

CIVIL AND DIPLOMATIC APPROPRIATIONS OF 1842.

[To accompany bill H. R. No. 74.]

JANUARY 25, 1842.

Committed, with the bill, to the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union.

The Committee of Ways and Means beg leave to state, in reporting the bill making appropriations for the civil and diplomatic expenses of Government for the year eighteen hundred and forty-two, that they have gone into a laborious investigation of the items of said bill, and a thorough examination of the legal authorities upon which the appropriations are based, with an anxious desire to limit the appropriations, as far as practicable, to those authorized by law. To effect this object, they have been compelled to consult authorities so numerous, not to say sometimes obscure and contradictory, that they cannot flatter themselves that they may not have committed some errors. They have, however, felt it to be their duty to lay before the House references to these authorities, that every member might examine for himself, in the hope that it may facilitate the progress of the bill through the House, detect any errors that may have escaped the scrutiny of the committee, and furnish in time to come a convenient reference to these authorities, and thereby greatly expedite the labors of future committees.

The committee have found, in the course of this investigation, that many appropriations have heretofore been made without authority of law in a series of years; and, with a view of legitimating so many of these as may be deemed necessary, they will report a separate bill, under the resolution of the House of the 6th January, 1842. Where such appropriations had been made for a series of years, and the committee thought they would probably be legalized, they have retained them in the bill, to save the necessity of reporting another bill on this subject.

The amount reported in this bill, in pursuance of former appropriations, which it is supposed Congress will legitimate, is $82,216 11.

The amount which the committee have deducted from the estimates is $303,164 47.

And the amount appropriated by the bill is $7,669,073 38.

With these explanations, the committee submit the following references and brief explanations of the several items of the bill, the numbers in the report and bill corresponding with each other.

CIVIL AND DIPLOMATIC APPROPRIATIONS FOR 1842.

No. 1. "For the pay and mileage of members," &c.	-	$273,712
For pay and mileage of members and delegates, see act of January 22, 1818, (6 Laws U. S., p. 254, sec. 2.)
The whole estimate was (estimates, p. 2)	$673,712
We have already appropriated	-	400,000
		<hr/>
Leaving this balance of	-	273,712
The estimate and appropriation for the last long session were $668,944.
No. 2. "For pay of the officers and clerks ," &c.	-	12,500
The whole estimate was (see estimates, p. 2)
$45,690.
For the Senate, this amount is made up as follows :
Secretary of the Senate, by act of 18th April, 1818, (6 Laws U. S., p. 296, sec. 1)	-	3,000
One chief clerk at $1,800, and two recording clerks at 1,500 each, by the same act	-	4,800
Three clerks, by resolution of Senate of March 3, 1837, (Journal, p. 331,) at a salary not exceeding $1,500 each; continued by resolution of October 13, 1837, (Journal, p. 67,) and made permanent by resolution of July 7, 1838, (Journal, p. 543)	-	4,500
One messenger in the Secretary's office, whose salary is fixed by act of May 26, 1824, (7 Laws U. S., p. 290, sec. 2,) at $700; it is said it was raised to $1,095 by the act of September 11, 1841, (1st sess. 27th Cong., p. 34,) because it is alleged that a messenger in the post office of the House is entitled to that, under a resolution of the House of March 3, 1841, (Journal, p. 369;) but we think this resolution only authorizes a per diem allowance during the session, and that the estimate should be for $700, instead of	-	1,095
Chaplain to the Senate, under act of April 30, 1816, (6 Laws U. S., p. 153)	-	500
This act allows $500 a year, but, by the usage of the two Houses, it is $500 a session.
Sergeant-at-arms , who does the duties of door-keeper to the Senate, under act of March 3, 1815, (4 Laws U. S., p. 831,) 10th April, 1806, (4 Laws U. S., p. 30, sec. 2)	-	1,500
Assistant doorkeeper , under same act	-	1,450
For the House the amount is made up as follows, namely :

For Clerk of the House of Representatives, by act of 18th April, 1818, (6 Laws U. S. p. 296, sec. 1)	$3,000
One chief clerk at $1,800, and two recording clerks at $1,500 each, by same act	4,800
Three assistant clerks at $1,500 each, per act of 26th May, 1824, (7 Laws U. S., p. 290, end of sec. 2)	4,500
One assistant clerk, 6th March, 1826, (Journal 19th Cong. 1st sess., p. 316)	1,500
Two assistant clerks at $1,500 each, 11th October, 1837, (Journal 25th Cong. 1st sess., p. 184)	3,000
[Two assistant clerks at $1,500 each, said to be provided for in the appropriation act of 3d March, 1839, and the subsequent appropriation acts (were employed at the beginning of the session of 1838-'9)	3,000
No specific provision in the appropriation acts referred to above in relation to them; committee refuse to allow them.]
One messenger , whose salary is fixed by act of May 26, 1824, (7 Laws U. S., p. 290, sec. 2.) $700; it is said it was raised to $1,095 by the act of Sept. 11, 1841, (Laws of 1841, 1st sess. 27th Cong., p. 34,) because it is alleged that a messenger in the post office of the House of Representatives is entitled to that, under the resolution of the House of March 3, 1841, (Journal, p. 369;) but we think this resolution only authorized a per diem allowance during the session, and that the estimate should be for $700, instead of	1,095
Sergeant-at-arms and doorkeeper , each at $1,500—see act of 10th April, 1806, (4 Laws U. S., p. 30, sec. 2, chap. 23,) and act of 3d March, 1815, (4 Laws U. S., p. 831, ch. 767)	3,000
Office of assistant doorkeeper of the House ( abolished )—salary, $1,450, ought to be deducted from the estimates	1,450
Chaplain —act 30th April, 1816, (6 Laws U. S., p. 153, chap. 170.) This act allows $500 a year, but, by the usage of the House, it is $500 a session	500
Postmaster —see resolution of the House of the 13th December, 1832, (Journal 22d Cong. 2d sess., p. 48)	1,500
[ Draughtsman employed by order of the House of 28th June, 1834, and 24th February, 1835, (Journal 23d Cong. 1st sess., p. 871, and 23d Cong. 2d sess., p. 441.) Pay was regulated by the Committee of Accounts heretofore, and paid out of the contingent fund of the House; now, for the first time, he is specifically included in the estimates $1,500

[Committee refused to allow this.]

The whole estimate (see estimates, p. 2)	-	45,690
Deduct amount estimated for the messenger of the Senate and of the House, above the compensation authorized by law, being $395 each	-	790
Deduct amount estimated for the two clerks said to be provided for in the appropriation act of 3d March, 1839, and subsequent appropriation acts, each $1,500	-	3,000
Deduct amount estimated for assistant doorkeeper (office abolished)	-	1,450
Deduct amount estimated for draughtsman	-	1,500
		6,740
And amount already appropriated	-	26,450
		33,190
Leaving this balance of	-	12,500
No. 3. Contingent expenses of the Senate	-	-	$35,000
The whole estimate (see estimates, p. 3)	was	60,000
We have already appropriated	-	25,000
		35,000
And this is the balance	-	-
The estimate for the last long session (see estimates for 1840, p. 64) was $75,000, all of which was appropriated.
No. 4. Contingent expenses of the House	-	-	50,000
The whole estimate (see estimates, p. 3)	was	150,000
We have appropriated	-	100,000
		50,000
And this is the balance	-	-
The estimate for the last long session (see estimates for 1840, p. 64) was $250,000, and $200,000 were appropriated.
No. 5. "For printing, &amp;c. for the Senate during the 26th Congress,"	$27,282	68.
For this item, see manuscript statement from the Secretary of the Senate, dated 27th December, 1841.
No. 6. "For printing, &amp;c. documents ordered by the Senate"	-	-	12,250
This (see manuscript statement from the Secretary of the Senate, of 27th December, 1841) is made up as follows, viz :

Due Stone for engraving	-	$10,750 00
Due Gales & Seaton for printing		1,512 62
		12,262 62

No. 7. For deficiency in the contingent fund of the House for the 26th Congress - $98,335 85

For this amount, see manuscript communication from the Clerk of the House, dated 14th June, 1841; it is made up as follows:

Due Blair & Rives for printing	$26,056 39
Due Philip Haas for lithographing	12,736 00
Due Blair & Rives for binding	- 7,200 00
Due Gales & Seaton and others for books, under resolution of the House of March 3, 1841, (Jour., p. 374; printed estimates, p. 3.)	- 52,343 46
	98,335 85

The committee subsequently received the following statement of the foregoing accounts, in a letter from Mr. Robert Johnston, assistant clerk of the House, dated January 3, 1842, viz :

Accounts showing, in detail, the arrearages due by the House of Representatives of the United States for printing books, lithographing, and binding, incurred during the 26th Congress :

*1. Blair & Rives, printing	-	-	-	12,543 41
2. Blair & Rives, binding	-	-	-	11,586 31
†3. Philip Haas, lithographing	-	-	-	12,786 00
4. Gales & Seaton, books	-	-	-	43,858 00
5. Clarke & Force, Documentary History	-	-	-	6,245 46
6. Jonathan Elliott, Elliott's Debates	-	-	-	1,450 00
7. George Templeman, State papers, &c.	-	-	-	1,114 50
8. Sarah Franklin, do.	-	-	-	382 50
				100,966 18

* Blair & Rives reported originally for printing	-	$26,056 39
Now	-	23,543 41
Making a difference of	-	2,502 98

The reason they give is, that the printing was not all executed at the time the first bill was rendered, and say the one now presented is correct.

Their first statement charged the binding at	-	$7,200 00
The present statement puts this item at	-	11,586 31

They call it an error of calculation	-	4,386 31

No. 16. Superintendent and watchmen for the northeast executive building (printed estimate, p. 4) - - - - - $1,500

From 1820 to 1830 (see manuscript estimate from State Department, No. 1) there was one superintendent for the State and Treasury buildings. In 1831 a superintendent for each building was estimated for, and has continued to be ever since.

In 1831, '32, and '33, the sum of $850 was appropriated for compensation to the superintendent and watchmen of the State Department. In 1834 the same sum was appropriated, and $300 for an additional watchman. In each of the subsequent annual appropriation bills is an item of $1,500 for this purpose. Instead of paying for the security of the State and Treasury buildings $1,700, as formerly, the Government has, for the last seven years, been paying annually $3,600.

See letter from Commissioner General Land Office, dated 10th January, 1842, which shows that the amount is not yet settled.]

- No. 32. For superintendent and watchmen of southeast executive building, (printed estimate, p. 7)
- |  |         |
|--|---------|
|  | $2,100 |

From 1820 to 1830, (see MS. estimate from State Department,) there was one superintendent for the State and Treasury buildings. In 1831, a superintendent for each building was estimated for, and has continued to be ever since.

In 1831, '32, and '33, the sum of $850 was appropriated for compensation to the superintendent and watchmen of the Treasury Department. In 1834, the sum of $2,100 was appropriated for the security of the buildings occupied by the Treasury Department, and has been continued by every subsequent appropriation bill. Instead of the Government paying $1,700, as formerly, for the security of the Treasury and State buildings, it has, for the last seven years, been paying annually $3,600.

- No. 33. For the contingent expenses of the building, including fuel, labor, oil, carrying the Department mails, and sealing ship registers, &c., (printed estimates, p. 7) - $12,000
 [The committee refused to allow for carrying mails.]
