

ROBERT W. ANDREWS.

FEBRUARY 7, 1889.—Committed to the Committee of the Whole House and ordered to be printed.

Mr. BLISS, from the Committee on Pensions, submitted the following

REPORT:

[To accompany bill H. R. 12404.]

The Committee on Pensions, to whom was referred the bill (H. R. 12404) granting a pension to Robert W. Andrews, have considered the same and report as follows:

The records on file at the Treasury Department (Second Auditor's Bureau) show that Robert W. Andrews served in Capt. John S. Richburge's company, Florida war of 1836, and was honorably discharged. He drew a land warrant for his services therein. He resides at Jersey, Bradley County, Ark. He is now seventy-five years of age and needy.

There is now on the Calendar of the House a bill, favorably reported by this committee, to grant a service pension to all the survivors of the Indian wars of 1832-1842, and many special acts have been passed in such cases pending the consideration of the general act.

Your committee are of the opinion that the bill should pass, and report it back with such recommendation. Amend, however, by changing the spelling of the surname in the title, and in line 5 of the bill from "Anders" to "Andrews," and also by changing the word "Richburght's," in line 5, to "Richburge's."
