Announcements

The Research Bazaar (ResBaz) returns to OU October 5-6. ResBaz is a worldwide festival promoting the digital literacy emerging at the center of modern research. The aim of this event is to equip researchers from all career stages with the digital skills and tools to do their research better, faster and smarter. This year's schedule includes an Introduction to iViz: Data Analysis in Virtual Reality and using Zotero, a free, simple and flexible citation management tool, among other offerings.

Center for Open Science Workshop

Please join us for a hands-on workshop, hosted by the Center for Open Science, to learn easy, practical steps researchers can take to increase the openness and reproducibility of their work. Attendees will actively participate in creating a reproducible project from start to finish.

The workshop is on October 11, 9:00 am-12:00 pm in LL123 in Bizzell. Please RSVP.
