OFFICE OF THE PRINCIPAL

January 29, 1943

Dear Uncle Sam:

Last September you wrote us a letter and asked our help. There were many things, you said, that boys and girls our age could do to helpuus win the war--so you designated the period from September 25, 1942 to January 7, 1943 as the "Schools At War Program"

Well, Uncle Sam, we've honestly tried to do our part and more. There are twelve-hundredfifty students here at Harding and each one has become actively interested in one or more of our many projects. This scrap book we are sending you is a compilation of all the dayto-day things we have been doing in our effort to help you out of the jam you're in. This is our way of letting you know that we're still on your side and that we think you're "Worth-Getting In The Scrap For".

Sincerely,

The Harding Students

P.S.: The only things we want for our efforts are Liberty and a Liberty Brick!

State Education Chairman of War Bonds.

We are confident that your school will make a fine contribution to the war effort through the execution of this program. We of the state War Savings Staff offer you our full cooperation at all times.

Yours for Victory,

SUBJECT: "SCHOOLS AT WAR" PROGRAM AND CITATION

Receipt is acknowledged of your entry card for participation in the "Schools At War" Program informing us that your school plans to qualify for the Treasury Citation for service to the war effort by submitting by January 7, 1943, a Scrapbook recording your school's war activities.

We are very happy that the schools in Oklahoma are making such a generous, whole-hearted response to this all-important War Activity, and are confident that the teachers and school children will achieve an even better record the ensuing school year in this vital war effort than they did last year.

You already know of the importance of the success of this national patriotic promotion within the schools of our Country. Your first kit of material containing a definite plan of action for this program has been received by your school. You will receive other material from time to time, so please build a special file for reference.

Although the results you obtain in this program will depend largely upon your own initiative and enterprise, we urge that you get in touch with your district chairman of the War Bond committee on Education or your nearest member of this special district committee for further aid. Mr. Paul R. Taylor, Supt. of Schools, El Reno, is State Education Chairman of War Bonds.

We are confident that your school will make a fine contribution to the war effort through the execution of this program. We of the state War Savings Staff offer you our full cooperation at all times.

Yours for Victory,

Who will be Harding's first Victory Queen? You can elect her by bringing your scrap to Harding and casting your votes for your favorite candidate -- ten votes for every pound of scrap. You will have to work fast if you want to keep your candidate in the race. All but nine will be eliminated Saturday.

Hooray for Harding! When Harding students do anything, they do it well. The first week of the Victory Scrap Drive has been a huge success. But remember--we have just reached the half-way mark. There is still one week to go. Now we have three goals to work for. First, to elect our Victory Queen; second, to see whether the seventh, the eighth, or the ninth grade will bring in the most scrap and win the grade prize; third, to help Harding win the prize for collecting the most scrap of any school in the state, the county, or the city. Keep the scrap pile growing! HARDING JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

VICTORY SCRAP DRIVE

It ain't the guns nor armament Nor the funds that they can pay But close cooperation That makes 'em win the day. It ain't the individual Nor the army as a whole But the everlastin' teamwork Of every bloomin' soul !

That's what we need now--the everlastin' teamwork of every loyal Harding student. Now isthe time to come to the aid of your Country and your School. A nationwide scrap drive is on. We at Harding want to win that drive, for our Country needs the scrap and Harding needs the prize money. The contest is on. Let's go. We can't let either of them down!

VICTORY QUEEN

No contest would be complete without a queen and her attendants to spur us on 'to victory and to preside over the festivities attending the victory. The queen will be crowned with elaborate ceremony at a special assemble in the auditorium on Friday, October 23 when a special stage show will be presented in her honor.

METHOD OF ELECTING THE VICTORY QUEEN

1. Any Harding girl is eligible to be a candidate for this honor.

2. On Friday, Oct. 2, during sixth hour, each Home Room will select one candidate for Victory queen. Send names to Miss Marsh by 2:25:

3. All candidates will be voted on during the week of Oct. 5--10 by the donation of scrap to the Harding Victory Scrap Drive at the rate of 10 votes for each pound of scrap donated. Students bringing scrap will be given a ballot on which they may east their votes for any candidate for queen. Students may vote as often as they bring scrap for the drive. Thus there is no limit to the number of times a student may vote.

4. On Saturday October 10, at 12 o'clock noon, the prelinery contest will end. At that time the 3 candidates from the ninth grade, the 3 from the eighth grade, and the 5 from the seventh grade having the highest number of votes at that time will continue as candidates for the second week of the contest. All others will be eliminated.

5. These final 9 candidates (3 from each grade) will continue to be voted on during the week of October 12 to 17 in the same manner as before, ten votes for each pound of scrap brought during the second week of the drive.

6. On Saturday October 17 at 12 o'clock noon the Victory Queen contest will end. The candidate having the highest number of votes at that time will become Victory Queen and the others will be her attendants.

PRIZES AND AWARDS

L. A total of the amount of scrap donated by each grade will be kept and a grand prize will be given to the grade (7th,8th, or 9th) that donates the greatest amount of scrap.

2. At the coronation of the queen, names will be drawn by lot, and individual prizes will be awarded the lucky students.

3. A state prize of a $500 war Bond will be awarded thesehool that delivers the greatest total poundage of scrap metal or rubber. (We want to win that $500! But remember: We will be competing with schools all over the state of Oklahoma.)

Here is a school-by-school list of scrap totals credited to schools in the city's scrap contest. The list was compiled by school district officials from official receipts credited to schools.

School officials will turn the list and receipts to the scrap campaign committee who will pick winners. It appeared some schools were credited with industrial scrap, and contest authorities have said any such scrap would be disallowed for schools. The list list:

Patrol Takes Care Of Life, Property Bad Weather Or Bombs

Don't Frighten Them

The Honor patrol at Harding is capable of handling most any situation which concerns the safety of persons or their property. Their most important duties are directing traffic around school, morning and evening in bad weather; helping in the auditorium during assemblies; and watching over bicycles and scooters in the court.

At time of fire drills and air raid drills, they are in charge of fire extinguishers. It's not all work and no play because they are admitted free to the Friday night shows in the auditorium.

According to Mr. Jones, sponsor of the patrol, only boys are members this year. Mr. Taylor believed that the boys could withstand the hardships of the assignments better than girls.

Clyde Ingle is captain, and Dave Helmey and Clarel Trosper are lieutenants. Members are Billy Graham, Claude Richards, Albert Riley, Roger Thorp, Walter Scrutchins, John King, Donald Boggs, John Cantrell, Harlan Holiner, Charles Hessmer, Jack Wilson, Emmett Rogers, and John Loucks .-- C. Speech students of Miss Pottorff and Miss Downing are aiding this drive by giving plays during activity period stressing the buying of War Stamps and Bonds.

The art department is doing its part in the war effort, too. Miss Bickell's 7B art classes are making articles for the soldiers. One of their projects was paper hats with an original design, to be used for a Hallowe'en party held by the soldiers. Their present assignment is the making of 75 menu covers.

All of the art classes are making Christmas cards and posters. These will be sent to the Red Cross headquarters where they will be distributed to various camps throughout the nation.

In the recent Red Cross drive, Harding showed its patriotism by giving more than a 100%. The result was $118.78. A basketball (See Defense, Page 4) game was held November 10, to raise money for the same cause. During the intermission between "halves," Miss Arndt's drill team performed.

Harding also filled 26 small boxes with new articles for Christmas presents for children of Europe. Last year, Harding filled more than 200 boxes, but this year, because of the smaller shipping space, Harding was allowed only 26.

Mr. Jones and Mr. Wilkins have joined the war effort also. Mr. Jones is training to be an army instructor in Lincoln, Nebraska. Mr. Wilkins is working in the statistic department at the Oklahoma Air Depot. A few days before Mr. Wilkins left, he received his license to teach ground navigation and aerial radio.

A stage show of Harding talent is in the making. The show will be presented for the soldiers at Will Rogers Field. The acting will be under the direction of Miss Pottorff, and Mr. Stone will take charge of the music. Mary Frances Wiseman got the idea for the show from the Quiz Kids.

Miss Pottorff has started a victory theater to aid the buying of war bonds and stamps. The admission to the theater is a ten cent defense stamp bought at the door. The eighth grade put on the first Victory play. They collected $7.20 for the first performance. These plays are presented during homeroom period in room 314.

A different play will be presented after each home room has seen the first one.

As proof of Harding's students' patriotism, the school is richer by a $75 War Bond, which was the second prize in the recent Scrap Drive.

CONGRATULATIONS!

With this letter we extend to you and your associates the heartiest congratulations of the Oklahoma Press Association for your outstanding achievement in the recent newspaper-sponsored scrap drive. Enclosed is your reward -- a check with which to purchase your U. S. War Savings Bond, in accordance with the rules of the contest.

You are being sent a check rather than the bond itself in order that you may purchase the bond locally to apply on your county's bond quota, and in order that the bond may be registered in the name of the proper organization or individual.

Within a short time you will receive a certificate of honor which you may display as evidence of your participation and achievement in this drive.

The Red Cross Council which meets weekly is composed of representatives from each home room. Here, all projects are discussed and planned, and the representatives are instructed in means of presenting these projects to their classmates.

Most Junior Red Cross work has been worked into departmental curriculum, but occasionally there is a school-wide project which the Council handles.

This year Harding filled twenty-six gift boxes to be sent to children in England.

In the Junior Red Cross roll call Harding's 1,172 students raised $118.78. This sum was collected through contributions made by individual students who in turn received membership cards, and was augmented by the receipts from a Benefit Basketball game sponsored by the Physical Education Department featuring a special program presented by the girl's drill team during the half of the game.

A Red Cross membership drive will be conducted at Harding the week of November 9 to 15. The roll call will be handled through home rooms. RED CROSS

The American Junior Red Cross Chapter of Harding Junior High School has undertaken as its Christmas project, to supply 170 Christmas stockings each filled with candy, nuts, an apple, an orange and an attractively wrapped small gift for the men in the Station Hospital at Fort Sill, Oklahoma. In addition to this each child who is able will bring a wrapped gift for a soldier. These also will be distributed at the hospital. One room is having a Christmas party at which time these gifts will be placed around a small tree instead of the usual exchange of gifts among students.

KNITTING CLUB

The Knitting Club has as its chief goal knitting for the Red Cross. At the beginning of the semester instruction and demonstrations were given in casting on, knitting, and taking off. As soon as a girl was ready to knit some yarn was furnished her to make a six inch square. Accuracy of size was stressed. Girls learned that the size of the yarn and of the needles used determined the number of stitched needed to make six inches. After the first square, girls donated their yarn to make more. To date a few over 100 squares have been completed and are now being sewn together into an afghan for the Red Cross to give to a hospital. Thus some of these girls' leisure time has been directed to a worthwhile contribution to the war effort.

CLIPPING COUPONS

Rationing has been defined by some wag as getting less and less of more and more oftener and oftener. But though we joke about the procedure and bewail the results, it's a big job that has to be done and the nations school teachers are doing it.

Uncle Sam's School Marms cut their teeth on the Sugar Rationing tangles last spring, so they were prepared for the hectic days of rationing gasoline. They were pretty insistent on all paper being exactly in order, but after all questions were settled they became extremely generous and gave every customer a smile and an "A" Book. The registering lasted for three hectic days, but due to the superior stamina of the race, all teachers reported to their classrooms the next morning. There are current rumors that Canned Goods Rationing will be their next assignment and if so, you'll see that Harding teachers will not be caught in a bottle-neck.

Students Express Opinions

Are We Americans?

We, in this great land of freedom and democracy, do not realize now, and will never realize until the horror and destruction of war has struck our own great country, the many privileges which are ours to enjoy. In all the tragedy of this world conflict, we as Americans, can still enjoy the freedoms of, rights, liberties, and the pursuit of happiness, among other things much too numerous to mention.

We call ourselves Americans, but, are we really true Americans? If we are really good and true Americans, we will do everything in our country. If it is necessary, we will make many sacrifices; we will remember that even the walls have ears, and the enemy is always listening for news that would be of any help to the Axis powers.

If we are faithful Americans, we will always be faithful to our America, never forgetting that Uncle Sam has no worthy use for a We will never complain about rationing, higher prices, or such traitor. trivial things as that, when people in foreign countries are starving by the thousands, every day. To be really true, we must, whenever possible do something for our America. Last, but not least, we must never forget what a great blessing it is to be an American, in America. -E. B.

HARDING LIBRARY KEEPS US ABREAST

OF THE TIMES

The students find answers to many of their questions about the war in the current magazines which are found in the Library. They are always eager to see Popular Mechanics and Model Airplane News for information about planes; Newsweek, Christian Science Monitor Magazine, Reader's Digest and Scholastic give them current topics; Travel and National Geographic describe places in today's headlines.

The dictionary and atlas are also in constant demand to find the meaning of new terms and to locate new place names.

SCIENCE AND THE WAR

In keeping with war aims, the Science Club this year changed its regular type of program and embarked upon a pre-flight training course. The club meets one period weekly. Each member subscribes to a weekly publication called "Current Aviation" which is discussed each week. Although one period a week is not much time to spend upon such an important subject as preflight training, yet it is surprising how much technical knowledge has been acquired in aerodynamics, aireraft structure; meteorology, navigation, and engine construction.

Nutrition contests could not be conducted if eating habits were never taken off of their summer schedule, but evidently they have been changed because reports from the cafeteria are that students are eating the right kind of food. —N. K.

VITAMINS FOR VICTORY

Keeping in step with national trends is one of the many aims of Harding Junior High School. We have been alert to the nutritional needs of the "Youth of Today" , and have tried to stimulate interest in better food selection by a "Better Lunch" campaign, which was started early in 1942.

Educational posters, showing the food requirements for each day have been placed in each home room and near the entrance of the cafteteria. Frequently, food models, made of card board have been arranged in the front hall show case, showing attractive, well balanced meals for the day.

Our "A" lunch judging program is a vital part of the nutritional program. Boys and girls have been trained as "Lunch Judges." Our standards for "A" lunches include:

- 1. Fruit, fruit drink or tomatoes 2. Fresh green, yellow, or leafy w
- Fresh green, yellow, or leafy vegetable
 Milk, milk drink or two foods made with milk.
- 4. Something hot

All four of these are graded as "A" and count four points toward winning the contest, any three of them, "B", any two, "C", and only one is a "D" lunch.

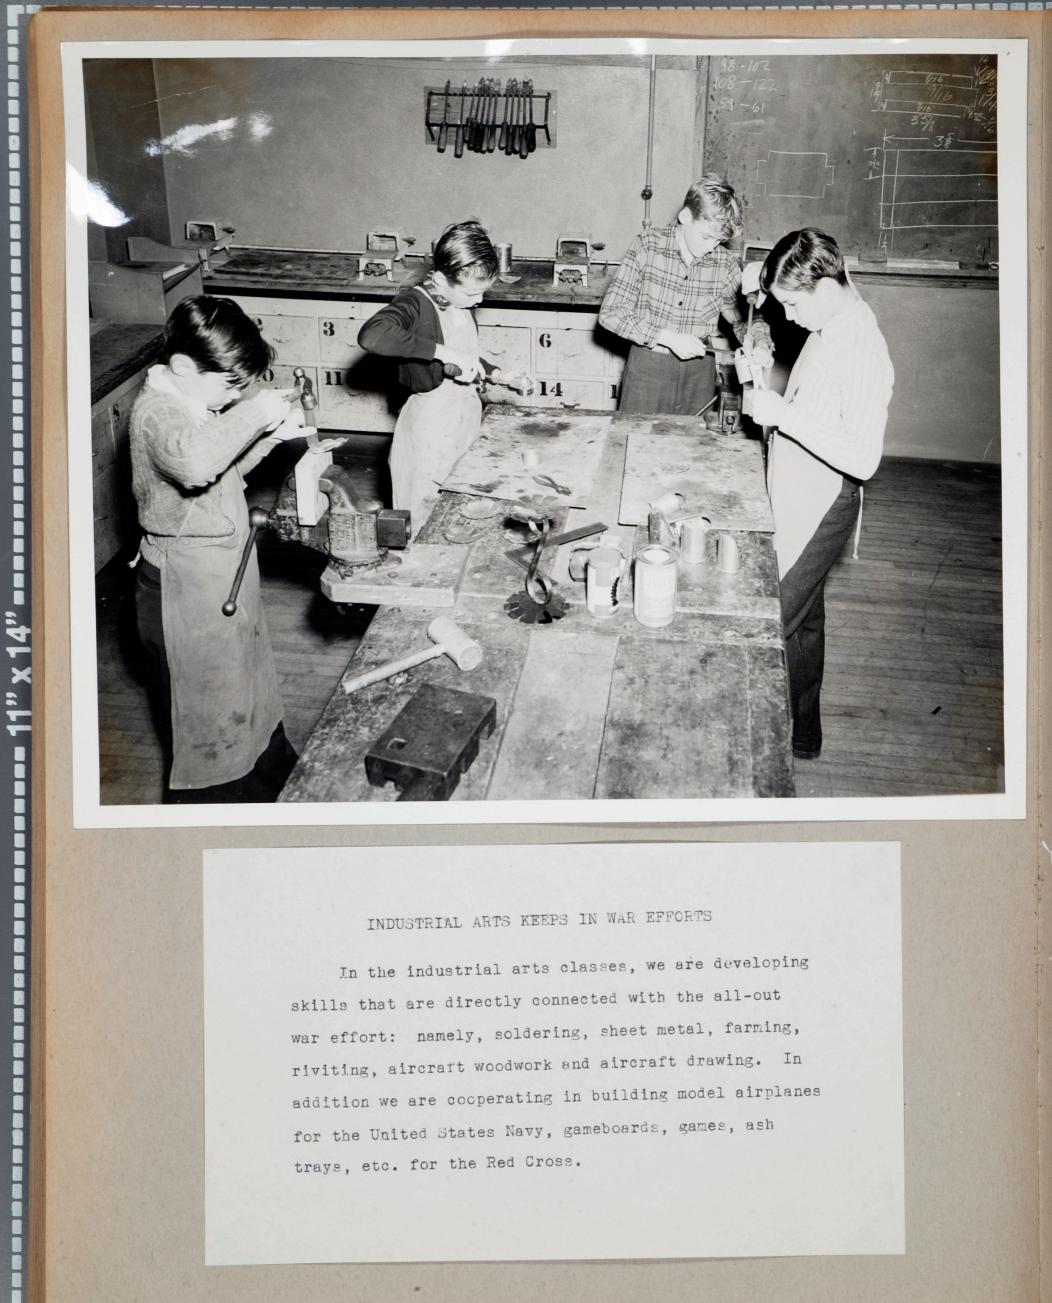

Our contests, sometimes between home rooms, or be-tween seventh, eighth, and ninth grades usually last for nine weeks, at the end of which the winners are rewarded in various ways.

Lunch judges have small mimeographed colored papers which they place on the students trays as they finish selecting food in the cafeteria. Each student then writes his Home Room number on the slip and deposits the slip in a box.

Blue slips are used for "A", pink for "B", orange for "C", and green for "D". The various colors aid the tabulators to sort and add the scores more rapidly.

What has been the result of our campaign? There has been a marked increase in the sale of fruits, vegetables, and milk, however, our children still eat too many starchy foods.

After school, large delicious red apples are now sold instead of candies, too satisfy the children's desire for the mid-afternoon snack, and the apples are proving to be very popular food.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS KEEPS IN WAR EFFORTS

In the industrial arts classes, we are developing skills that are directly connected with the all-out war effort: namely, soldering, sheet metal, farming, riviting, aircraft woodwork and aircraft drawing. In addition we are cooperating in building model airplanes for the United States Navy, gameboards, games, ash trays, etc. for the Red Cross.

CONTRIBUTION OF THE SPANISH DEPARTMENT

TO THE

SCHOOLS AT WAR PROGRAM

The contribution of the Spanish Department to the schools at War Program is one of development of understanding and friendliness toward our allies south of the Rio Grande. Much of the reading material of regular lessons and also the subject matter of extra activities such as auditorium programs concern the life of our Spanish American neighbors. We learn not only their language habits, but also their home life and customs, their products and industries. The interdependence of the United States and these other Americas is readily seen. This shows the wisdom of learning each other's language for the increasing communications, both political and industrial, of the future.

THE TYPEWRITING DEPARTMENT HELPS WIN THE WAR

The typewriting department has become a very essential department of our schools and no department has done more to promote the war effort than has this one.

Besides being a popular course because of the fact that the typewriter is found in so many homes and helps make school work easier, it has proven a very necessary department in helping other departments carry on their work better. Our students do much of the typing for our school paper before the material is sent to the printers. When the office has been short of secretarial help because of our secretaries going into war work, our typewriting students have been able to do some of the work there. Some of our students have been helping their dads who were cut short of typists when the war offices began calling for more secretaries. They work for them on Saturdays and in the evening.

This department has given up some of its typewriters to the government and expects to give up more if necessary. To off-set this shortage the students take turns using the machines and if they get behind in their work, they stay after school hours to make it up. By concentrating on the essentials and wasting no time, this department hopes to keep up a high standard of work and at the same time help the war effort.

September 30th, the typing department was deprived by the government of five typewriters. Miss Chadwick said she knew that they would have to be taken. The students are doubling up and taking turns at the machines.—J. M.

Christmas Carols Boost Holiday Spirit Three Departments Help In Assembly

Barbara Enlow and Jimmy Wagner were featured soloists in the Christmas assembly arranged and presented December 10 by the music, art, and speech departments. Mr. Athel Stone, Miss Martha Downing, and Mrs. Ila Zoe Bickell were in charge of the program. The advanced chorus sang Christmas carols against a background of stained glass windows. "O Holy Night" and "The Virgin Slumber Song" were sung by the soloists.

Miss Downing directed the verse chorus, which was composed of 8A's and 7A's. Narrators were Carol Clough and Mary Ruth Clift. The voice of Mary was that of Barbara Elliot. Others portraying Bibical characters behind the curtain were Don Harris, Fred Baker, Jack Moore, Dee Sadler, Eddie Litman. Others were Kent Duncan, Wiliam Price, Cobby Burnside, Jeanie Oldham, and Joanne Harris.

The stained glass windows will be used as settings for an art assembly next year. The illusion curtain was bought with money from the activity fund.—N. K.

This week, as we commemorate the Armistice of the last war and look hopefully forward to the peace which lies ahead of the present one, it is fitting that we trace the history of our country's conflicts through the songs that spurred it on to Victory.

Our early American ancestors, the American Indian, had songs for every occasion, but it was their War Chant and Dance that inspired and incited them to Victory over their enemies. We hear a Kiowa Indian War Song. Chorus: Indian Song

In our Colonial America there were few composers and little time for Music and Art, but the English Colonists brought many airs from their native England. The most popular song with the soldiers of Washington's Army was Yankee Doodle. It was a very old air, one of the most universal folk tunes of the world, and it is to be found in many of the European countries. It was very widely used in England in the early 18th Century. It is said that it was first introduced to America by a jokeloving English Doctor, who made up these words as a satire on the poor equipment and appearance of the Continental Army when it marched into Albany in the year 1775. Intended as a joke, it became one in Truth, for the "Yankee Doodle" soldiers liked the tune so well that they took it as their own, and it was to this air that General Burgoyne laid down his sword at the Battle of Saratoga. Some say that Yankee Doodle was played while General Cornwallis surrendered at Yorktown. alod as being a perfect setting of Yankee Doodle which was still ringing in his ears.

Since they could no longer sing the verses of God Save the King, it was but natural that attempts should have been made to write verses for the old air which the Colonists had sung for so long. An American setting entitled "God Save George Washington" attained much popularity. But it was not until 1832 that the words we sing as "America" were written. The author of our present song was the Reverend Samuel Francis Smith of Boston, who wrote them for a Children's Fourth of July Celebration in Boston, 1832.

America

The War of 1812 was a war of the sea, and naturally songs about the sea became the popular songs of America in the period immediately following the war. Chorus: Over There Americans sang the sea songs of England, as well as those that were written in America. During this period there developed on the sailing vessels of both lands a type of song which is known as the Chanty. The sailors sang as they pulled the ropes for raising and lowering the sails, and too, of the wives and families they left ashore. We hear a toast to "Nancy Lee", the Sailor's wife, who watched daily for his return.

Chorus: The Army Air Corps Song Chorus: Nancy Lee

left the story, well authenticated, of how the officers on the English boat entertained the two Americans and of how they sang together the old drinking song, "To Anacreon in Heav'n" during the evening. The commander refused to allow the Americans to return to Baltimore because of the attack on Ft. McHenry, which he was planning, so during the old night Key watched the bombardment, hoping and dreading. It was natural, therefore, that the words of this song should have come into his mind as being a perfect setting of the old tune which was still ringing in his ears. "To Anacreon in Heav'n" had been a popular song in Colonial days in American and many attempts had been made to set words to this tune, but as "The Star-Spangled Banner" it lives today--the national anthem of America. Since they could no longer sing the verses of God Save the King, it was but natural that attempts should have been made to write verses for the old air which the Colonists had sung for so long. SAYING IT WITH MUSIC

The Harding Concert Band composed of 75 boys and girls attractively uniformed in green and white have contributed their patriotic bit on many occasions throughout the school year.

A program of patriotic numbers was presented at the opening Harding Parent-Teacher Association meeting in the early fall.

On November eleventh the band marched and played in the city-wide Armistice Day parade.

On January eleventh the Harding Band was honored by having been selected as the only school band to play at the inauguration of Oklahomas' new governor, Robert S. Kerr.

Drummers, buglers, and color bearers from the band are the chief performers in the presentation of the Colors and the Flag salute ceremonies.

The Harding Band, Orchestra and solists from these groups under the direction of Mr. Parham at various school functions and activities. Wherever music is needed they are always ready to "strike up the band."

Harding's 80 piece band directed by Mr. E. V. Parham, played at the inauguration of Robert S. Kerr, new state governor, on January 11.

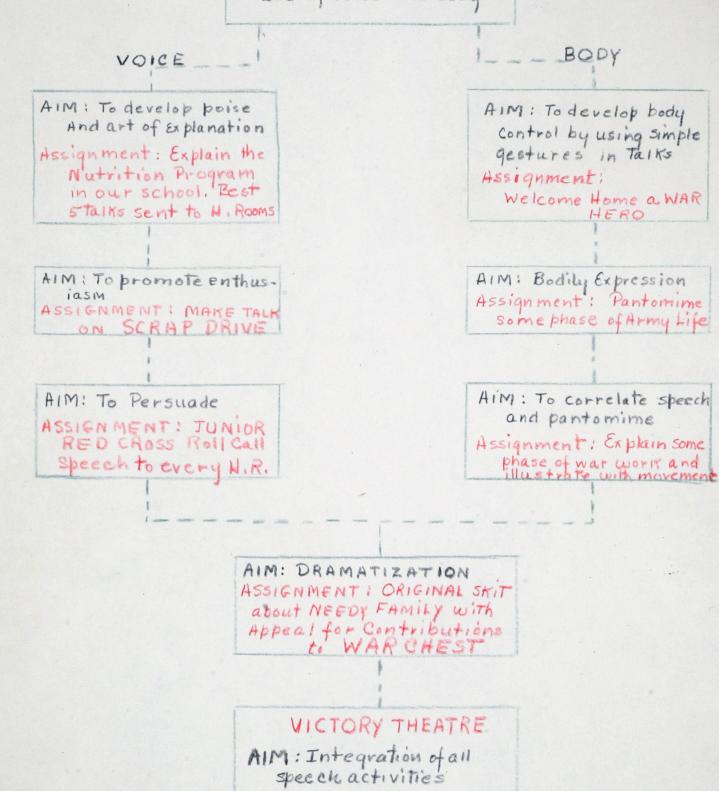

At 11 a. m. they played a 15 minute concert of marches and at noon they played the "Star Spangled Banner," which was sung by Sergeant Gunn of the Will Rogers Air Base of the City. After the playing of the national anthem, Governor Kerr appeared for his inauguration and oath of office which was followed by his inaugural acceptance address.

This event took place on the south side of the Capitol Building and was broadcast on all four local stations.

Donna Kennedy is the Harding Band Queen. She was escorted by drum major, Calvin Bolinger.

GET TOUGH!

The Physical Education department is sponsoring a program of physical fitness designed especially to meet the strenuous duties of war-time living. Both boys and girls are taught military drill and First Aid, and are given special exercises to increase physical endurance. The boys are being exposed to some of the gentler Cormando tactics which include Rope Climbing, Obstacle tactics and a touch of Jiu-Jitsu.

MISICAL EDUCATION FOR GIRLS

The "Harding All Girl Drill Team" is a group well qualified in military drill. This team organization emerged from regular class work in Physical Education which included the fundamentals of marching. These girls became so proficient that they desired to learn more advanced and difficult formations.

The team consists of a squad captain, four sergeants, two flag bearers and twenty-eight girls in the marching squad.

The team has appeared many times at school & Red Cross functions. They plan to work with the school band later on.

The girls have chosen a very patriotic uniform. All white shoes, anklets & skirts, and red, white and blue sweaters.

Where there is enthusiasm, work will be done and these girls are enthusiastic.

32 Harding Girls Form Patriotic Drilling Squad

Thirty-two girls at Harding junior highschool have organized a drill team which performs in assemblies and other school functions. Their costumes are white skirts and red, white, or blue sweaters.

The team originated from class work in physical education. The girls who form the team especially liked this phase of their class work and stayed with it until they became unusually good.

When marching in drill formation the girls are preceded by an American flag and a Harding junior high flag carried by two of the foremost marchers. They plan to march with the band later.

The Theme: Education for Free Men In tune with the theme for National Education week, "Education for Free Men," a huge poster was painted by Dolorosa Steinke and Newana Winans, above, 8A pupils at Harding junior highschool. The poster will remain outside the main entrance of the school through the week.

Art Students Highly Praised For Hard Work

Over 104 Christmas cards for soldiers were made during the four weeks before Christmas by Miss Zoe Bickell's 7B art classes.

After each student had designed a print the one selected was that of Barbara Durland. From this design the cards were printed and sent to the Red Cross headquarters for distribution.

Other work done by the art classes recently include the making of Christmas posters to be used in hospital wards and mess halls. Students with outstanding posters were Phyllis Ann Phillips, Sally Williams, Marshall Weir, Warren Farnam, Dannis Holland, Warren Farnam, Dannis Honnad, Tom Henry Sterling, Arthur Swanson, Charles Bishop, Rita St. Clair, and Beulah Thompson. —E. ART-IN-WAR DEPARTMENT

This new department keeps student artists in touch with the war effort. It is an opportunity to apply their skills on the home front; to orientate themselves to war time conditions; to meet the artist demands of present and post war needs; to become acquainted with patriotic motifs, and slogans.

At present, Art is a difficult current problem; effort is needed to preserve progress. Manufacturers cannot make whatever they please in war time so art must serve in a capacity suitable to the war need.

Students of Art are seeking methods whereby they can increase their present war efforts or determine how they can put to immediate use the talents they possess! Out culture must not be sacrificed, so Art-In-War must be fought in our art rooms, and Art students have a golden opportunity to better our way of life.

Civic organizations served by the Art Departments: Chamber of Commerce, Okla. City, Oklahoma Educational Association, Parent-Teachers' Association, Parent-Teacher Council, Various Churches of the City, Sororities, Fraternal Organizations, Administrative Gouncil, The Red Cross, and Teachers, and friends of Educations.

Specific Art problems designed and created by Art students:

For Red Cross: Posters, Christmas-tree decorations, menu-covers, Navy menu-covers, brailled cards, Mother's Day cards, Fourth of July menu-covers, writing portfolios, wall hangings, scorepads for bridge--all these for the Red Cross.

For School and Other Organizations: Patriotic stagesets; banquet table decorations; lighting effects; historic panels for the Cafeteria; V for Victory Panel; American Education Week Posters; scrap-books for soldiers; program-covers; paper-mache patriotic motifs; Assembly programs; hand-painted wood-letters U.S.A., and V for Victoryl Designing and sewing flags for our allies; war murals; decorated halls; Flaced exhibits on bullentinboards and in show-case; made posters for the War-health program.

Children Suffer-and Help!

Children Suffer-and Help! It's the children who suffer, and it's the children who want to help. Burl Washburn, 6-year-old first grade pupil at Stand Watie, above, has been a victim of infantile paralysis since he was three. He has received frequent treatment at Crippled Children's hospital and has undergone two operations since Christmas—but his smile is a permanent fixture. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Minter, 2617 Southwest Thirty-sixth street. Pupils at Harding junior highschool decided to have their own parade of pennies Friday on behalf of the infantile paralysis campaign. In the lower picture, Montee Hoke, 2909 Harvey parkway, left, and Rex Hayes, 1503 Camden way, both 9A's at Harding, count the results—3,352 pennies given by Harding pupils in the one-day campaign. campaign.
