Schools At War

The School At War Program in the Comanche public schools was instituted at the beginning of the present school year. Every effort was made to enlist the fullest participation on the part of the students and teachers.

Every department prepared a comprehensive program to encourage the students to save, serve, and conserve. A class in Aeronautics was formed to further the study of aviation, the need for mathematics and science has been stressed and the physical education program has been accelerated. A very successful scrap iron drive was sponsored and more tham fifty tons were gathered by the students. The home economics department has been very active in collecting kitchen fats and earning money to apply on war bonds. The vocational agriculture department has sponsored classes in mechanics and has conducted courses in the "Rural Production Program" throughout the southern part of the county. The band is planning a program entitled "This is Our America", for the general public on the night of February 22, to celebrate Washington's birthday. The price of admission will be one ten cent war stamp which will be used to purchase a bond for the band. In fact, every department in the school has adjusted itself to war time needs.

The sale of war stamps and bonds has been the underlying theme of the entire school program. Various methods have been used to encourage the sale of stamps and bonds. Class quotas, queen contests, assembly programs, motion pictures, essay and poster contests, benefit performances, etc. have been used successfully. The total sales of stamps and bonds amounted to $2, 185 on February 1, which was approximately $4.25 per capita.

The Schools At War Program has been very successful and will be continued for the duration of the war.

MORE THAN FOUR TONS OF SCRAP BROUGHT IN DURING FIRST THREE DAYS.

Comanche citizens are convinced this week that if you want the job done right, just call on the school students and you'll get the thing started in the right way. That throng o fthree hundred youngsters who came down town during the morning Wednesday were on their way to the Ritz Theatre for a free matinee, due to their efforts in helping out in the scrap metal drive for Comanche. It all came when interest has lagged and few have taken enough interest to bring in the metal scrap themselves to the salvage lot or to the free lot provided by Dutch Fitzgerald for those who wish to donate their scrap.

More than four tons of scrap metal was brought in during the first three days of the week and and each student who brought in their quota, 10 pounds, for each one under twelve years and 2 0pounds if they were over 12 years. The school children came to town carrying armloads of metal. Others had helpers and brought boxes or baskets full. They dipped into discarded toys, they scoured their own premises and that of their neighbors and many attics, back yards and vacant lots in town and rural area, are much cleaner now from the results of the their efforts.

The Comanche school kiddies are in the scrap drive for a real attainment and they hope to be one of those who will gather in enough scrap to win one of the prizes offered to schools. If you have any scrap iron to donate, call some school pupil, or call the high school office and some will get it.

If you want to sell your scrap, bring it to Comanche and a local buyer will pay you for it.

THE vogue for woolknit fashions and handknits is reaching a new high this season. To see a collection of smart new woolknits is to know the reason why they are making such an enviable record in the fall mode.

It is almost unbelievable that such things can actually be in the knitted realm as the gorgeous plaids, checks, stripes, tweed-like effects and other fabric patternings achieved in current fashions. But

Why We Should Buy United States War Bonds and Stamps

We, the people of these United States, have a great problem on our hands today. This problem will exist for a century to come. We have an expenditure so amazingly high, that an ordinary person cannot begin to understand the tremendous meaning of it. The money we are appropiating and spending cannot be supplied only by taxation.

Our financial conditions before the opening of the war were, to be sure, suitable to the whole of the populace of our great nation. Today, we have ships, guns, and every other kind of machinery for modern warfare. Consequently, we will have to spend our resources to supply, not only ourselves, but help supply every allied nation in the world with munitions.

The people constituting the nation of America, should do everything in their power to promote a better welfare for the soldier that is giving his life to save ours. Most of our populace is doing war work, giving tires, gas etc. but this is not enough. We should put every possible effort to the winning of the war. We as a whole have a great burden on our shoulders and we do not realize it. When this war is over and done, there is more than likely to be a depression. We can do several things to insure our way of living when the war closes. We can purchase United States War Bonds and Stamps. This is the supreme effort of our civilization, to help Slap a Jap, and to suppress the dictators. We have a triple reason to buy an investment in our mode of living and way of life. First, we can invite the close of war by buying Bonds and Stamps. Second, we help the soldiers, sailors, marines, and all our other fighting men, in their effort to combat our enemies. Third, we take an insurance policy on our lives and home, bby pruchasing them. When we have our Bonds and Stamps to turn into money at 33 1/3% over a period of ten years.

Original Ballad

Disaster At Pearl Harbor.

On the morning, December seventh,
Pearl Harbor was attacked.
By our own dear (friends?) the bombs were drop't,
Plunged home int. our back!

On the morn they hung like angry wasps;
And
They plunged to attack our port.
Our guns roared back a song of death
From in a hillside fort.

A falling bomb burst in the street;
Its awful scream was done.
A lost child's wail hung on the air,
And died in the roar of guns.

From a red-cross building, plainly marked,
The flame belched forth in rolls.
God save the hand that steered that bomb
To destroy those helpless souls.

Outnumbered ten to one, they fought
Against great odds that day.
From morn 'till ere the fight went on
To the setting sun's last ray.

The battle raged into the night;
The weary men fought back.
One-half their guns were twisted steel;
The fleet was charred and black.

Next day, Pearl Harbor lay smoking in ruins;,
And lifeless it seemed to be.
God save the ones who dropt the bombs,
For we shall have no mercy.

God bless the ones who died that day
To guard our Liberty.
God bless the poor brave souls who died;
~~That~~ Who gave their life for me.

Why We Buy War Bonds and Stamps

Everyone is urged to buy war bonds and stamps. Did you ever think why we buy them?

I have no brothers to go to the service of our country but I do have many friends. I would not like to think of their running short of equipment. Their equipment from tanks to mess kits is bought with war bonds and stamps. For that reason I shall buy all I can, everytime I can.

America needs money to operate this war. Are we going to desert her now? Of course not! America stands for freedom and democracy for which we are all proud. The war bonds and stamps help preserve that freedom and democracy.

We can't all go over there and fight for our country, but we can all buy war bonds and stamps regularly.

War bonds and stamps also mean future secreity. When this war is over those bonds are going to help. Perhaps a present defense worker wants to buy a farm when this war is over. He can buy it with his bonds.

After World War I, many people were out of jobs, and they had no money. They are buying war bonds now, so they will be secure if jobs are scarce, later.

Can you think of any safer investment than in war bonds and stamps? I think not, so let's put our ten per-cent, and even more in war bonds and stamps.

Comanche Indians to Play Waurika Tonight

THIS IS FIRST HOME GAME AND ALSO SECOND CONVERENCE GAME OF SEASON

The Comanche Indians open their home schedule this year with a game with the Waurika Eagles Thursday night, tonight. The game is the second southern six conference game to be played thus far this season by the local boys.

After dropping their opener to the Temple Tigers two weeks ago, the Indians drew an open date last week end and have been putting in extra time since then in practicing and a scrimmage game with Duncan B team. The weak spots have been plugged, according to Coach Arthur Smith and the boys are ready to go against the strong aggregation from Jefferson county tonight.

All members of the squad are in pretty good shape and there are few injuries among the boys. Some changes in the lineup have been announced and a few of the second string will be given a chance at the starting lineup, Smith said.

The Eagles have lost both games they have played this season and it is reported from their headquarters that they are recuperated from losses and are ready to go. Their backfield is much heavier than Comanche's, but the average in the line is about the same as the Indians.

Following is the probable starting lineup for the Indians:

INDIANS TO INVADE TEMPLE FRIDAY NIGHT

COMANCHE DRAWS , 12 TO 0 LOSS FROM FREDERICK IN FIRST GAME OF SEASON

Beginning their conference year Friday night of this week, the Comanche Indians will invade Temple for a try at the Tigers, Coach Arthur Smith said today.

The squad is working out every day strengthening the weak spots in their defense after taknig a 12 to 0 loss from Frederick Friday night in a game that ended with plenty of rain, mud and colds for all of them. Considering the fact that they were heavily outweighed in all positions, the Indians played a splendid game, which threatened to even up when a driving rained forced the game to be stopped in the last quarter.

W. C. Fuller, quartereback, Doug Pierce, guard and Scott, captain, did most of the ball toting for the Indians. Comanche was penalized a total of 45 yards to Frederick's 110 yards. Frederick's counters were made in the second and lsat quarters.

A large crowd is expected to accompany the boys to Temple Friday night for their conference opener. On account of the recent ruling prohibiting the use of school buses for transportation purposes other than to and from school, the squad will have to make the trip in private cars.

The probable starting lineup for Friday's game will be:

State Inspector Compliments School

C. A. Arterburn, school superintendent and his corps of teachers were highly complimented Wednesday by Clay Kerr, state high school inspector on his visit to the local school system.

Kerr especially complimented the Comanche schools educational program outlined for the year in the ability to carry on as normallyas they are in view of the present teacher shortage and crisis. He said he found hings in fine shape here and also at Loco school where he visited earlier in the day.

Classes in the Paramount Building of the Comanche schools have been organized to promote the sale of war stamps and bonds.

Each room in the building has its own program and the students have responded splendidly to the plan. The 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th grades are all participating and a brief description of the program in each room is given below.

For our defense drive in the 4th grade, we have a chart with a large V for victory. We want to assure victory by buying stamps and bonds. We have a contest between our boys and girls. Each stamp is bought, a star is placed on the V.

The boys and girls of the fifth grade are making individual U. S. flags of stars. Every time a stamp is bought, that person places a star on his flag.

Nineteen boys and girs are buying stamps regularly.

Gordon Dale Jackson has $100 bond and Bryant Haskins has a $18.75 bond.

In tthe sixth grade we have drawn a large picture of Uncle Sam. He is rolling up his sleeves and is holding his coat. On top and bottom are the words, "Victory for Uncle Sam. Buy Stamps and and Bonds."

The boys and girls are seeing who can buy the most stamps. For every stamp we are giving a star paste on Uncle Sam. The sixth grade has bought 8.40 of stamps since November 10.

Uncle Sam is just a legend like Saint Patrick and many others. But he has been in every true Americans heart since the war for Independence, till this war and with our efforts we intend to make him stay.

Young Americans in the seventh grade are steadily keeping up their purchases of war stamps and recording their progress on a chart in their room.

To stimulate interest and keep us buying, we have a contest between the boys and girls. For each stamp bought a star is added to their respective flags.

At the end of the first two weeks the boys have added 48 stars to the flag and have started a complete row.

The girls have their flag practically filled and are working hard to finish it.

The eighth grade is finding it a very delightful job of trying to blot out the Axis. With the maps of Germany, Italy and Japan we are blotting them out with green stars which stand for U. S. Defense Stamps. The Japanese being blotted out we are working on Italy and Germany.

Our third grade front chart consists of pictures of the students. Whenever a student buys a stamp a star is placed by his picture and a small flag is placed on the chart for each dollar's worth of stamps bought. The patriotic citizens of the eighth grade have bought $11 worth of stamps.
