

UNIVERSITY OF CENTRAL OKLAHOMA

A territorial teacher's college. A bustling commuter campus. Oklahoma's third largest university. The University of Central Oklahoma has experienced many transformations over the past 125 years. Some, like our institution's name changes, are obvious. Others are subtle, like the spark on a student's face when he or she connects with the right major or makes a new friend. Each transformation has put Central on a path to become the state's leading metropolitan university, using our connection to the thriving Oklahoma City metro to offer better opportunities to our students and the community.

Our founders didn't know how the surrounding community would evolve. They simply knew that education would matter. Likewise, we can't know for sure what the future will bring. But the personal experience, strong connections, and innovative spirit you'll find at Central ensure you're confident and ready for whatever comes next.

- Top ranked public regional university in Oklahoma by U.S. News and World Report
- Professor to student ratio – 19:1
- Show future employers what you learned outside the classroom with Central's Student Transformative Learning Record (STLR).

Central opportunity

From our 117 academic majors and 200+ student organizations to our NCAA Division II athletic teams and intramural sports, Central offers you an opportunity-rich environment that allows you to learn inside and outside the classroom. Your first week on campus, you'll find opportunities to connect with students through FORGE, New Broncho Orientation and Stampede Week activities. Here, you will begin to create relationships and make friends who will help make your Central experience unforgettable and continue as a valuable network after you graduate and start your career. You can further connect by joining an organization or two – or starting your own, if you like – leading to limitless opportunities to make a lasting impact on your campus...and on your development as a leader.

As Oklahoma's metropolitan university, Central is the right location for your success. You get the best of both worlds – the “small town” feel of Edmond, with the big city excitement of the Oklahoma City metro. Our location is key to your educational experience. Both Edmond and OKC are booming, meaning Central connects you to hundreds of internship and job opportunities, as well as off campus dining, recreation and entertainment options. You might even take a class at the ACM@UCO in Bricktown or UCO Downtown, or go to an event at our new CHK-Central Boathouse on the Oklahoma River. Plus, both communities consistently rank nationally among the safest, affordable and economically viable places to live.

From Central, you can see the world – either across the ocean or right outside your residence hall door. Through our Centre for Global Competency, our students can study abroad for a semester at a sister institution, go on a short study tour, or participate in an international internship. The CGC also offers cultural programs on campus, like Broncho Buddies, which pairs domestic UCO students with an international student to attend events and activities throughout the year. You can also get involved in an on-campus event or organization that connects you to the many cultures of Central. You can even build your resume by earning a Global Competency Certificate!
