Mr. CARR, from the Committee on Revolutionary Pensions, submitted the following

REPORT:

The Committee on Revolutionary Pensions, to whom were referred the papers of John Lybrook, report:

That the petitioner states, under oath, that in the spring of 1776 (March, he thinks,) he was ordered to repair to Philip Barergais' fort, in the county of Montgomery, for the purpose of protection against the incursions of the Indians; that he repaired there, and remained until the middle of October, engaged in ranging the country in pursuit of Indians, &c.; Captain John Floyd was his captain; that he was in this service seven months.

His second tour commenced in April, 1777, and he performed service, as above, five months, under Captain Floyd and Lieutenant Snidow.

His third tour commenced in April, 1778. He repaired to a fort commanded by the late Colonel Preston, and continued in the service until the month of October, under Captain Floyd and Lieutenant Snidow.

His fourth tour commenced in April, 1779; that he repaired to Snidow's fort, and continued in the service to the 1st of October. Christian Snidow was his lieutenant, and John Chapman ensign.

His fifth term of service commenced in March, 1780, and he served until 13th of June following, under the same officers.

Jacob Snidow says that he served with Lybrook, and that he (Lybrook) did serve as he has stated in his declaration. C. Snidow states that the applicant performed the services specified in his second, third, fourth, and fifth tours of service; that he was the first lieutenant in each of said tours for three months, and the remainder of said tours was called away.

Isaac Chapman states that the applicant performed the services, as set out in his declaration, at Snidow's fort; that he was in the same service.
