OFFICES CREATED AND THE SALARIES THEREOF.

Prepared in the office of the Secretary of the Senate.

By the act (chapter —) to provide for a district and circuit court of the United States for the district of Nebraska, and for other purposes; approved March 25, 1867.

The State of Nebraska is constituted one judicial district, to be called the district of Nebraska, and one district judge to be appointed at an annual salary of $3,500, payable quarterly; also, a marshal and district attorney, to be appointed to perform same duties as those of similar officers of the United States, and to receive same fees and compensation as are allowed by act entitled "An act to regulate the fees and costs to be allowed clerks, marshals, and attorneys of the circuit and district courts of the United States, and for other purposes," approved February 26, 1853.

By the act (chapter —) to reimburse the States of Indiana and Ohio for moneys expended for the United States in enrolling, equipping, and provisioning militia forces to aid in suppressing the rebellion, approved March 30, 1867.

Three commissioners are to be appointed by the President of the United States, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, to ascertain the amount of moneys expended by the States of Indiana and Ohio in enrolling, subsisting, transporting, and paying the State forces called into service in said States since January 1, 1862, to act in concert with the United States forces in suppression of the rebellion, their compensation to be determined by the Secretary of the Treasury, not exceeding ten dollars per day.

By the act (chapter —) to establish a port of delivery at Chester, Pennsylvania, approved March 30, 1867.

Chester, Pennsylvania, is made a port of delivery, and a surveyor to be appointed to reside at said port, to receive $500 per annum.

By act (chapter —) to increase the force of the Patent Office, approved March 30, 1867.

The Commissioner of Patents is authorized to appoint from time to time, in manner already provided by law, such an additional number of principal examiners, first assistant examiners, and second assistant examiners as may be required to transact current business of the office with despatch. The whole number of such additional examiners not to exceed four of each class.

By the act (chapter —) to authorize the appointment of certain watchmen, and for other purposes, approved March 30, 1867.

The eight watchmen on the dome of the Capitol, at the congressional stables, the gate-keeper, and watchmen of the Capitol grounds, are authorized to be appointed by the Sergeants-at-arms of the Senate and House of Representatives, who are also authorized to appoint three additional watchmen, one for each of the eastern porticos, each watchman so appointed to receive an annual compensation of $1,000.

An additional lieutenant and private of the Capitol police is authorized to be appointed by the presiding officers of the two houses of Congress, at the same annual rate of compensation as paid others of similar grade.

By the act (chapter —) amendatory of the organic act of Colorado Territory, approved March 30, 1867.

Each branch of the Colorado territorial legislature is authorized to elect an enrolling clerk in addition to the officers now allowed, at a compensation of five dollars per day. The compensation of the chief clerk of each branch is made six dollars per day, and that of the other officers elected by the legislature five dollars per day each.

By the act (chapter —) to establish peace with certain hostile Indian tribes, approved July 20, 1867.

The President of the United States is authorized to appoint a commission, to consist of three officers of the army not below the rank of brigadier general, who, together with N. G. Taylor, Commissioner of Indian Affairs; John B. Henderson, chairman of the Committee of Indian Affairs of the Senate; S. S. Tappen, and John S. Sanborn, shall have authority to call together the chiefs and headmen of such bands or tribes of Indians as are now waging war against the United States, or committing depredations, to ascertain the reasons of their hostility, and, under the direction of the President, to conclude treaties with said bands or tribes of Indians; no salary or allowance authorized other than transportation and protection to the commissioners.

By the act (chapter —) to carry into effect the convention with the republic of Venezuela for the adjustment of claims of citizens of the United States on the government of that republic, approved July 20, 1867.

The President of the United States is to appoint a commissioner, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, to adjudicate said claims at a compensation of $3,000 in full for his services, and ten dollars per day in commutation of travelling expenses for the time actually occupied in going from his place of residence to Caracas and returning to his home after the termination of his duties.

Section 2 provides that if the President elects to appoint the minister resident of the United States in Venezuela to perform the duties of the commissioner under the convention, the minister shall receive a compensation of fifty per centum of the sum mentioned for his services.

III.—OFFICES THE SALARIES OF WHICH HAVE BEEN INCREASED, WITH THE AMOUNT OF SUCH INCREASE, DURING THE SAME PERIOD.

By the act (chapter —) amendatory of the organic act of Colorado Territory; approved March 30, 1867.

The pay of members of the council and of the house is increased from three dollars per day to six dollars per day; their mileage to remain as at present fixed by law, at three dollars for every twenty miles' travel.

The compensation of the chief clerk of each branch is raised to six dollars per day, and that of the other officers elected by the legislature at five dollars per day each.
