COMMENTS FROM THE PRESIDENT

Congratulations University of Central Oklahoma graduates!

Commencement is always a joyous milestone, not only for you the graduating students, but also for your families and friends, your teachers and all who have nurtured, mentored and cherished you. Your Central diploma will provide endless opportunities for professional and personal growth, and you should be very proud of your success.

This is a day for all to recognize what you have achieved. The years of commitment, the long nights of study, the sacrifices and encouragement from those close to you — all these things make possible the symbols of achievement that we proudly give today.

As you receive your diploma, it is important to know that you have been provided an education that goes beyond preparing you for your chosen field. You have been given transformative experiences that will help you become productive, creative, ethical and engaged citizens and leaders, contributing to the intellectual, cultural, economic and social advancement of the communities you serve.

Your transformational journey at Central has been guided by our core values of Character, Civility and Community. You have been equipped to take leadership roles, centered on learning and focused by integrity, stewardship and service. You have learned to solve problems through research, and scholarly and creative activities. You have been prepared for involvement in public life, ethical reasoning and lifelong learning. You have learned to communicate effectively in a complex world, to function in diverse environments and to adapt to the continuously changing global society. You have learned that health and wellness are central to living a full life, with vitality and meaning.

Your future choices will produce strong personal lives that will give you a base for contributing to the community.

It is my sincere hope that you will take all that you have learned here at Central to help build a better world. I would like to thank you for the contributions you have made to our campus, and I want you to know that we will always cherish the time we had together.

I hope that you feel UCO has served you well, and that you will join us as loyal alumni in making our wonderful campus strong in its commitment to our mission. Our highest hopes and affectionate pride go with you.

A TRIBUTE TO PRESIDENT W. ROGER WEBB

The University of Central Oklahoma community salutes W. Roger Webb, our university president since 1997, who is retiring in June.

In his 14 years as UCO's president, the Central campus has witnessed monumental positive changes, resulting in a better place, a stronger education and a more promising future for our graduates, our current students and the ones who follow.

Today, thanks to President Webb, we see ourselves differently. The world sees us differently. Students who arrive at Central have more confidence, a clarity about why they are here and the challenges before them, an excitement about being here. Our graduates have more pride in the degree they receive and the institution they are leaving.

From academic and program development to the beautification projects to new construction to sustainability efforts to record enrollment numbers and so much more, Central has grown into a major metropolitan university during President Webb's years, and for that we all can be grateful. He has been our cheerleader, our defender, our mentor, and often the person who has challenged us to think differently about what we do and how we do it.

The Chronicle for Higher Education, accrediting bodies, government agencies and a long list of influential individuals and groups have all recognized our accomplishments, awarded our endeavors and frequently acknowledged the work of our leader.

During his time here, Central has awarded 35,387 degrees, including those being conferred today. These degree numbers represent students whose lives have been made better because of the education they received and an educational experience made stronger because of the leadership of President Webb.

The great news is that the work he has done, the climate and campus he has created, represent something lasting, not because of bricks and mortar, but because of how we feel about ourselves.

We salute President Webb for being the engineer who has designed our unique road. Now, all of us, including our Spring 2011 graduates, only need follow it.

For all you have done, we thank you President Webb.

SYMBOLS OF AUTHORITY

THE MACE

Among ancient orders, the mace was a heavy staff or club made of wood and metal that was borne by, carried before or placed near a magistrate or other dignitary as an ensign of authority. Central's Industrial Arts students and faculty constructed the university's mace. It is approximately 25 inches in length.

Near its top is a miniature of Old North encompassed within a bronze crown. Thirteen pieces of solid walnut wood make up the majority of the mace. Old North is in pecan. The base on which the bronze medallion sits is rosewood. A bronze band encircling the mace is inscribed "University of Central Oklahoma."

THE MEDALLION

Beginning with the Spring 2008 commencement, UCO began using a new medallion. Designed and fabricated by Charleen D. Weidell, M.F.A., chair of the UCO Art Department, it was created as a lightweight piece for easy wearing with a contemporary, minimalist style. Sterling silver and gold overlay were used to create 18 pieces of hollow jewelry, each representing significant parts of the university and the educational experience. Blue sapphires and yellow cubic zirconia accent stones represent UCO's Bronze and Blue.

The focal point is the center piece designed to symbolize hands cupped around the flame of knowledge, being carefully passed one to another. Resting on the shoulders of the wearer are pieces representing wings, reminding that victory over ignorance and prejudice is fleeting, always in need of sustained effort. The wings also represent a desire for a guardian angel to protect the wearer as well as the event and tradition.

THE TRADITION OF ACADEMIC DRESS

The precise origins of the several parts of academic dress still remain a matter of conjecture. The unheated buildings which medieval scholars frequented may have necessitated the wearing of gowns for comfort's sake. The gowns and the hoods were common at British universities before the 14th century; the square cap is thought to be a 16th century import from the University of Paris. European universities continue to use a wide variety in the cut and color of gowns and the type of headdress worn.

Academic attire began to appear quite generally on United States campuses in the late 1890s. Since that time, its use has become universal for solemn university functions, and its pattern highly uniform. From the color and size of the American academic attire, one may determine the institution from which the wearer received the degree and the degree earned.

THE CAP

The mortarboard has become the universally accepted style in United States colleges and universities. The standard tassel worn by faculty is black. However those with doctorate degrees may wear a gold tassel. Candidates for degrees have colored tassels, which identify the student's college as follows:

Business Administration	Drab
Education & Professional Studies	Light Blue
Fine Arts & Design ...	Chocolate Brown
Liberal Arts	Kelly Green
Mathematics & Science.....	Golden Yellow
Graduate	Bronze and Blue
Associate	Gray

THE GOWN

The bachelor's gown has a long, pleated front with shirring across the shoulders and back. The flowing sleeves are pointed at the fingertip and are almost knee length.

The master's degree gown has oblong sleeves, reaching well below the knees. The sleeves are cut so that the forearm comes through a slit just above the elbow.

The doctor's gown has broad, velvet panels down the front, and three velvet bars on full, round sleeves. This velvet trimming may be either black or a color distinctive of the degree.

The associate degree gown is the same style as a bachelor's, but dark gray.

THE HOOD

The Master's Hooding Ceremony focuses on advanced degree candidates and their accomplishments, while adding visual meaning. The color of the hood's silk lining represents university colors, which for Central is Bronze and Blue. The color of the hood's velvet border represents the field of learning, such as light blue for Education or golden yellow for Science.

THE COLORS

The fields of learning identified by the color of the velvet panels and sleeve bars on the gown or the edging of the hood include the following:

Arts and Letters.....	White
Business.....	Drab
Education.....	Light Blue
Engineering.....	Orange
Fine Arts	Brown
Law	Purple
Medicine	Green
Music	Pink
Nursing.....	Apricot
Philosophy	Dark Blue
Physical Education	Sage Yellow
Science	Golden Yellow
Social Science.....	Citron
Theology.....	Scarlet

CLASS MARSHALS - SPRING 2011

For commencement, each of the University of Central Oklahoma's five undergraduate colleges award a student the title of Class Marshal. These five students have the highest grade-point averages and number of Central credit hours in their respective colleges.

Each honoree receives a Class Marshal stole, signifying the highest degree of academic excellence. First presented in 1994, the stoles have become a UCO tradition, now enhanced by a bronze Class Marshal graduation gown.

The following are the Class Marshals for the Spring 2011 Commencement.

Mahala Renee Bittman is an Accounting major with a 3.97 grade point in the College of Business Administration. From Oklahoma City, she was named the 2009-10 Outstanding Accounting Student by the Oklahoma Society of CPAs. On the President's Honor Roll for seven semesters, she twice received the BKD, LLP Scholarship, funded by the national accounting firm BKD, LLP. She has been a member of the Alpha Chi Honor Society, the Accounting Club and Central S.T.A.F., and she has worked in the accounting department of First American Bank while in college. She plans to pursue a master's in business administration and to become a CPA.

Kara Nicole Bookout is an English major with a 4.0 grade point in the College of Liberal Arts. From Blackwell, she received the UCO Transfer and the English Waiver scholarships. She has been a member of Alpha Chi Honor Society, on the President's Honor Roll and, for the last two years, a student worker in the UCO bursar's office. She hopes to work as a book editor and have a family.

Sherri Drwenski is an Elementary Education major with a 4.0 grade point in the College of Education and Professional Studies. She and her husband, Gregory, have three children and live in Oklahoma City. She has been a member of Kappa Delta Pi Honor Society, Alpha Chi Honor Society and the Association for Childhood Education International. On the President's Honor Roll, she is a member of the first cohort/scholarship class for UCO's Urban Teacher Preparation Academy. She plans to teach elementary education at an urban school.

Emerald Lessley McBride is a Vocal Performance major with a 3.9 grade point in the College of Fine Arts and Design. From Edmond, she has been a member of Pi Kappa Lambda and a recipient of the UCO Choral and UCO Foundation scholarships. She has been on the President's Honor Roll. She plans to pursue a master's degree, then doctorate, with plans to teach at the college level, becoming "wildly famous" in the process.

Ethan B. Rowell is a Biology major with a 4.0 grade point in the College of Mathematics and Science. From Ninnekah, he has been a member of the Biology Club, the Alpha Chi Honor Society and the UCO Commons Hall Council, while having membership in the Texas Society of Mammalogists and the Southwestern Association of Naturalists. He was named a Oklahoma Louis Stokes Alliance for Minority Participation (OK-LSAMP) Scholar. Future plans include pursuing a master's at UCO.

THE HISTORY OF THE UNIVERSITY OF CENTRAL OKLAHOMA

The University of Central Oklahoma was first known as the Territorial Normal School, created by the Oklahoma Territorial legislature in December 1890 to educate teachers for the one-room school houses being built across the growing territory.

Central's first students met in Edmond's First Methodist Church. In 1892, construction began on the school's first building, Old North Tower, still standing today. Over the next century, more buildings would be added, moved, torn down or rebuilt. Grass would give construction added the Wellness Center, University Suites, the UCO Forensic Science Institute and the Center for Transformative Learning. The UCO Jazz Lab hosts world-renowned musicians on its stage and is consistently voted as a favorite venue in the Oklahoma City metro. The Academy of Contemporary Music, which opened in 2009, further solidified Central as an innovator in higher education.

Today, Central is enjoying a record enrollment of more than 17,000 students who are taking advantage of an opportunity-rich learning experience that includes 114 undergraduate and 54 graduate programs and 200-plus student organizations, along with unique partnerships like the university's designation as an official U.S. Olympic and Paralympic Training Site.

With award-winning sustainability efforts and beautification, students also enjoy an appealing campus that mirrors the quality of their education.

Using its core values of Character, Community and Civility, Central continues to cultivate creativity and innovation in every corner of campus, with a commitment to preparing future leaders through faculty and staff committed to transforming lives.

For more than 100 years, developing leaders for Oklahoma and the nation has been Central's bedrock mission.

From a territorial school of 23 students to more than 17,000 today, UCO has gone through many stages of development with more than 110,000 graduates. Now Oklahoma's third largest state university, UCO has six colleges, including the Jackson College of Graduate Studies.

way to parking lots for the huge commuter population of the '70s and '80s. Now grass grows over what used to be parking lots as the university has evolved into a beautifully landscaped campus meeting the needs of those seeking a traditional campus atmosphere while still serving the needs of the non-traditional student.

Central's evolution continues in the new century. Since 2000, new campus

STAR-SPANGLED BANNER

O say, can you see, by the dawn's early light,
 What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming.
 Whose broad stripes and bright stars, through the perilous fight,
 O'er the ramparts we watched were so gallantly streaming?
 And the rocket's red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
 Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there;
 O say, does that Star-spangled Banner yet wave
 O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?
