together in the hearing of cases, the concurrence of three of whom is necessary for the decision of any case.

Term.—The court sits at Washington, D. C., in the Department of Justice building, 1509 Pennsylvania avenue, on the first Monday in December each year, and continues into the following summer and until all cases ready for trial are disposed of. Cases may be commenced and entered at any time, whether the court be in session or not.

THE GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE.

The Public Printer.—The Public Printer has charge of all business relating to the Public Printing and Binding. He appoints the officers and employes of the Government Printing Office, and purchases all necessary machinery and material.

The Chief Clerk.—The Chief Clerk has general supervision of the clerks and clerical work of the office. He conducts the correspondence relating to public business, and performs such other duties as may be assigned to him by the Public Printer.

The Foreman of Printing.—The Foreman of Printing has charge of all matter which is to be printed. His department consists of the following divisions: the Document, Job, Specification, Press, Folding, Stereotype, and Congressional Record rooms, as well as the various branch offices.

The Foreman of Binding.—The Foreman of Binding has charge of the Bindery, in which division all work requiring binding, ruling, or marbling is executed. The binderies of the branch offices are under his supervision!

BOARD ON GEOGRAPHIC NAMES.

That uniform usage in regard to geographic nomenclature and orthography shall obtain throughout the Executive Departments of the Government, and particularly upon maps and charts issued by the various departments and bureaus, this board is constituted. To it shall be referred all unsettled questions concerning geographic names which arise in the Departments, and the decisions of the board are to be accepted by the Departments as the standard authority in such matters.

BUREAU OF AMERICAN REPUBLICS.

The Bureau of the American Republics is, under the recommendation of the late International American Conference, for the prompt collection and distribution of commercial information concerning the American Republics. It publishes translations of the tariffs of the countries of Latin America reduced to the United States equivalents; also Hand-Books to these countries containing the latest information respecting their resources, commerce, and general features. Replies are also furnished to inquiries in relation to the commercial and other affairs of the countries, and items of news giving recent laws of general interest, development of railways, agriculture, mines, manufactures, shipping, etc., are given daily to the press. It is sustained by contributions from the several American Republics in proportion to their population.

INTERCONTINENTAL RAILWAY COMMISSION.

The examination of the possible routes and preparation of reports on their length, cost, and advantages, together with the conduct of proper surveys for an intercontinental railway to connect the United States of America and the other Republics of the American Continent.

SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES.

(In Capitol Building.)

Melville Weston Fuller, Chief Justice of the United States, was born in Augusta, Maine, February 11, 1833; was graduated from Bowdoin College in 1853; studied law, attended a course of lectures at Harvard Law School, and was admitted to the bar in 1855; formed a law partnership in Augusta, Maine, and was an associate editor of a Democratic paper called The Age; in 1856, became President of the Common Council, and served as city solicitor; removed to Chicago, Illinois, in 1856, where he practiced law until appointed Chief Justice; in 1862 was a member of the State Constitutional Convention; was a member of the State legislature from 1863 to 1865; was a delegate to the Democratic National Conventions of 1864, 1872, 1876, and 1880; the degree of LL. D. was conferred upon him by Northwestern University and by Bowdoin College in 1888, and by Harvard in 1890; was appointed Chief Justice April 30, 1888, confirmed July 20, 1888, and took the oath of office October 8, same year.

Stephen Johnson Field, Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court, was born at Haddam, Connecticut, November 4, 1816; removed with his family in 1819 to Stockbridge, Massachusetts, where he spent ten years of his boyhood; in 1829 accompanied his sister to Asia Minor, her husband, Rev. Josiah Brewer, having undertaken an educational mission to the Greeks; remained two and a half years, for the most part in Smyrna and Athens, and learned to speak and write the modern Greek language; graduated from Williams College in 1837; began the study of law in 1838, in the office of David Dudley Field, and in 1841 became his partner, and so remained for seven years; in 1848 traveled extensively in Europe; returning from Europe started for California in November, 1849, arriving there December 28, 1849; located in Marysville in January, 1850, and was elected first Alcalde of that city; under Mexican law the Alcalde was an officer of limited jurisdiction, but in the anomalous condition of affairs he was called upon to administer justice, punish crime, and to enforce necessary police regulations until relieved by officers under the new constitution; was elected to the second legislature, and was a member of the Judiciary Committee and framed the laws creating the judicial system of that State; from 1851 to 1857 he practiced his profession, and was then elected a Judge of the Supreme Court for six years, from January 1, 1858. A vacancy occurring on the bench he was appointed judge to fill it on the 13th October, 1857; became Chief Justice in 1859; in 1863 was appointed by President Lincoln to his present position; in 1866 Williams College conferred upon him the degree of LL. D., and by the Regents of the University of California in 1869 a professor of law in that institution.

John Marshall Harlan, Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court, was born in Boyle County, Kentucky, June 1, 1833; was graduated from Center College, Kentucky, in 1850; studied law at Transylvania University; practiced his profession at Frankfort; was elected County Judge in 1858; was elector on the Bell and Everett ticket; removed to Louisville and formed a law partnership with Hon. W. F. Bullock; in 1861 raised the Tenth Kentucky Infantry Regiment and served in Gen. George H. Thomas's division; owing to the death of his father in the spring of 1863, although his name was before the Senate for confirmation as a brigadier-general, he felt compelled to resign; was elected Attorney-General by the Union party in 1863 and filled the office until 1867, when he returned to active practice in Louisville; was Republican nominee for Governor in 1871; his name was presented by the Republican Convention of his State in 1875 for the Vice-Presidency; was chairman of the delegation from his State to the National Republican Convention in 1876; declined a diplomatic position as a substitute for the Attorney-Generalship, to which, before he reached Washington, President Hayes intended to assign him; served as a member of the Louisiana Commission; was commissioned an Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court November 29, 1877, and took his seat December 10, same year.

Horace Gray, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, was born in Boston, Massachusetts, March 24, 1828; was graduated from Harvard College in the class of 1845, and from the Harvard Law School in 1849; was admitted to the bar in 1851; was appointed Reporter of the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts in 1854, and held the position until 1861; was appointed Associate Justice of the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts, August 23, 1864, and Chief Justice of that Court September 5, 1873; was commissioned an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, by President Arthur, December 19, 1881.

Samuel Blatchford, Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court, was born in New York City March 9, 1820; was graduated from Columbia College in 1837; received from that college in 1867 the degree of LL. D.; was private secretary to Governor William H. Seward for three years; was admitted to the bar in 1842, and engaged in the practice of law in New York City; removed to Auburn, New York, in 1845 and became the law partner of Governor Seward; in 1852 commenced the publication of the decisions of the United States Circuit Court; relocated in New York City in 1854; was appointed by President Johnson Judge of the District Court for the Southern District of New York in May, 1867; was appointed Circuit Judge of the Second Judicial Circuit, by President Hayes, March 4, 1878; was appointed an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, March 22, 1882, by President Arthur.

Lucius Quintus Cincinnatus Lamar, Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court, was born in Putnam County, Georgia, September 17, 1825; received his early education in Oxford, Mississippi, and was graduated from Emory College, Georgia, in 1845; studied law in Macon under his uncle, Hon. Absalom H. Chapell, and was admitted to the bar in 1847; was Adjunct Professor of Mathematics in the University of Mississippi for a time; entered upon the practice of law at Covington, Georgia; was elected to the legislature of that State in 1853; was elected a Member of Congress in 1857 and served until 1860, when he withdrew to take part in the Secession Convention of Mississippi; was colonel of the Nineteenth Mississippi Confederate Infantry; participated in many engagements with the Army of Northern Virginia; was compelled to leave the service by ill health; was sent as a commissioner of the Confederacy to Russia in 1863; at the close of the war in 1866 accepted the position of Professor of Political Economy and Social Science in the University of Mississippi; the following year was transferred to the chair of Constitutional and Municipal Law and Governmental Science; in 1872 was elected to Congress and reelected in 1874; was elected to the United States Senate and took his seat March 5, 1877; was appointed Secretary of the Interior March 5, 1885, and filled that office until appointed, January 16, 1888, to his present position to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Justice William B. Woods, of Georgia.

David Josiah Brewer, Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court, was born in Smyrna, Asia Minor, June 20, 1837; is the son of Rev. Josiah Brewer and Emilia A. Field, sister of David Dudley, Cyrus W., and Justice Stephen J. Field; his father was an early missionary to Turkey; was graduated from Yale College in 1856 and from the Albany Law School in 1858; established himself in his profession at Leavenworth, Kansas, in 1859, where he resided until he removed to Washington to enter upon his present duties; in 1861, was appointed United States Commissioner; from 1862 to 1865, was Judge of the Probate and Criminal Courts of Leavenworth County; from 1865 to 1869 was Judge of the District Court; from 1869 to 1870 was County Attorney of Leavenworth; in 1870 was elected a Justice of the Supreme Court of his State, and reelected in 1876 and 1882; in 1884 was appointed Judge of the Circuit Court of the United States for the Eighth District; was appointed to his present position, to succeed Justice Stanley Matthews, deceased, in December, 1889, and was commissioned December 18, 1889.

Henry Billings Brown, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, was born in South Lee, Massachusetts, March 2, 1836; was graduated from Yale College in 1856; studied law for some time in a private office; attended lectures both at Yale and Harvard law schools, and was admitted to the bar of Wayne County, Michigan, in July, 1860; in the spring of 1861, upon the election of Mr. Lincoln, was appointed Deputy Marshal of the United States, and subsequently Assistant United States Attorney for the Eastern District of Michigan, a position he held until 1868, when he was appointed Judge of the State Circuit Court of Wayne County, to fill a vacancy; held this office but a few months, and then returned to active practice in partnership with John S. Newberry and Ashley Pond, of Detroit, which continued until 1875, when he was appointed by President Grant, District Judge for the Eastern District of Michigan, to succeed Hon. John W. Longyear; on December 23, 1890, was appointed Associate Justice of the Supreme Court to succeed Justice Samuel F. Miller; was unanimously confirmed December 29, and took the oath of office January 5, 1891; received the degree of LL. D. from the University of Michigan in 1887, and from Yale University in 1891.
