

Friends of the Library Advisory Board Meeting
Wednesday, November 7, 2018
12:30 pm., Lillard Conference Room CL208J4

Minutes

Present: Ted Honea, Randal Ice, David Macey, Michele Ramsdell, Linda Sealy, Jessica Sheetz-Nguyen, Lee Tyner, Habib Tabatabai, Nicole Willard

Absent: Cheryl Frech, Larry Musslewhite

I. Old Business

Minutes from the May 3, 2018 board meeting were sent out to all the board members in advance of the meeting. Jessica asked if there were any corrections or additions. There were none so Randy Ice motioned and Linda Sealy seconded a motion to accept the minutes without any corrections or additions. The minutes were approved by a unanimous vote.

II. New Business

1. Executive Director's Report:

Habib provided a report to the board. He discussed changes in the Library and said he would be happy to give anyone a tour. Nicole reminded everyone that the Library was holding a VIP Open House on Friday, Nov. 16 from 6:30-8:00 when we would be showing off all the new Library changes to our guests. The whole board was invited to this event.

2. Treasurers Report:

Michele discussed the financial summary for FOL. The summary was a report for the FY2017-18 year of earnings and expenditures. FOL made $11,823.02 from book sales, payroll deductions and cash donations. Our expenditures for the year were $7,109.03. The largest expenses were for the Faculty Book Grant Awards, promotional items and student contest prizes. Overall, after expenditures FOL made a net profit of $4,713.99 in FY 2017-18. See attached report for further details.

3. Membership Report:

Michele went over the membership report. We currently have 104 FOL members. This is up from 85 because we donated money from the Valentine's Day Bake sale on behalf of Library staff to get to 100% giving for the Faculty Staff campaign. These library staff members have been counted as members. We will not care on this practice so the numbers for next year will probably go down as a result. We are having our membership drive this month and will be sending out renewal letters in an effort to sustain the current member levels.

4. Update on Book Sales

Michele reported on book sales. This year there were nearly 10,000 books donated to the Library. We added 377 of those to the Library's main collection. The remainder were sold through various methods flash sales, dealer sales, floor book shelf, and Half Price Books. In all $5,381.88 was earned on book sales in FY 2017-18. See attached report for more details.

5. Fall Fundraiser

Michele discussed the FOL Annual Fundraiser. We had Pippa White do a one-woman show entitled Far as the Eye Can See. There were 34 guests in attendance. We had hoped to sell 50 tickets but fell short of our goal. We had good media coverage with a story in the Oklahoman, having our event placed on all the community calendars, putting posters up all over campus and Edmond and advertising through all our social media accounts. Nicole mentioned that 35 seems to be the litmus for FOL Fundraising events. It is about the same number we have had at all our other fundraising events. The composition of the guests was a little different in that we had more community members at this event when in the past we have had more Library personnel attend our events. It may be that Pippa didn't appeal to the younger generations as most of our guest were over 50. We will try something new next year. We are thinking of doing an escape room that may have broader appeal with the young set. After all was said and done, it cost us $187 to put on the fundraiser this year. While it was a fundraiser in the true sense of the word we had good networking a fellowship with those who did attend.

6. Contests, Events & Exhibits

Michele provided a report of the contests, events and exhibitions we had during FY 2017-18. The highlights she covered were the Comic Fest, NCUR and the Student Research Showcase. The Comic Fest had more attendees than any other event the Library has hosted with about 150 participants. She reported that we had a student lounge in the Library to support NCUR. We received $500 from the Office of High Impact Practices to purchase snacks for the lounge. The lounge and the whole Library was very popular during NCUR. The Library was full all three days of the conference. The Student Research Showcase was delayed due to weather and had to be rescheduled. We believe it impacted the participation as we had worked hard to get all the students presentations scheduled working around their school schedules. When we had to reschedule many students were not able to make the new date. It was difficult to schedule this event because of student schedules. This lead to a conversation about a potential campus wide symposium day. A day when there would be no classes so student could present and participate in sharing their research. All the board agreed it was a great idea. Nicole suggested we would need support from the top to achieve a campus wide event such as this. There are many benefits that would come from such an event. It would give students a chance to see what other students are working on, it would allow faculty to network with each other and students. Liberal Arts has been doing a symposium for many years and is a good model. Linda mentioned she is on the URCAT committee and would bring the idea up at their next meeting. See attached report for further details.

III. Other Business

1. Board Membership (New Community Member)

Michele mentioned that although we have not received official notice that Larry Musslewhite is going to step off the board we are looking for community member suggestion for his replacement. Jessica put forth former faculty Kenny Brown as a potential board member. Those on the board who know Kenny believed he would be a good addition to the board. Michele also hoped we might get someone who was a little younger

2. Nominees for President-Elect

We will need a new president come July 1, 2019. Michele asked if there were any volunteers. Randy asked who among the board members has not yet served as president. Linda Sealy was the only one. She graciously agreed to be our president elect.

IV. Next Meeting Date

We discussed a potential meeting date and everyone but Lee agreed May 1, 2019 at 12:30 would be the best time. Lee is in class on that date so will not be able to attend.

V. Adjournment

All business had been conducted and Linda motioned and Randy seconded the motion to adjourn. The meeting adjourned at 1:54.

Executive Director Report to UCO Library FOL Board

Wednesday, November 7, 2018

Dear Board Members.

Thank you for being here and your continuous support and dedication to Chambers library.

We have begun this academic year with launching new services and plans to build and expand others. Budget and political considerations are always an integral part of our plans and we work diligently to steward the resources available to us while being forward thinking and creative.

Resource Update: In consultation with faculty/Dean/Colleges, we continue to review our print and electronic collections. We are investing more in resources to ensure currency and full access. We continue to obtain individual journal title subscriptions, when embargoed in aggregated databases.

Learning Commons Updates:

- Our librarians are serving in new capacities to serve our students and research community needs more effectively.
- We have added new services and made others more impactful.
 - ✓ Innovation Studio (IS) started its operation in fall 2018. IS offers virtual reality learning experiences, 3D scanning and printing, large format printing, and green room for recording one's performance, just to name a few.
 - ✓ We have created a state of the art facility for much improved stewardship of UCO's art collections.
 - ✓ Created more user spaces for collaborative work as well as individual study spaces
 - ✓ Reconfigured seating arrangement for more efficient use of the space.
 - ✓ We are in discussions with UCO Enterprise Services to push forward our plans for a new café and collaborative/leisure seating.
- Library spaces are transforming into flex spaces with emphasis on collaboration. We do this while respect the need of those who prefer individualized and quiet spaces.

We will have expanded hours, 5/24, during the quiet and final week. In collaboration with Wellness Center, we are hosting therapeutic activities for students during this time. Stress reducing activities, such as petting therapy dogs in the library, is highly well liked events.

Respectfully,
Habib Tabatabai

FOL SPONSORED EVENTS AND CONTESTS July 2017-June 2018

Student Involvement Fair – August 2017

The Library continues to participate in the SIF, held during Stampede Week each year. This is a time when all UCO students can learn more about their campus and all UCO has to offer by visiting tables set up around Broncho Lake. This year the Library, through FOL, offered mechanical pencils, bookmarks, and Smarties candy wrapped in a note reminding them to “Get Smart” at Chambers Library. Over 500 students visited our table this year.

New Space Grand Opening and Naming – August 2017

The renovation of the space just inside the south entrance was completed. This area was updated with new seating options, including individual and group seating, more connectivity, and wall color. The focal point of the space is a colorful mural painted by Library Specialist and artist, Luci Seem. The space design was created by the Charles Evans Design Group in CFAD under the direction of Dr. Valerie Settles. The President spoke eloquently about the importance of the Library and providing these types of spaces for our students.

The space will be known as the Daybreak Lounge, as voted on by the UCO community, after a “Name That Space” contest was held in early August. Library staff members were asked to submit names for the space. We had 12 staff members submit over 57 names. The Library staff then voted on their top five choices to narrow the list down to five names. These five names were presented at the Grand Opening celebration and the whole campus was invited to vote for their favorite name from the narrowed list of five. Over 157 UCO community members voted in the contest. FOL offered $20 in Amazon money to the staff member whose name was the winner.

Book Spine Poetry Contest – September 2017

Each Fall, Chambers Library hosts a student contest to promote the Library, and to encourage students to use the Library and all the wonderful services we have to offer. This year, we re-circulated a student favorite, by offering the Book Spine Poetry Contest. In this contest, students stack the spines of books on top of each other to create an original poem. We received some very creative entries! We received 43 total entries from 27 students, many of which will be used to promote future Library activities.

Through Friends of Chambers Library, we are able to offer cash prizes to the winners; first place receives $300, second place $200, and third place $100. This year’s winners are David Horst, Sarah Davis, and Cheyenne Pickett, respectively.

VR Events:

The world of virtual reality is here, and Chambers Library is well equipped to help students and faculty learn how virtual reality can be used to enhance learning. In early September, the Library took part in a multi-campus virtual reality tour of the Arivipa Cave System, presented by Archeology Southwest. This cave system features an array of native cave art dating back centuries. This event was streamed live in The Max Room.

In October, Chambers Library, in collaboration with CeCe, hosted an Open House to showcase both our 3D and our virtual reality capabilities here at UCO. Equipment was set up in The Max Room, where students, faculty and staff enjoyed learning how to use the various pieces of equipment. We will continue to offer these types of programs as they become available.

Drawing in the Library – October & November 2017

Jose Rodriguez, Adjunct Prof. of Art, holds a weekly drawing session on the 4th floor of the Library on Thursdays from 12:00-2:30. His students come but anyone is welcome. Engaging with the African Art Collection Shikoh Shiraiwa selects a piece usually a mask and puts it on a pedestal with proper lighting then gives a brief introduction about the piece before drawing begins. The sessions will take place through the end of the semester.

Finals Week – December 2017

The Library continues to be a busy place during Finals Week! Students clamor for every available space and spend long hours studying. Chambers Library continues to support these students with free pizza and coffee on designated nights. For Fall Finals Week, Friends of the Library was able to offer two slices of pizza to over 225 students on Tuesday night. We also offered a Coffee Bar on Monday evening, and served over 400 cups of coffee. These popular events continue to please hungry students working late into the night to insure they are successful. The positive response from students was so overwhelming we had the same offerings during spring finals.

Faculty Books & Materials Grant – January 2018

The Faculty Book & Materials Grant continues to receive multiple submissions each year. These grants provide faculty members the opportunity to add books and materials to the library collection, enhancing the offerings in a specific field of study. This year we received three very worthy proposals. The grants were awarded to Dr. Kristin Karber, Math & Statistics, and Angela Marks, Theatre Arts.

Dr. Karber's submission entitled "Fostering Educational Research in Each UCO College" was a multi-disciplinary proposal that focused on instructional technology. Angela Marks' submission entitled "Theatre Arts – Design and Technology Program" focused on resources to enhance the technical aspects of Theatre Arts. A reception honoring the winners was held in April. This reception was funded by Friends of Chambers Library.

Chambers Library has offered the Faculty Book & Materials Grant since 2005. This year the books were funded through both the FOL Amazon account and direct funds.

Valentine's Bake Sale - February 2018

On Tuesday, February 14, students, staff and faculty were able to purchase delicious baked goods homemade by library staff. This year we opened the table from 9:00am to 4:00pm, which helped us raised over $226.00! This was over twice as much as last year.

Based on an idea from Library staffers, the Bake Sale bubbled to the top as a way to unify and support Friends of Chambers Library while also supporting the campus Faculty/Staff Campaign initiative. All the money raised was divided among those staffers who participated in the sale by bringing baked goods, helping with set-up, or purchasing items. The money was given to FOL in the name of those individuals, which helped increase our full-time staff giving to 99%.

Comic Fest – March 2018

Over 150 comic fans from across the metro, and Tulsa, attended the inaugural Chambers Library Comic Fest. This one-day event included a vendor area, speaker sessions, children's area, board game area, and two Cosplay Contests.

We had over 14 vendors, representing various aspects of the comic genre; including artists, authors, comic book stores, bookstores, fandom merchandisers, and fandom organizations. Each vendor provided one of the 20 door prizes that were give away throughout the event.

Three how-to sessions were offered. Local artist Jerry Bennett started the sessions with “Bringing Your Comic Characters to Life”, followed by UCO Lecturer, James Daro, and his session entitled “I Can’t Draw...Can I Still Write Comics”. The last session was presented by Jeff Provine, publisher of Okie Comics, and was entitled “What’s Going on in Oklahoma Comics”. Participants got a comprehensive look at the many ways in which individuals can become involved in the comic book industry.

Student Research Showcase – March 2018

The Student Research Showcase, an inaugural Library event, was created as a competitive event where students could present their academic research in preparation for both Oklahoma Research Day and NCUR, and receive valuable feedback about their presentations. Chambers Library, along with the Office of High Impact Practices began collaborating on this event, which soon blossomed into a campus wide committee made up of representatives from each of the five Colleges on campus, plus the Forensics Institute. The committee met, a timeline was created, a scoring rubric was finalized, and judges were secured for the event that was slated for late February. Four of the six Colleges on campus were represented with over 26 submissions.

The showcase was held with 2 oral presentations, and 14 poster presentations. The topics and the intense research performed by these students was evident in their presentations, and transformative learning has clearly taken place for those involved. Presentation were attended by both fellow students and faculty mentors, where students did an excellent job of answering questions posed by the crowd. Cash prizes were awarded for first place ($100) and runner-up ($50) from each of the four Colleges represented. The winners were:

College of Education and Professional Studies

1st place: Makenzy Hamon
Runner-up: Cara Daniels

College of Fine Arts & Design

1st place: Jacob Jones
Runner-up: Elizabeth Suarez

College of Liberal Arts

1st place: Blake Janak
Runner-up: Heather Scheele

College of Mathematics and Sciences

1st place: Emily Kelting
Runner-up: Christiana Obioma

NCUR Student Lounge and Study Rooms – April 2018

The University of Central Oklahoma recently had the honor of hosting the prestigious National Conference on Undergraduate Research (NCUR) on the UCO campus in April. Chambers Library played a key role during the conference this year, hosting a student lounge on the first floor and offering our study rooms to students for practicing their presentations. The NCUR Student Lounge offered a place for students to relax with free hot coffee and snacks sponsored by UCO’s Office of High Impact. Board Games were provided to relieve stress and were very popular.

National Library Week – April 2018

In celebration of National Library Week, FOL offered coffee & donuts to those that came into the Library between 8:00am and 11:00am, on Thursday, April 12. During this week, on Tuesday, April 10, we celebrated National Library Student Employee Day. We celebrated our student employees with decorated white bags, filled with snacks, water, and fruit. The Library has over 31 of the best and brightest student employees on campus. Our Director, Habib Tabatabai, also provided pizza for the student workers on Thursday.
