

JONATHAN DAVIS.

JANUARY 24, 1891.—Laid on the table and ordered to be printed.

Mr. PARBETT, from the Committee on the Pensions, submitted the following

ADVERSE REPORT:

[To accompany H. R. 11903.]

The Committee on Pensions, to whom was referred the bill (H. R. 11903) granting a pension to Jonathan Davis, have considered the same and report:

The records show that the claimant served for 7 days in Capt. Thomas Wilson's company of Georgia Volunteers in the Indian war of 1836.

The general law requires 12 or more days of service to entitle a soldier of the war of 1812 to a pension. The service in this case was of but 7 days' duration, and your committee does not think a favorable report warranted.

The bill is returned with the recommendation that it do not pass.
