Social Studies Classes have been studying a Unit on North Africa. Imagine our surprise and delight in hearing our president was in Morocco at the very time we were finishing our assignment on this locality of the continent . Needless, to say we continued the Unit two weeks as we came to know Casablanca more intimately .

Our daily papers were most helpful to us by publishing many pictures of this momentuous meeting; also new geographic features of this country which our geographies did not give .

LEARNING HOW TO GET THE MOST FOR YOUR MONEY.

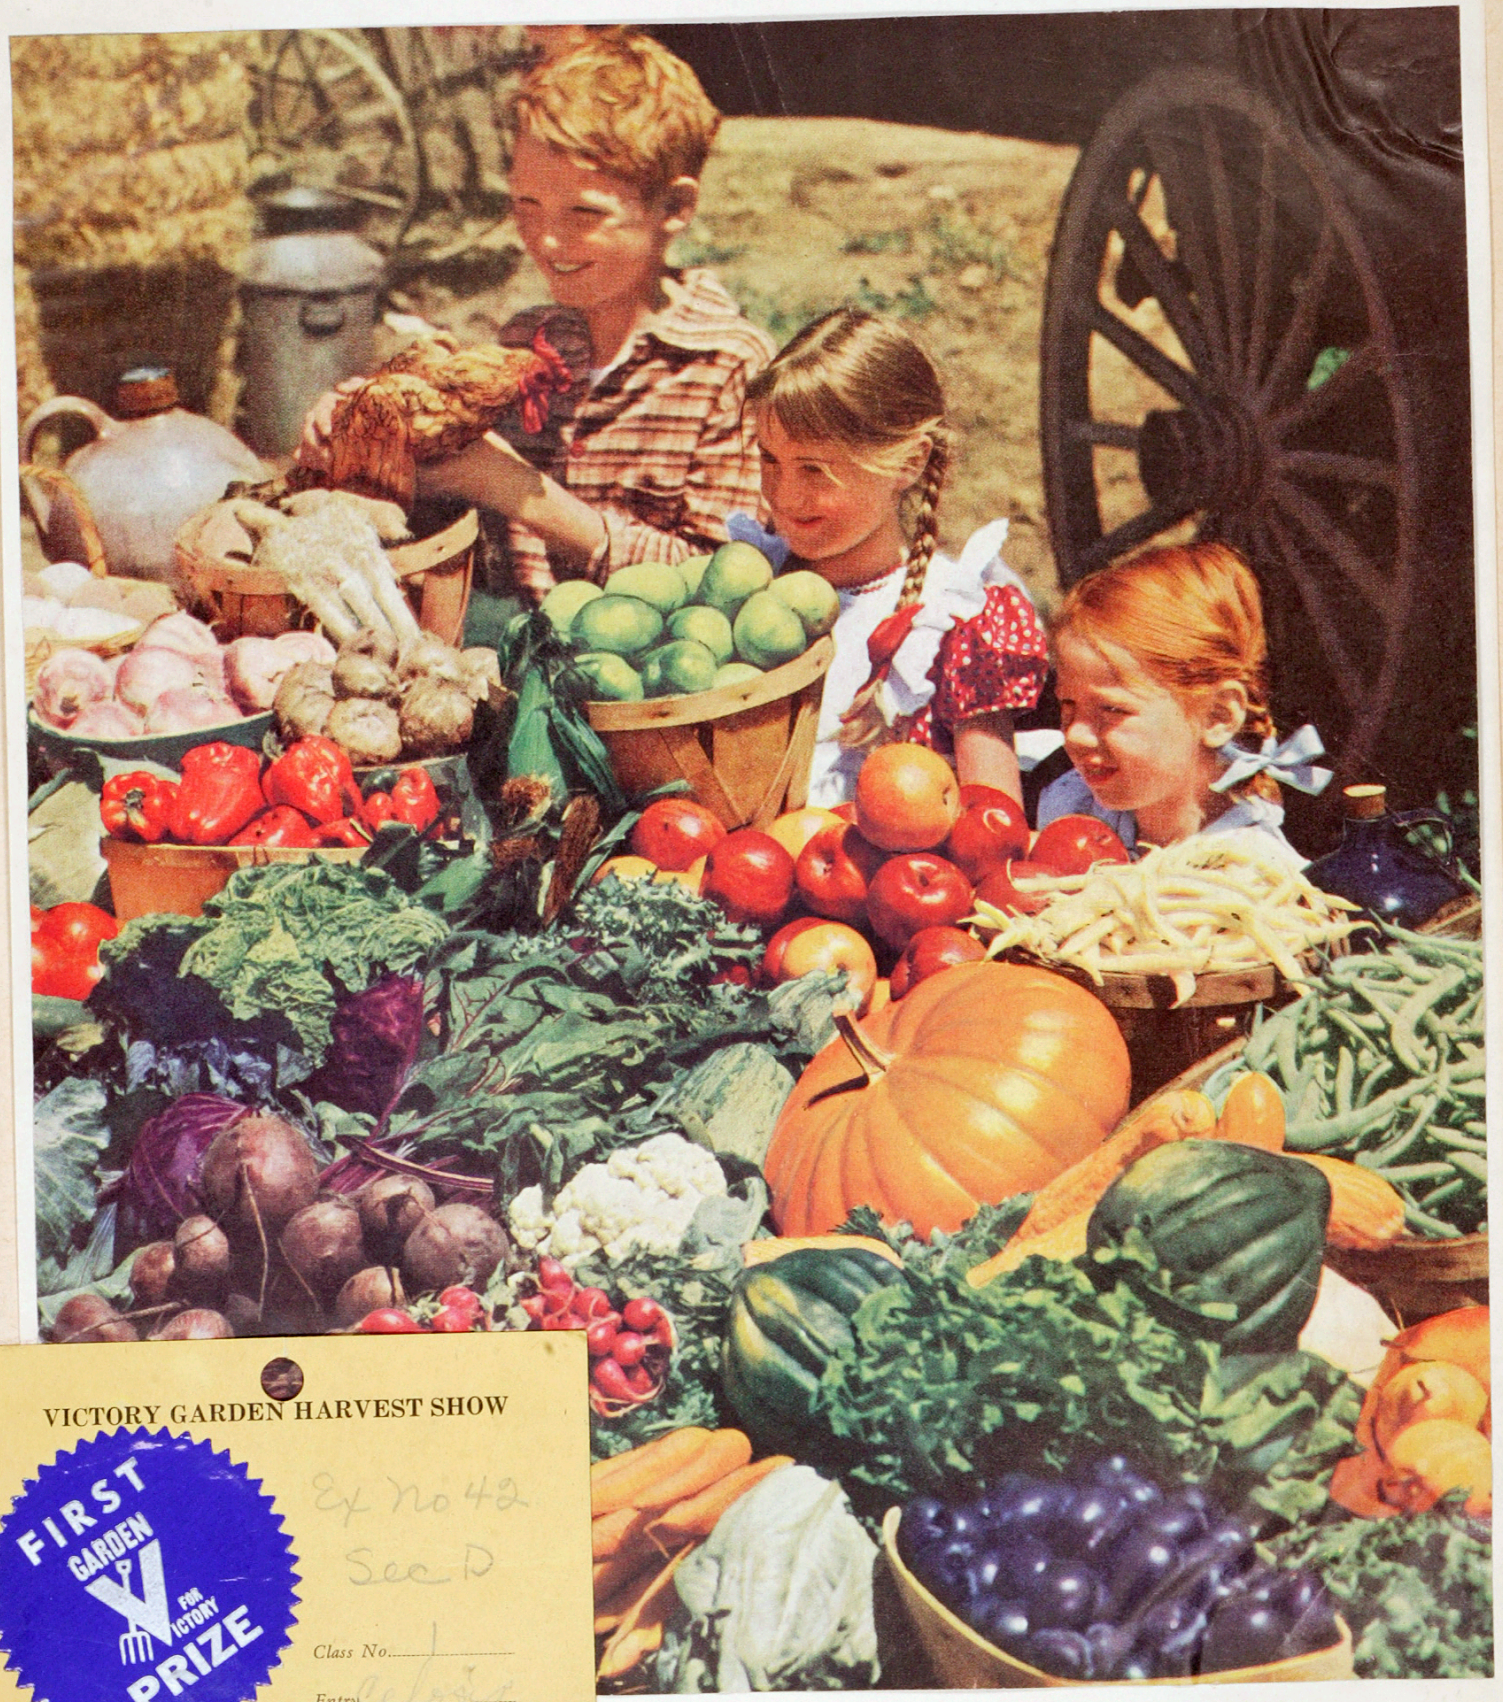

Learning through an excursion trip to the City Market how to get the most vitamins for our money.

First we learn what foods contain certain vitamins ; where they are grown; the cost of the fresh , dried and canned variety ; how they help us to build strong bodies.

After having learned the vitamin content of foods we proceed to spend our money but wisely . The pupils choosing the best foods for building strong bodies get the higher grades.

JUNIOR RED CROSS

The pupils of Lafayette School are doing their part to help others in the Community, the Nation, and the world. During Roll Call from November 11, to November 30, 1942 Lafayette School was one hundred per cent on enrollment for the Junior Red Cross.

All aboard for Europe, Asia, and Islands in the Pacific: "Remember send only what you would send a friend", was the slogan of Lafayette School which was one hundred per cent for the gift boxes to be sent abroad in October. Many useful articles, such as soap, towels and tooth brushes were included.

The Ft. Sill cantonment Hospital asked for one thousand boxes of Christmas candy and 1000 bed side christmas trees to which the pupils of Lafayette contributed their share along with Xmas baskets to the needy of our own community.

Defense Stamps.

There were three pennies
In a bank,
In went another -
Clank, clank, clank!

In went pennies
More and more
Until the bank held
Twenty four.

Out they went Into a hand,
Another joined
The penny band.

And with the money
A stamp was bought,
To help win this war
That must be fought!

Away went the pennies,
Firm and true,
To help the red, the white
And blue!
A stamp is small
But pennies buy it,
So come on, folks -
Let's ALL try it.

Let's bomb the Japs! It must be done!

The Message of the Flag.

Red, white and blue,
Flag ever true,
Emblem of freedom the wide world o'er,
Stripes red and white,
Stars shining bright,
We pledge allegiance evermore.

Beaming, gleming, standing for the right,
Waving, braving every storm and fight;
Glorious flag, our love you know
Follows you wheree'er you go,
Bearing your message of freedom's light.

Your colors three
On land or sea,
Blazon the Greetings, "Good will to all,"
You've cheered and blessed
The weak and oppressed,
Friends of all nations great and small.

Beaming, gleaming, standing for the right
Waving, braving, every storm and fight;
Glorious flag, our love you know,
Follows you wheree'er you go
Bearing your message of freedom's light.

Help Win the War.

Help win the war! We can all help. We can save our money - instead of going to the show, save that money to help.

We can help by saving tin cans, rubber, scrap and papers. The children say there isn't anything for them to do. But if your mother and father go to work in the summer, you can stay home and plant a garden to help send food to the boys in service. We have to keep on giving metal, if we want planes, tanks and trucks.

We can win the war more than one way. Another is to buy Bonds and Stamp, and to keep on buying Bonds and Stamps.

Our boys don't intend to come back until it is over.

Rebecca Fener
Aged 11

Help Win The War.

Some people think that little things like buying war stamps don't help much. But they do.

If you want to help win the war, you can buy war stamps, gather scrap iron, and learn your lessons well. Because every little thing counts. Then we'll get those dirty Japs who bombed Pearl Harbor.

Donald Ruminer.

Fight for Freedom.

Our men and boys are fighting for freesom for us back home. So we to win the war we must keep joy in our hearts and sing for those boys and husbands on the battle field and in camp.

There are two things our boys want us to do - to buy bonds and stamps, and to save scrap - tin, rubber, old keys, scraps of all kinds to help them.

Our flag is waving for victory and let us see that we get it, and that Uncle Sam will be proud of the boys and men and their wives and children.
We hope they'll all come home, and we'll keep victory in our hearts.

You Can Help Win the War.

You, and you, and you can help win this war. We must all work together if we want freedom and peace. All of us must help each other, side by side.

Some people say, "Why, what can I do?" There are jobs for all of us. If you are too young to be in the services, you can save scrap iron, scrap rubber, old papers and magazines, tinfoil, old keys and tin cans.

Hundreds of men and women work in war factories night and day. They turn out hundreds of jeeps, planes, ships, destroyers and ambulances each day.

Many children collect scraps of all kinds. Others make model airplanes for the war department. The children can also help by learning their schoolwork well, and getting all the education they can.

Lots of men and women quit good jobs to work in war plants. Some are riveters. Some make wings, bodies, tails of airplanes. Others do many different jobs. Younger boys or older men take the jobs that the service men left.

SING FOR

VICTORY

R.M.A.

Music at War.

Music helps keep up our morale in war. It helps in the home, schools and industries. It helps keep up our spirits, it makes those happier who have sons or relatives in the service.

These people have more hope of their children and dear ones coming home.

In the schools children sing patriotic songs like "Army Air Corps," "Over There", "There's A Star Spangled Banner Waving Somewhere," "Marine's Hymn," and "Bless them all."

Music peps up the men and women who work in the industries and so send our guns, planes, tanks, jeeps, ships and destroyers faster along the assembly lines, so we may more quickly win the war.

So - let's keep them singing!

Billie A. Smith.

WE STARTED SOMETHING.
(Could be Japan's Theme Song.)
(Tune: They Started Something.)

We started something,
But they're gonna end it,
Right in our own backyard.
They're proud of their country and proud to defend it
And Yankee Doodle hit us hard.

They put their shoulders to the wheel,
And the whole Jap army got a different feel,
O, we started something,
But they're going to end it,
Right in our own backyard.

(Tune: Chattanooga Choo-Choo.)

Pardon me, boys, is that the Phillipine Convoy
On Pier 39?
Boy, give me a shine,
I can't afford to board
A Phillipine Convoy.
Uncle Sam will pay my fare
For he needs me there.
You leave San Diego Harboor 'bout quarter to four,
Sink a submarine then you're in Baltimore,
Dinner in the diner,
Nothing could be finer
Than to have your bread and beans on a Navy liner.
Shovel all the coal in,
Got to keep a-rollin',
Woo woo!
Tokyo, here we are!

How Music Can Win the War.

Music can win the war. When soldiers are sad, they can sing. It makes them happier. Some people wake up in a bad humor, but others wake up in a good humor, singing as soon as they get up.

Once a man who was a great singer joined the army. Soon after, as he and some of his companions were fighting, he had a great desire to sing. So he stood up and sang. He sang and charmed the Germans so much that when he finished they found they were surrounded by Americans and had to surrender.

So music can win the war.

Robert Martin.

Let's Win This War.
(Tune: Got a Touch of Texas in My Heart.)

We'll win this war, if we save scraps,
So we can beat those ugly Japs,
We can win this war, if we save food;
Don't waste an egg, meat is good stewed.
Let us pep up right away,
Write to a soldier every day.

We can win - if we save old scraps,
Like rubber and iron and tin -
Help win!
Help the allies beat
The axis right out of their seat.

Save things, like old pots and pan,
Don't give to the salvage man.
Do your schoolwork well, learn to spell
Don't gossip about Mary Bell.

Help us win this war, aglore,
Pitch right in, help us make high score.
You'd better get right out of bed,
Don't be a sleepy head...

Buy Bonds to keep us gay,

Every Bond helps a lot,

So buy! Buy! Buy! Buy! Buy Bonds.

So that we can get Japan,

It will help the service man,

So buy! Buy! Buy! Buy! Buy Bonds.

Gather up old rubber bands,

Don't talk rot,

Buy stamps each bit helps a lot,

Scholarship and conduct are the determining factors in the selection of students to serve the school as Junior Police.

Their duty is primarily the safety of the school children. In view of this, the Junior Police at all intermissions are stationed at strategic points where danger is eminent and accidents are most likely to occur.

Daily posts of duty are each entrance and exit of the building, the foot landing and top of the stairs, the drinking fountains, the basements, and the playground.

During fire and air raid drills, each member of the Junior Police has a definite duty assignment as to assisting in clearing the building, or otherwise aiding in the safety of the school children.

The personnel of the Lafayette Junior Police is made up of the following students:

Captain--J. O. Lawrence
