Some patients prefer cream

Ortho-Creme is a soft, white, pleasantly-scented cream, designed for those patients who prefer a cream type base to a jelly. Inasmuch as the acceptability of the method depends largely upon the esthetic qualities of the product, many physicians offer their patients a choice between cream and jelly. Ortho-Creme is active chemically, tolerable to the vaginal mucosa and stable in storage. You can prescribe it with confidence. Available in plain and printed packages.

Doctor's Aide Plan Installed

Medical Credit Bureau Establishes "Physician's Agent" Plan Similar to Many Now In Operation In Leading Cities. Large Savings To Doctors Entering Service Foreseen.

Beginning in September, the Medical Credit Bureau, official collection agency of the Tulsa County Medical Society, will render a new and valuable service at cost to doctors entering the armed services.

Known as "The Physician's Agent", this new service will provide for a complete administration of the financial affairs of the doctor's office after his departure. Not only will it permit the doctor to save a substantial sum through elimination of office rent and salaries of assistants but it will provide a specialized service by experienced collection officials.

Similar to many plans now in operation in leading cities of the United States, the outstanding features of "The Physician's Agent" are:

(1) An immediate survey of all accounts of the physician is made by an official of the Medical Credit Bureau. These are tentatively divided into three groups of accounts: good, questionable, and definitely delinquent.

(2) An official of the Medical Credit Bureau then prepares and mails a notice of the doctor's call to service to all patients and other interested individuals as listed by the physician. This is on the doctor's regular letterhead stationery.

This statement also contains the information that all accounts due the doctor may be paid to 1202 Medical Arts Building. Although this is the office of the Medical Credit Bureau, the name of the Bureau does not appear in any way on the statement. Money collected by the Bureau is remitted to the doctor without any deduction of fee. Patients are given receipts on special blanks which do not include the name of the Bureau in any way.

(3) The third step is to send a statement on the regular statement forms of the physician. If there are no results on the accounts previously termed "delinquent" within 30 days, they are then turned to the Medical Credit Bureau. The Bureau, in turn, employs its normal collection routine. This is the first time that the name of the Bureau appears in collection correspondence with the patient.

(4) Statements continue to be sent to the "good" and "questionable" accounts. If, after a reasonable period of time, no action is forthcoming on the accounts in the latter group, they also are turned to the Medical Credit Bureau for action. When "good" accounts do not justify their classification, they are switched to "questionable", the procedure continuing as outlined.

In effect, the entire plan amounts to this: employees of the Medical Credit

Bureau act as a bookkeeper for the doctor while he is in service. Accounts are collected, statements rendered, and decisions made as to the proper time to institute collection methods by an agency.

It should not be concluded that this is a method whereby all accounts of the doctor would quickly revert to the collection agency. Actually, no accounts are turned to the Bureau except at the doctor's express permission. True, the Medical Credit Bureau will make honest recommendations on each individual account. The doctor will receive at intervals personal reports on each account, thereby enabling him to judge for himself the advisability of turning it to the Medical Credit Bureau.

The doctor, therefore, retains complete control over his accounts. Employing "The Physician's Agent" plan is merely the employing of the Medical Credit Bureau to act an office for the doctor after his departure.

At the end of each month, or as frequently as desired, the doctor receives a statement and check for collections on his accounts. All sums collected are deposited in a special account in his name. Such collections as are made by the Medical Credit Bureau after the account has been turned to the agency are remitted within five days after the close of each month.

There are several modifications of this plan. If the doctor so desires, payments may be made in another doctor's office. In such cases, it is advisable for the Medical Credit Bureau to make a periodic check of the accounts so as to suggest further procedures of collection. Where such an arrangement exists, the cost to the doctor is only for the clerical work involved in making out statements.

"The Physician's Agent" is sufficiently flexible to meet the needs of any doctor who is called into service. Under this method, it is no longer necessary to pay office rent and salaries of assistants for a period of two to six months. At the same time, specialized collection advice is available.

If the doctor so desires, the plan provides for personal telephone collection calls before the accounts revert to the Bureau. Naturally, a charge is made for this service.

The Medical Credit Bureau will provide this complete office service to any member of the Tulsa County Medical

$1,800 To Doctors In July

In the sweltering heat of July, usually the poorest month of the year for collections, the Medical Credit Bureau set a new all-time high by returning more than $1,800 to doctors.

The record was but another indication of the competent collection abilities of the Bureau's five employees, and of the new managerial policies in effect since January 1.

Doctors entering service are reminded that the Medical Credit Bureau operates at cost, purposely refrains from making a profit, so as to provide collection service to members of the Tulsa County Medical Society at the lowest possible fee.

When minimum rates for most collection agencies begin at 50 per cent, the Medical Credit Bureau collects the majority of its volume of accounts at 20 and 33⅓ per cent. Out-of-town accounts receive special attention from the Bureau's correspondents in nearly every city in the United States. A highly competent attorney's service are available for accounts requiring suit. The unusually low fee of 50 per cent for legal work represents the highest fee charged by the Bureau.

Doctors receive statement and check for each month's collections within five days after the close of the month.

Send your delinquent accounts now, and save!

Medicine In Peril

The Recent Decision of the Federal Courts That Organized Medicine Constitutes a Trust Will Tear Away the High Standards of Medical Practice Unless Congress Passes a Remediating Amendment.

Organized medicine in the United States is now facing the most important crisis in its history. The recent conviction of certain leading medical groups on criminal charges of violating the provisions of the Sherman Anti-Trust Law places medicine in deadly peril.

The ramifications of the court verdicts are likely to be many and far-reaching in their effects. Unless the situation is relieved, organized medicine will be set back a hundred years. The achievements of medicine towards the maintenance of high standards of ethical practice will be torn away at a single blow.

While the decision was directed at a national medical association, it is just as applicable to the Tulsa County Medical Society or to the Oklahoma State Medical Association. It is equally applicable to a committee of doctors who determines the standards of practice for a state, to a committee of doctors who determines the requirements for admission to a hospital staff. The decision is disastrous—not only to the profession but to the public who may no longer be protected by the high standards of medical practice which organized medicine imposes.

Just for example, a few of the results that could come about, if necessary by a court injection, are:

The removal of the exclusive right of physicians to "practice medicine". Under the courts' verdicts, a layman or lay organization now has the right to provide medical service without complying with standards set by organized medicine.

Physicians would no longer be empowered to determine the standards of education, ethics, and professional abilities necessary for the practice of medicine.

The right of physicians to control qualifications for service on hospital staffs would be denied.

Physicians would no longer be legally permitted to control conditions of intern training in hospitals.

These are merely examples of results which the operation of this decision will presumably bring about. The standards and safeguards which have operated to provide public protection would be gone. There would be no control over the competition of quacks, charlatans, and fakirs who professed to be medical practitioners. The status of the physician of known ability would be sacrificed. The medical society, regardless of size, would die a natural death. With this condition, state medicine would be peeping over the horizon, soon rising to a reality with its evils.

The courts rendering the decision admit the desirability of the present system, but point out that under the provisions of the law the only remedy for the situation is a Congressional amendment to the Sherman Anti-Trust Law.

What can be done about this situation. In November, 435 members of the House of Representatives will be elected by the public. It is necessary that the medical profession know in advance what position the various candidates take in regard to the proposed amendment. The Tulsa County Medical Society, acting through its officers and Legislative Committee is now endeavoring to secure the written reaction of the candidates for Congressional office so that appropriate measures may be taken.

Each doctor can personally cooperate by advising himself of the views of the various candidates in regard to the rights of the medical profession. Doctors, now is the time to act.

PRESIDENT'S PAGE

Soon after December 7, 1941, when war was formally declared, the general medical profession began to enlist in the armed forces. Most of us realized that soon a large number of the profession under 45 years of age would offer their services to the war effort and would thereby be lost to their respective communities as practitioners.

As more and more men started proceedings to be commissioned in the Army and Navy, the older men above 45 changed their surmise to a distinct realization that there would be a real shortage of physicians in all urban centers. By now this shortage is being felt very keenly by those who are remaining at home and on the job. Night calls and longer hours in the office are daily increasing. Leisure hours enjoyed in some diversion are fast becoming a recollection of the past and a hope for the future.

The profession will meet this added responsibility in stride and accept the extra work with good grace. If the temptation to complain or refuse should occasionally confront you, it will be well to stop a moment and think. Try to realize the inconvenience and sacrifice on the part of those who have given up their practice. Consider what a privilege you enjoy in not being dislocated. If you are the right kind of fellow, just these few moments of thought will cause you to dispel any resentment and go to it with a true spirit of willingness.

Sincerely,

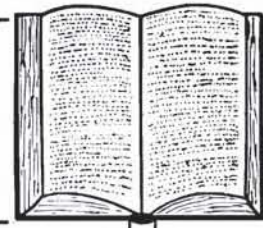

President.

OF INTEREST

Papers entitled, "Transfusion Accidents and Iso Immunization (Rh Factor)" by Dr. F. D. Sinclair and "Injection of Varicose Veins" by Dr. R. Q. Atchley were published in the July issue of the State Journal.

It is revealing that Penicillin, one of medicine's newest weapons against disease germs, is extracted from a mold not unlike the mold that grows on bread, cheese and sausage. Two English scientists, Dr. E. P. Abraham and Dr. E. Chain, of the University of Oxford, report to the British scientific journal, Nature, that they have now obtained a highly purified preparation of Penicillin in form of its barium salt, which is able to stop completely the growth of Staphylococcus aureus in a dilution of one part in twelve million. "Penicillin," they state, "must therefore be regarded as one of the most powerful antibacterial substances with predominantly bacteriostatic action known." An interesting article regarding the Comparative Antibacterial Action of Penicillin and Gramicidin, another new discovery, appears in the Proceedings of the Staff Meetings of the Mayo Clinic, May 27, 1942.

SPACE AGREEMENT REACHED

Under the terms of an agreement negotiated by a committee of the Tulsa County Medical Society, present occupants of the Medical & Dental Arts Building who go to service will be given preference on available office space on their return.

Chief points of the pact were:

(1) Doctors who are tenants up to the time they enter service will be given preference above everyone else on such space as is available, or at such time as space becomes available.

(2) Upon definite notice, the Medical & Dental Arts will hold space rent free up to a period of sixty days for any doctor who gives notice of his intention to return to practice in Tulsa.

(3) As far as possible, the space formerly occupied by the doctor will be made available. However, this will be governed by existing leases and commitments executed in the meantime.

(4) The building owners are not in a position to store equipment either in the building or in the present office space, except at the current rental rates.

(5) Due to uncertain conditions, it may become necessary for the building to rent space to persons outside the profession. However, it is the intention to submit the names of prospective tenants to an approving committee designated by the Tulsa County Medical Society.

(6) It is the intention of the management to keep the building as a medical center, and to continue to provide the present tenants with the best of service.

The agreement was signed by Drs. A. W. Pigford and John Perry, representing the Tulsa County Medical Society, and Mr. G. H. Galbreath and Mr. J. E. Buckley of the management.

TULSA PHYSICIAN NAMED AS S.M.A. COUNCILOR

Dr. George R. Osborn, prominent Tulsa physician, has been appointed a member of the Council of the Southern Medical Association from Oklahoma.

He succeeds the late Dr. Robert M. Anderson of Shawnee. As Councilor,

Dr. Osborn represents the Association in Oklahoma. He will attend the annual meeting of the Council in Richmond, Virginia, next October. The appointment was made by the President of the SMA, Dr. M. Pinson Neal, of Columbia, Missouri.

Dr. Osborn was formerly president of the Oklahoma State Medical Association and the Tulsa County Medical Society.

SURVEY SHOWS 20 MORE DOCTORS TO SERVICE

The Army and Navy continued to make heavy demands on the Tulsa medical profession as six local doctors closed their offices last month to accept commissions in the Medical Corps. More important, however, was an official Tulsa County Medical Society survey which indicated at least 20 others were awaiting calls to service or were in the process of being commissioned.

Doctors entering service in August were Dr. David Edwards, Dr. K. F. Swanson, Dr. Earl M. Lusk, Dr. John Edwards, Dr. Bernard Branley, and Dr. John McDonald.

Scheduled for a call to camp soon were: Dr. Charles Eads, Dr. Eugene Wolff, Dr. R. G. Ray, Dr. Thomas Hardman, Dr. W. W. Forry, Dr. R. C. Pigford, Dr. John G. Matt, Dr. Logan A. Spann, Dr. H. H. Porter, Dr. Donald Mishler, Dr. Allen Kornblee, Dr. J. K. Lee, Dr. A. H. Underman, Dr. Fred Sinclair, Dr. T. H. West, Dr. W. B. Boone, Dr. Eric White, Dr. Philip M. Shreck, Dr. H. P. Kemmerly, and Dr. M. D. Spottswood.

Departing members of the Tulsa County Medical Society were entertained with a Buffet Supper at the Tulsa Club, August 18. About 75 local physicians were in attendance.

SOCIETY FINANCES SOUND, EXAMINING COMMITTEE FIND

The Finance Committee of the Tulsa County Medical Society, meeting in August, commended the officers on the financial management of the Executive Office for the first six months of the year.

The report indicated a sound financial condition despite unexpected losses due to members entering the service. The Society's bank balance was approximately ten times the balance at this time last year.

Members of the examining committee were Dr. R. Q. Atchley, Dr. Chas. H. Eads, and Dr. H. B. Stewart.

BUREAU PRESENTS PLACQUE HONORING SERVICE MEMBERS

The Tulsa County Medical Society has been presented with a beautiful plaque honoring by name all members of the Society who are called to the armed services. The plaque was a gift of the Medical Credit Bureau in appreciation of the fine spirit shown by men entering the army or navy. It will hang in either the lobby of the Medical Arts Building, or in the Executive Offices, depending upon space requirements. The plaque is expected to be on display in about ten days.

All members entering service should notify the Executive Office on their departure so that their names may be added at once. Forwarding addresses should also be made available to the Executive Office so that members will receive the Bulletin and other information promptly.

Household servants may receive free venereal tests at the Venereal Disease Clinic, 21 N. Cincinnati, any Thursday morning.

DOCTORS ENTERING SERVICE MUST PAY BACK DUES

Members of the Tulsa County Medical Society who have not paid their second-half dues of $16.00 are reminded that they are no longer in good standing. Letters of recommendation for military service cannot be granted to members not in good standing.

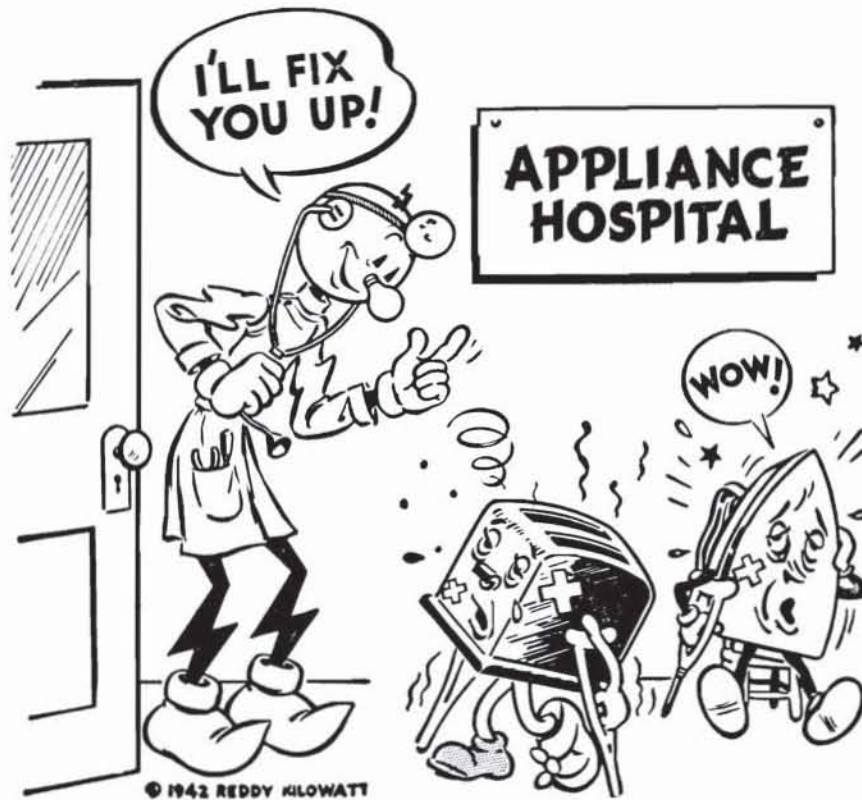

Doctors who plan to enter service must make full payment of dues for each completely or partially expired quarter during which they are in resident practice. Members who leave on or before October 1, 1942, must pay $8.00 dues, providing they have not paid in full for the year. After that date, they must pay the full half-year dues of $16.00.

Under the terms of the by-laws, members not in good standing may be dropped after nine-months indebtedness. They cannot be readmitted, even on new application for membership, without payment of the amount in arrears. Before leaving for service, members are advised to pay all indebtedness to prevent being dropped later for non-payment of dues.

FALL MEETING SCHEDULE OPENS SEPTEMBER 14TH

Although faced with a loss in attendance through army and navy demands on the local membership, the Tulsa County Medical Society's regular scientific programs will resume on September 14th at the Mayo Hotel after a three-months layoff.

The fall programs will be diversified as much as possible and, except for a few business meetings, will be devoted entirely to medical subjects. Dr. H. A. Ruprecht, program chairman, is now receiving suggestions for fall and winter programs.

Published monthly on the 3rd day of each month at the executive offices of the Tulsa County Medical Society, 1202 Medical Arts Building, Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Vol. 8 SEPTEMBER, 1942 No. 9

With defense workers pouring into the city in large numbers, Tulsa is becoming increasingly aware of the crowded and congested conditions which appear in all quarters. Although the situation is far from acute, our hospitals are beginning to feel the excess demands for bed space. Operating schedules are crowded, nurses and interns are working long hours, and hospital administrators are grappling with the problem of accommodating the greater number of patients.

There is one method of providing considerable relief to the congested hospitals—the establishment of a county hospital to provide specialized care for charity cases. The idea is not new by any means. It has been previously advanced by members of the Tulsa County Medical Society as a means of effecting greater savings to the taxpayer, by reducing the time wasted by county physicians in traveling to and from various hospitals, and by eliminating the great amount of political friction as to the disposition of charity cases among the various hospitals.

Such a county hospital would obviously require an initial outlay of funds for the purchase of an existing small hospital, or the remodeling and equipping of a suitable building. Once in operation, however, the hospital would effect considerable savings in both time and money,

Probably the most effective method would be a combining of the county hospitals and clinic. By maintaining the clinic on the hospital premises, a further reduction of expense to the county would be effected. Savings in traveling, and the wear and tear on tires and automobiles, would be large, to say nothing of the time saved by the county physician and his assistant.

It is probably not possible for the county to make such an expenditure at this time, but the conditions which may exist in Tulsa as the war progresses may greatly encourage the establishment of a combined clinic and hospital for charity cases.

It is something for county officials to investigate, something for the public to support, and something for the doctor to encourage in every way possible.

GRAHAM TAKES WASHINGTON PROCUREMENT POSITION

R. H. Graham, popular Executive Secretary of the Oklahoma State Medical Association, has been granted a leave of absence to accept a post with the Procurement and Assignment Service in Washington.

Graham will serve as Executive Assistant to Lt. Com. Max E. Lapham, administration official of the Procurement and Assignment Service for Physicians, Dentists, and Veterinarians. He is expected to be in Washington for the duration of the war.

The Executive Office of the Oklahoma State Medical Association at Oklahoma City will continue under Miss Ann Betche, assistant secretary. Officials of the Association have noted that Miss Betche will handle all routine matters, and that communications should be addressed to her.

Graham hopes to be back in Oklahoma City for the annual Secretary's Meeting of the Association in December.

Your Bureau Lowers The Rate of Account Mortality

If account mortality, like life mortality, was recorded statistically, the total of the physicians accounts that die because of insufficient credit information and delayed collection procedure would be astounding.

Your Bureau can supply credit information about many persons which will forewarn you to be cautious about extending credit for medical care. This will eliminate many uncollectible accounts.

The collection expectancy diminishes as accounts become more delinquent. Refer your past due accounts each month to your Bureau for collection and reduce your account mortality.

Society at cost. This is merely another gesture of good will and appreciation toward the doctor entering service.

The cost will vary in each case according to the needs of the doctor. All letterhead stationery and postage must be furnished by the doctor. The services of an employee or employees of the Medical Credit Bureau are paid for on an hourly basis. The analysis and report on accounts is free. A small charge is made where the Bureau does the actual collecting and banking on accounts not turned to the Bureau for its regular collection process.

As usual, this service is at cost. This is in line with the fundamental policy of the Medical Credit Bureau to deliver an efficient service at cost to members of the Tulsa County Medical Service.

For information concerning your own particular needs, consult with the Executive Secretary, 1202 Medical Arts Building, Tulsa, telephone 4-8161. The success of the plan in many leading cities has been due to its flexibility to meet the particular needs of the physician and surgeon.

The Tulsa County Medical Society's Executive Office and Library does not close on Thursday afternoons. All doctors are urged to take advantage of this afternoon of freedom to catch up on their library reading. The Executive Secretary is available at all times to doctors needing his assistance in any way.
