

IN THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES.

FEBRUARY 1, 1888.—Ordered to be printed.

Mr. JONES, from the Committee on Claims, submitted the following

REPORT:

[To accompany bill S. 147.]

This bill was reported favorably in both the Senate and House in the Forty-ninth Congress, and this committee re-adopt the Senate report at last session, as follows:

This bill is for the relief of S. D. Barclay, G. D. Adams, and William H. Kimbrough, who were sureties on the bond of Samuel A. Blaine, late Indian agent at Wichita Agency, and against whom, as such sureties, judgment was rendered in the United States court for the northern district of Texas, at Waco, for the sum of $5,000, on the 25th day of November, A. D. 1886.

Said Blaine was appointed Indian agent at Wichita Agency, and gave bond as such agent on February 8, 1859, and his service ran up to June 30, 1860, when he resigned and filed his final account-current, which showed the Government to be in his debt in the sum of $92.83.

Blaine died in 1866. No notice of any claim of the Government against Blaine was ever given him in his lifetime, and none was given his sureties until the year 1883, more than twenty-three years after his resignation and final account-current, and more than sixteen years after his death.

Congress has repeatedly relieved parties in similar cases of long delay on the part of the Government, and for reasons that must strongly impress all fair-minded men. The Senate of the United States has recognized the equity and justice of thus relieving persons during the present Congress. But in addition to this strong ground for relief, the parties in this case have other facts in their favor.

Except in two or three items of comparatively small amounts, the alleged deficiency of Blaine is in his property account. He is charged with large quantities of goods, for which the papers now in the Second Auditor's Office do not show that he has satisfactorily accounted. The Second Auditor having been requested by this committee to furnish all the facts and information in his possession in this case; forwarded copies of accounts, all of which are printed herewith for the information of the Senate, and accompanied them with a letter, which is also printed, and from which we make the following extracts:

It is well known, however, that under the superintendency system it was the frequent practice for the superintendent to send invoices in advance of delivery, requiring the agent to receipt for the goods which were supposed to be en route for the agency, and the accounting officers are satisfied that in many cases the goods never actually passed into the agent's hands, though in the evidence furnished he was chargeable with the value thereof. This office is strongly inclined to think this a case of that kind, the more so as an examination of the first property returns of Blaine's successor, M. Leeper, shows that the latter entered as received from Superintendent Rector a large quantity of goods of like description with those in question, and the paucity and incompleteness of the records as then kept prevent certainly on this point. The papers furnish strong probability of the identity in many cases of the goods charged to Blaine with those taken up by Leeper.

It is quite possible that in the disturbed state of the country the supplies invoiced to Blaine and receipted for by him did not arrive till his successor had taken charge. One other remark may be justifiable in this connection. It is well known that the Indian Office has stored away, waiting the slow action of an insufficient force of assorting clerks, a large number of accounts, documents, and other evidence relating to the service before the war; the fires to which that office has been subject, having compelled those records to be stored in chaotic condition, it is possible, therefor, that the evidence which might throw light on the transaction involved in this case may be concealed in that mass of papers.

In addition to all this, it appears that the records, papers, &c., at the Wichita Agency were destroyed during the war by Quantrell's band.

Mr. Blaine is shown to have been a man of correct habits and good character. He left the agency on horseback and lived and died a poor man.

Under all these circumstances this committee believe it to be very much more likely that Blaine either receipted for these goods, not having received them, or that he accounted for them and his accounts have been lost or mislaid, than that he should have misappropriated them.

The parties asking relief say that they were in comfortable circumstances when they executed the bond, but that they cannot now pay this judgment without waiving their exemptions under the law and selling their homesteads and leaving their families homeless.

Under all the circumstances of this case your committee believe these parties entitled fairly to the relief they ask, and they report the bill back to the Senate and recommend its passage.

Memorial of S. D. Barclay, of Texas, asking for Congressional relief.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States in Congress assembled:

Your petitioner, S. D. Barclay, who resides in the county of Falls, State of Texas, respectfully represents to your honorable body that, on the 8th day of February, A. D. 1859, Samuel A. Blaine, then a resident of said county and State, having been appointed Indian agent of the Wichita Agency, Indian Territory, by the President of the United States, did execute and deliver a bond payable to the United States, in the sum of $5,000, conditioned as required by law, with S. S. Ward, D. G. Adams, S. D. Barclay (your petitioner), and William H. Kimbrough as sureties.

Suit was filed against said sureties by the Government, on the 9th day of December, A. D. 1884, in the United States district court at Waco, in the northern district of Texas. Judgment was rendered against said sureties, on the 23d day of November, 1886, and execution issued, on the 13th day of December, 1886.

Your petitioner further represents that Samuel A. Blaine, agent, &c., executed and delivered the said bond, on which this suit is founded February 8, 1859; that his resignation as Indian agent was accepted July 27, 1860; that no official notice, or notice of any character, was given to petitioner of the alleged indebtedness of said Blaine until the year, A. D. 1883, a lapse of twenty-three years after the alleged defalcation; that, owing to this lapse of time, the death of said Blaine, the destruction of said Blaine's vouchers by Quantrell's band, and the burning of the records of the Wichita Agency (as shown by exhibits hereto attached and marked B), your petitioner is unable to make an equitable settlement with the Government.

Your petitioner respectfully submits that a careful analysis of the certified statements from the Treasury Department, at Washington, D. C., hereto attached, and marked Exhibit A will show that the property, constituting the greater part of the alleged indebtedness is of such a character as to convince your honorable body that Agent Blaine did not misapply said property; that he did not sell it is evidenced by these facts: the Indians would not purchase or use such property; that Agent Blaine did not asport such property is shown by affidavit of L. B. Barton hereto attached and marked Exhibit B (which exhibit see for material facts).

Your petitioner further represents that at the date of the execution of said bond the sureties were solvent, but through the vicissitude of war and misfortune all of said sureties are now poor and unable to pay off and satisfy said execution, without waiving the exemption law, selling their homesteads and leaving their families homeless.

Your petitioner respectfully calls the attention of your honorable body to affidavits of citizens of this county hereto attached and marked Exhibit C, also certificate of Hon. C. B. Pearre, United States district attorney for the northern district of Texas, marked Exhibit D.

Premises considered, your petitioner prays your honorable body to adopt such measures as will relieve him from the payment and satisfaction of said execution, and as in duty bound he will ever pray, &c.

S. D. BARCLAY,
Petitioner.

EXHIBIT B.

THE STATE OF TEXAS,

County of Falls:

Personally appeared before me, the undersigned authority, L. B. Barton, to me well known, and, after being by me duly sworn, deposes and says that he has been a resident of Marlin, Falls County, Texas, since the year 1849, except about five years, when he resided in Cook and Grayson Counties, Texas; that he became acquainted with Samuel A. Blaine in 1849, and that affiant's social and business relations with said Blaine were intimate from that period (1849) to his death, which occurred in the town of Marlin in the year 1865.

Affiant alleges that during his long acquaintance with Samuel A. Blaine he, with all others who enjoyed his acquaintance, regarded him as a man of undoubted integrity, and a citizen above reproach; that he was a man of good moral character and honorable deportment, being a minister of the Baptist Church, having the full confidence of the membership of his church and all others.

Affiant further deposes that on the 22d day of March, 1859, he, Isaac M. Barton, and Luke Church left the town of Marlin with the family of said Blaine and the family of affiant, to go to the Wichitaw Agency, Ind. T., and that on his arrival at Red River he was met by said Blaine to conduct them to the agency, but the families of said Blaine and affiant seeing a great number of Indians became alarmed, and refused to go to the agency; whereupon it was agreed that affiant, with his family and said Blaine's family, should remain in Texas, and affiant then built houses on the Texas side of Red River, where the said Blaine occasionally visited his family, and that they lived there until after the resignation of said Blaine.

Affiant states that he was at said place when Samuel A. Blaine returned to Texas after his resignation, and that he (Blaine) came from the agency on horseback, and brought no property described in Exhibit A, which has been shown affiant, and that at no time afterward was such property in the possession of said Blaine.

Affiant further says he never knew said Blaine to have in his possession any money except such as he furnished in small amounts to support his family, and that said Blaine died in debt, and that the place on which he lived in Marlin at the time of his decease was taken from his family for the purchase-money due on same, and that his family was left entirely without the means of support.

Affiant further says that the said Blaine, on his return from the agency after his resignation, and frequently subsequent thereto, stated to affiant that the Government was due him a considerable amount of money.

Affiant further says that he and the said Blaine, in the year 1862, removed with their families to Sherman, Tex., and that the said Blaine carried his vouchers as Indian agent with him to said place, and in that year he was set upon by the Quantrell band in said town of Sherman, who seized and destroyed his (Blaine's) private papers, among which were his vouchers as stated by said Blaine.

Affiant further states that it was currently reported and believed that the Wichita Agency, together with all property, was destroyed by jayhawkers during the year 1862, and that Agent Leeper, who succeeded Agent Blaine as agent, was at his house in Sherman, Tex., after the destruction of said property, and detailed the whole circumstances attending the same, and stated, among other things, that the files and records of the office were all burned up.

L. B. BARTON.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this the 7th day of January, A. D. 1887.

WACO, TEX., January —, 1887.

I certify that Judge E. C. Stuart, Hon. J. D. Oltorf, Mr. Z. Bartlett, William Killebrew, M. D., L. B. Barton, esq., are personally known to me, and have been for twenty years past; that I know them and each of them to be men of honor and veracity, and they all stand high in the State as honorable men and good citizens, and that their affidavit is worthy of full faith and credit.

CHARLES B. PEARRE,

United States Attorney, Northern District of Texas.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, SECOND AUDITOR'S OFFICE,

Washington, D. C., January 19, 1887.

SIR: In reply to your inquiry, through Mr. L. H. Mangum, of the First Comptroller's Office, as to the accounts of Samuel A. Blaine, Indian agent, you are informed as follows:

Agent Blaine was stationed at the Wichita Agency, and gave bond February 8, 1859; his service ran from that date to June 30, 1860. On his final account-current he stated a balance of $92.83 due him from the Government.

On final settlement of his accounts in this office, the following differences were found:

- (1) He had received from Elias Rector, Superintendent of Indian Affairs, $500 which he had not passed to the credit of the United States.
- (2) He had overcharged his salary $264.43.
- (3) There were chargeable to incorrect computation, imperfect vouchers, &c., the sum of $32.66.
- (4) Public property in his hands was not properly accounted for to the value of $6,550.09.
- (5) Per contra, he had improperly credited the Government with $204.25.

Thus his account stood:

Received from Elias Rector.....	$500 00
Salary overcharged.....	264 43
Vouchers disallowed.....	32 66
Property not accounted for.....	6,550 09
	7,347 18
Less amount improperly credited	204 25
	7,142 93
Deduct amount due him by his account-current	92 83
	7,050 10

Balance due the United States 7,050 10

His account was settled in 1862, and he was duly notified of the result by letter of October 17, 1862. On September 13, 1884, this office was called on for a transcript of the account for suit, a restatement having been made February 29, 1884, passing to his credit certain items which reduced the balance against him to the above amount.

The transcript was furnished September 17, 1884, and the account is now believed to be in suit. As the long delay in acting on the balance is a thing not originating in this office, and for which it is not responsible, no explanation of it is attempted.

Very respectfully,

Hon. J. K. JONES,
United States Senate.

WM. A. DAY,
Auditor.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, SECOND AUDITOR'S OFFICE,

Washington, D. C., January 24, 1887.

SIR: In response to your inquiry as to the accounts of Samuel A. Blaine, Indian agent at Wichita Agency, for relief of whose sureties Senate bill 3054 is pending, I have the honor to invite attention to the following statement, and to the accompanying exhibits.

Agent Blaine gave two bonds, dated, respectively, July 24, 1858, and February 8, 1859. On settlement of his accounts under the former bond, June 8, 1860 (settlement 9834 of this office), a balance of $7.88 was found due the United States, arising thus:

Unpaid salary due the agent to February 7, 1859, inclusive.....	$104 12
Per contra, two suspended vouchers amounting to.....	112 00

Balance due the United States..... 7 88

On revision of his accounts in 1884, the two suspended vouchers were for good reasons allowed in settlement, and a balance of salary, therefore, of $104.12 was found due the agent, which was transferred as a credit to his account under bond of February 8, 1859, thus closing the account under the earlier bond.

Under the second bond Agent Blaine rendered accounts for cash and property to June 30, 1860. His resignation was accepted July 27, 1860, to take effect at once, though he appears to have remained at the agency some time longer; but his successor, M. Leeper, was appointed on the above date, and took the official oath on August 6, 1860.

The agent's cash accounts under the bond of 1859 were settled, without reference to his property account, October 17, 1862, and a balance of $2,561.78 found due the United States. His own account, as rendered to June 30, 1860, showed a balance due him of $92.83 as unpaid salary. The difference was made up of suspended vouchers, $2,551.59; net amount of erroneous entries, $103.02, being the difference between official balance against him, $2,561.78, and agent's balance due him, $92.83, or $2,654.61.

A letter notifying him of the result was written October 17, 1862, but appears never to have reached him; nor does further action appear till 1884, when his account was restated, and property not accounted for charged to him, preparatory to instituting suit for balance due.

A statement of his property account had been made in 1862, showing $7,578.06 as the value of property charged to him and not properly accounted for by vouchers of issue, transfer, &c.

On revision of the old accounts for restatement, the suspensions in his cash account were nearly all removed, the objections appearing too technical in character; and the property charges were reduced to $6,550.09. The resettlement (No. 1314, February 23, 1884, this office files) shows, therefore, the following items: Official balance found due the United States, $7,050.10; due agent, by his own rendering, $92.83; difference $7,142.93 (Exhibit A), made up as follows (Exhibit B):

Voucher 1, abstract A, second quarter, 1859, suspended because receipted by ÷ mark not witnessed, $30; overcharge by him in computing salary, $3.16.....	$33 16
Amount received from Elias Rector, Superintendent of Indian Affairs, July 30, 1859, not credited to the United States by the agent	500 00
Amount claimed by him a balance due on September 30, 1859, but which he charges twice, once as disbursement on voucher 29, fourth quarter, 1859, and again on account current for that quarter (it forms part of the item $7,772.65) (Exhibit E).....	307 77
Value of property not accounted for (Exhibit A).....	6,550 09
	7,391 02
Less amount erroneously passed to credit of United States.....	$204 25
Less error in footing	50
Less salary short engaged by him in first quarter, 1859	43 34
	248 09
	7,142 93

In analyzing this statement the following remarks are pertinent:

(1) It is found, on examination of the settlements, that the total salary credited amounts to $1,831.60, while the amount actually earned was $1,937.50. He has, therefore, been short paid salary, $105.90.

(2) In respect of the voucher for $30, suspended because the cross ÷ mark signature is unwitnessed, no claim for the amount appears ever to have been made, nor has any evidence been found indicating that the agent did not actually pay the amount for services actually rendered.

(Exhibits G, H, and I.)

(3) The property charged arises almost entirely on certain invoices of goods which were not received with the agent's accounts, but reached this office February 3, 1860, inclosed in a jacket with the following indorsement:

"For account S. A. Blaine, agent, &c.

"The inclosed receipts for dry goods, hardware, clothing, &c., are respectfully referred to the Second Auditor to file with the property accounts of Agent Blaine, he to be debited and Superintendent Rector to be credited, with the face of the receipts.

"A. B. GREENWOOD,
"Commissioner."

OFFICE INDIAN AFFAIRS, January 31, 1860

These invoices bear Blaine's receipt for the goods as received from Rector, and the agent has taken up on his returns a small part of them and has been charged with the rest as property unaccounted for.

It is well known, however, that under the superintendency system, it was the frequent practice for the Superintendent to send invoices in advance of delivery, requiring the agent to receipt for the goods which were supposed to be en route for the agency, and the accounting officers are satisfied that, in many cases, the goods never actually passed into the agent's hands, though, on the evidence furnished, he was chargeable with the value thereof. This office is strongly inclined to think this a case of that kind; the more so as an examination of the first property returns of Blaine's successor, Mr. Leeper, shows that the latter entered as received from Superintendent Rector a large quantity of goods of like description with those in question, and though the paucity and incompleteness of the records as then kept prevents certainly on this point, the papers furnish strong probability of the identity, in many cases, of the goods charged to Blaine with those taken up by Leeper. It is quite possible that, in the then disturbed state of the country, the supplies invoiced to Blaine and receipted for by him did not arrive till his successor had taken charge.

One other remark may be justifiable in this connection. It is well known that the Indian Office has stored away, waiting the slow action of an insufficient force of assorting clerks, a large number of accounts, documents, and other evidence relating to the service before the war, the fires to which that office has been subject having compelled those records to be stored in a chaotic condition. It is possible, therefore, that evidence which might throw light on the transactions involved in this case may be concealed in that mass of papers.

(4) The $500 received from Rector (Exhibit M) appears to be a proper charge against Agent Blaine, who received it as salary, and perhaps thought it unnecessary to credit the Government with it on that account. But as he charged the salary in his vouchers he should have allowed credit for this payment.

Exhibit E shows the final account current of the agent. L shows a summary of the entries on all the accounts current rendered by him; N shows his entire account on the Government books under the second bond, omitting only the distribution of items under heads of appropriation. It is hoped that the papers transmitted will, in connection with this statement, render the case sufficiently clear for proper legislative action.

Very respectfully,

WM. A. DAY,
Auditor.

Hon. J. K. JONES,
United States Senate.
