Idle Coins.

The Treasury Department in Washington has advised us to keep all small coins in circulation. That means not to keep them idle in small banks, fruit jars, boxes, cupboards and other places.

All the metals used in the small coins are made of critical material. By critical we mean that these metals are necessary for war purposes. Pennies, especially, should be kept in circulation since a penny is ninety percent copper.

and copper is a very critical metal. 4600 tons of copper were used used in making one-cent pieces. If we keep the small coins in circulation critical metals can be used for war purposes.

We, the children of Pleasant Valley keep the small coins in circulation by buying Defence Stamps and other articles.

"Odd's and Ends"

There are many minor things that we have done help win the war.

The F.F.A. boys are Ronald Horn, Dick Kicks, and Bobby Imgarten. They help Uncle Sam win the war by producing foods, collecting scrap metal, buying bonds, and in many other ways.

Hose and furs have been donated. Hose are used for parachutes, and powder bags. Furs are used for clothing.

Defense work is very vital. Tommy Tearney, from our community, works in the ship yards in Seattle.

People in our community have contributed to the U. S. O., Red Cross, Infantile Paralysis Campaign, The American Legion and the Tuberculosis Campaign. Car Licenses in miniature have been purchased from American Legion. Christmas Seals have been bought to help in the Tuberculosis Campaign.

"Men in Service" Elmer E. Hicks

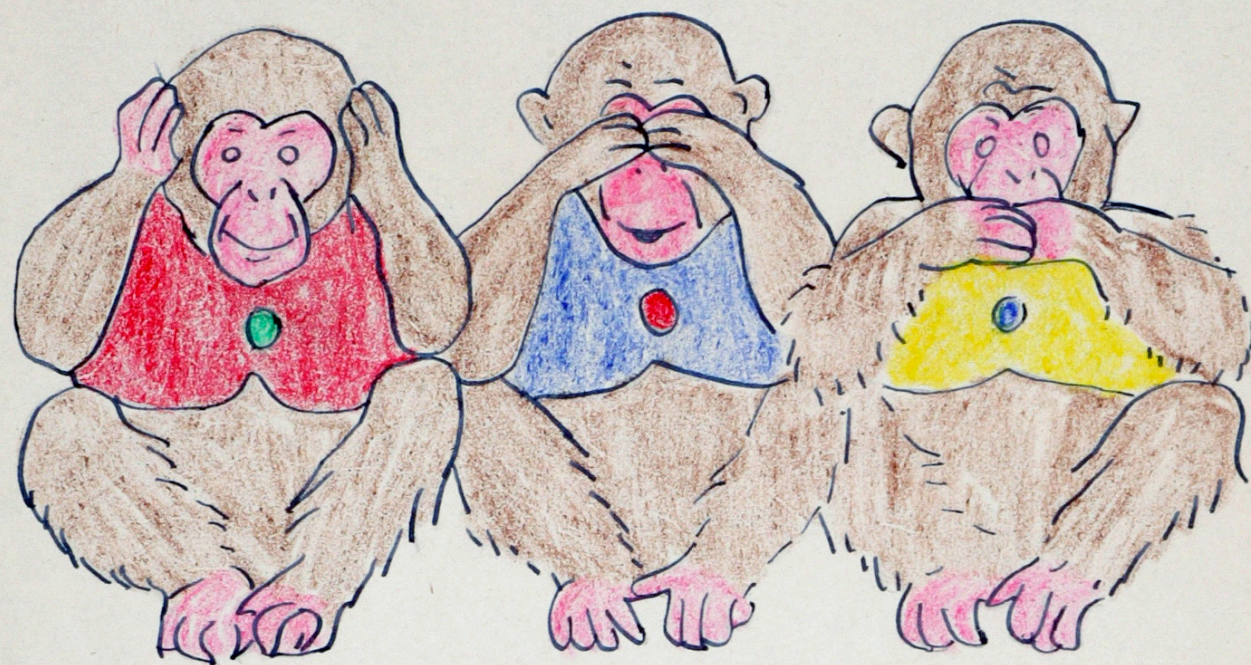

Elmer E. Hicks joined the Merchant Marine in May, 1942. The Merchant Marine carry supplies to the allies. Without supplies the allies could not fight and we could not win the war.

In this fleet oil and gasoline was carried to the allies for aircrafts and motors of all kinds.

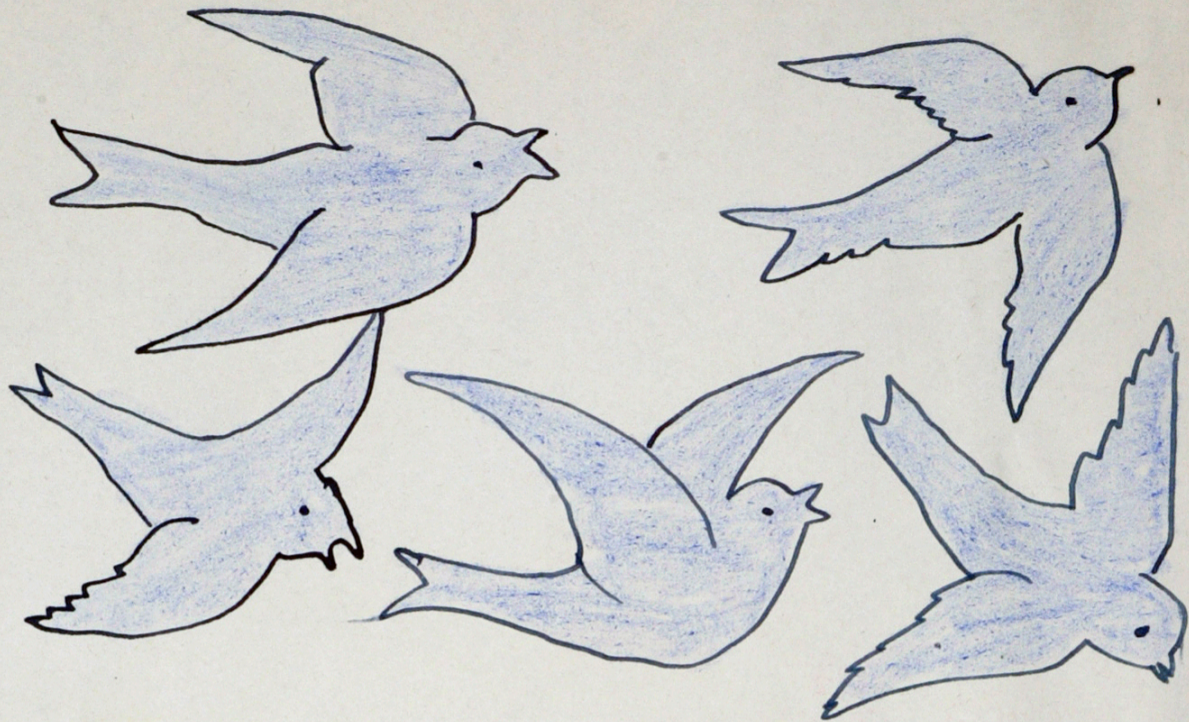

On the first trip two vessels were lost in the Casiban Sea by torpedoes. On the second trip his ship was bombed and damaged in the Solomon Islands. But the supplies were delivered to Australia.

Mrs. Hicks took orders for the eats for the sailors and served the orders. He, also, set tables for the crew. The crew ate at tables in family style.

Scrap Metal Drive

Our school organized for the scrap metal drive. Each pupil and teacher called on certain persons in the community, and asked them to sell their scrap metal during the drive. The receipts were turned in to this school. The Teacher reported the poundage of scrap metal to the County Superintendent. He in turn reported it to the state, and the state reported it to the nation. 11,415 pounds of scrap metal were collected in our district.

The following people contributed scrap metal: Joe Zavadny, Adolph Zavadny, Jack Hicks, Joe Scholz, Adolph Cermak, Joe Horn, Harry Moncrief, and Jess Osborne.
