WE REPORT TO THE NATION

We herewith submit a bird's-eye view report of our SCHOOLS AT WAR Program. It includes factual and pictorial accounts of our War Savings Program and other outstanding war activities. It is tangible proof of the resourcefulness, skills, activities and the will to win of every student, teacher and parent enlisted in our SCHOOLS AT WAR Program.

THE GOOD SHEPHERD

PEACE A CHILDS PRAYER

DEAR GOD: please let all warfare cese!
Teach this, our world, ideas of peace.
Let love and kindness guide us when hate seems to rule the hearts of men.
God, spare the world from cruel war!
God, spread Thy Goodness wide and far!
Oh, let Good Will be understood, and make us live as brothers should.
Then we shall see the great increase of happiness that comes with peace!
Teach us to see and know all men
as children of ONE GOD

AMEN

Aim

To encourage children, patrons, teachers to render their services to further the war program.

The Three Fold Activity.

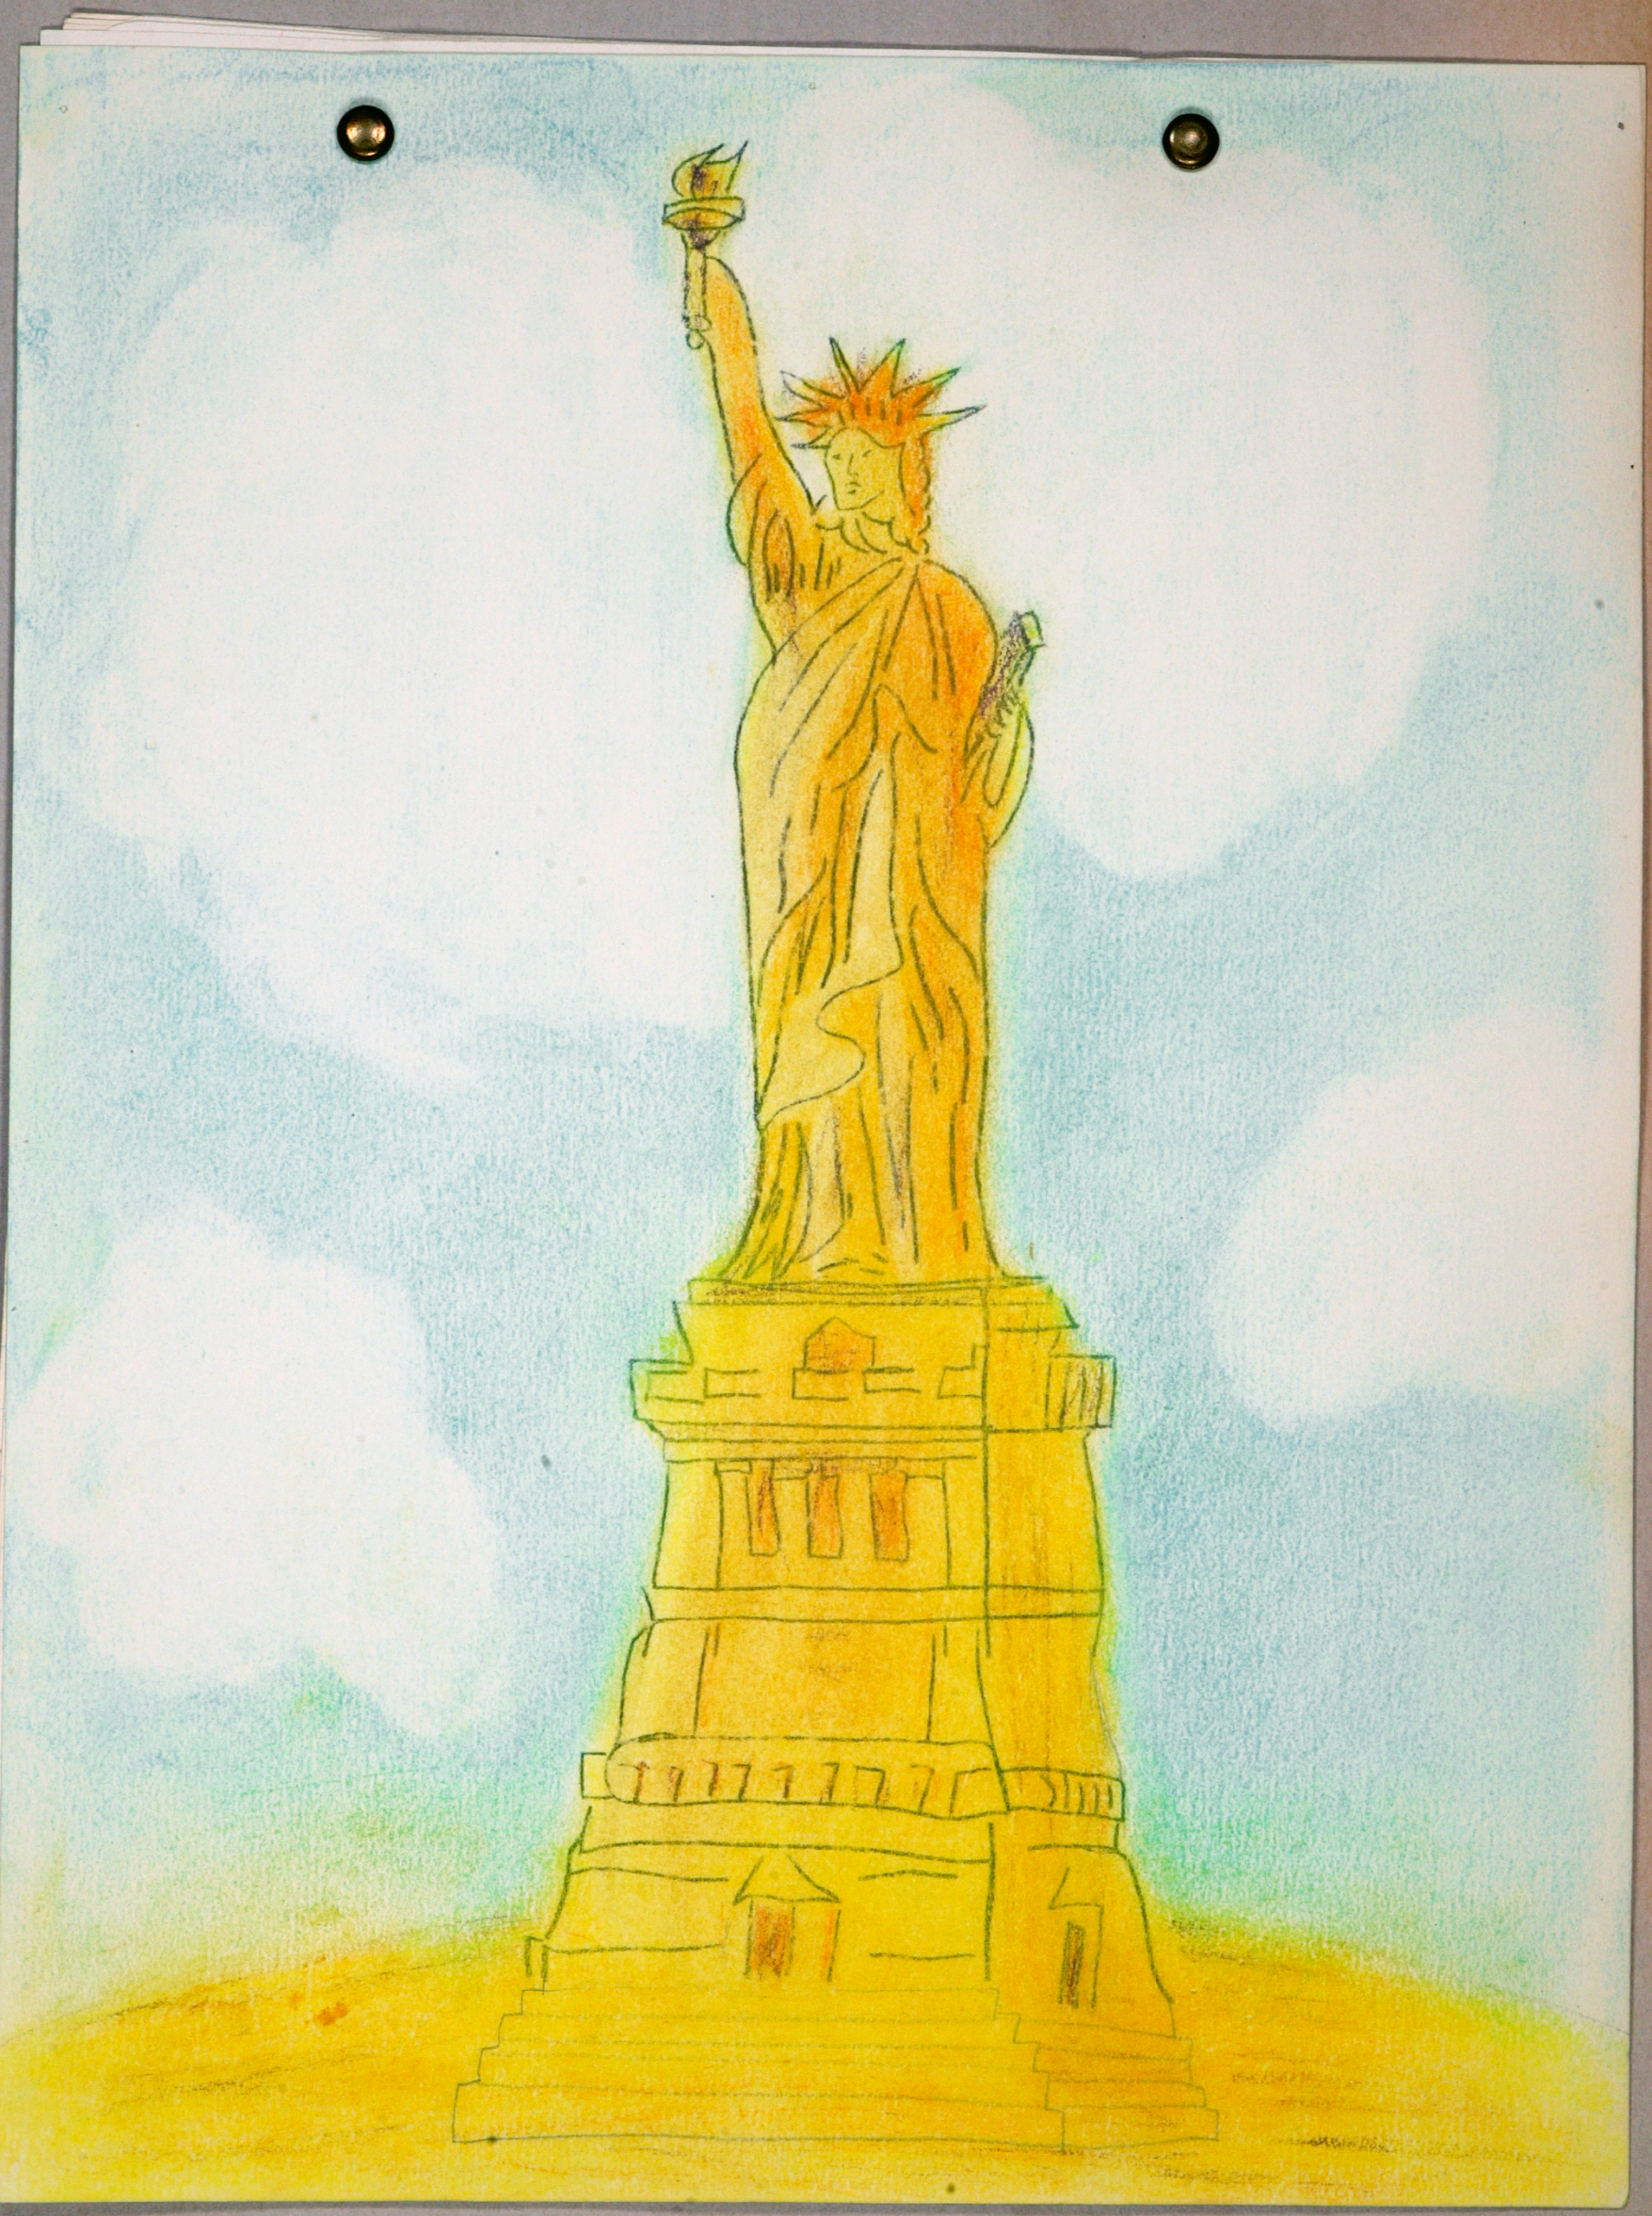

Save — Serve — Conserve.

We are saving to buy war stamps regularly.

We have joined the Red Cross and have made a scrap book, and some wall hangings for the hospital rooms.

We are collecting scrap paper, etc for war production. We are learning to repair and use over, wasting nothing and buying wisely.

Thru all of our classes we are corrolating the war program.

THE PREAMBLE

We, the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect Union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquillity, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America.

THE AMERICAN'S CREED

"I believe in the United states of America as a government of the people, by the people, for the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed: a democracy in a republic; a perfect union, one and inseparable; established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed lives and fortunes.

"I therefore believe it is my duty to my country to love it; to support its constitution; to obey its laws; to respect its flag, and to defend it against all enemies."

William Tyler Page

These the fifth, sixth, and seventh grades have learned as choral readings.

We have also learned the Gettysburg Address.

These we have correlated with Reading, English and Democracy.

The National Capital.

The lawn of the National Capital is very attractive. It is kept clean and nice.

The building is 751 feet long and 350 feet wide, and its dome is 287 feet 5 inches above the base line of the east front. Stately columns and pilasters in the Corinthian style of architecture are its chief exterior adornments. The grand Central Portico has twenty-four columns and is 160 feet wide. It is flanked by two groups of colossal statuary, and in the center is a great bronze door. The door panels are decorated in high relief, showing scenes in the life of Columbus. This door opens directly into a rotunda occupying almost the entire width of the central building, and rising up toward the dome. The rotunda is decorated with many historical paintings. On the canopy of the dome is the beautiful Apotheosis of Washington. Through the northern door of the rotunda one passes to the former Supreme Court Chamber, thence to the Senate Chamber, through the Southern door to Statuary Hall and the House of Representatives.

White House

The White House

The White House is on Pennsylvania Avenue in Washington D. C. It is a two story house of freestone painted white. It is not so very large. The front has a portico supported by ionic columns.

The main part of the White House is 170 feet by 86 feet. The lower floor is given up largely to the state rooms, to which the public are admitted, including the East Room. Public receptions are held there. The Blue Room is where diplomats are recieved. The Red Room is used chiefly by the ladies of the household and for the reception of callers. The Green Room is the state dining room. On the second floor are the private apartments of the president and his family.

John Paul Jones was born in 1744 at Kirkcudsbrightshire, Scotland. Due to gratitude to Willie Jones of North Carolina for friendship and support he changed his name to that of John Paul Jones.

He was a dauntless sea rover who offered his services to the United States in the revolutionary war. Jones was appointed commander of the flagship, Alfred in 1775. He was the first to raise the Stars and Stripes on a U. S. ship of war.

In 1777, he sailed the Ranger to Europe, there he recieved the first salute ever given to the new American flag by a British man of war.

In 1779, as cammander of the Bon Homme Richard, Jones captured the British sloop of war, the Serapis.

This was one of the greatest sea fights of the world. These two ships were so close to gether that their rigging became entangled. Jones attempted to board the Serapis but after a short battle he was repulsed and the vessels separated. The muzzels of the guns were still touching.

Once the British cammander thinking he was about to win shouted, "Jones, do you surrender?"

His startling reply was "I have not yet begun to fight!" The ships were caught afire and after a horrible hand-to-hand fight, the mast of the Serapis fell. Captain Jones and his men were victorious

Congress gave him a gold medal and commissioned him cammander of the ship America.

Later it was presented to France. The French king made Jones a knight of the Order of Merit.

He also served the Russian government and fought the Turks.
He resigned in 1792 and was appointed consul for the U. S. at Algiers.

Captain John Paul Jones died on July 18, 1792 in Paris, France.
In 1905 his buried place was discovered under a four story building in that city. By consent of France, his body was removed to the U. S.
by a squadron of American battle ships.

In 1925, his name was added to the American Hall of Fame.
He was the father of the American Navy.

Slogans

The sun will set,
The sun will rise,
Help to get the enemy guys.

Save stamps and bonds
So our boys can come from over the pond.

Give old clothes in a basket,
So we can make the Japs a casket.

Bonds make bombs.

Buy bonds and stamps,
To bomb the Japs.

We can't make gold,
But we can be bold,
And make those Japs
Feel like dirty rats.

Will catch the Japs,
taking a nap and give them a tap with our scrap.

Hitler is a skinny rat
Feed him to his fellow cats.

Watch your lips
It'll sink our ships.

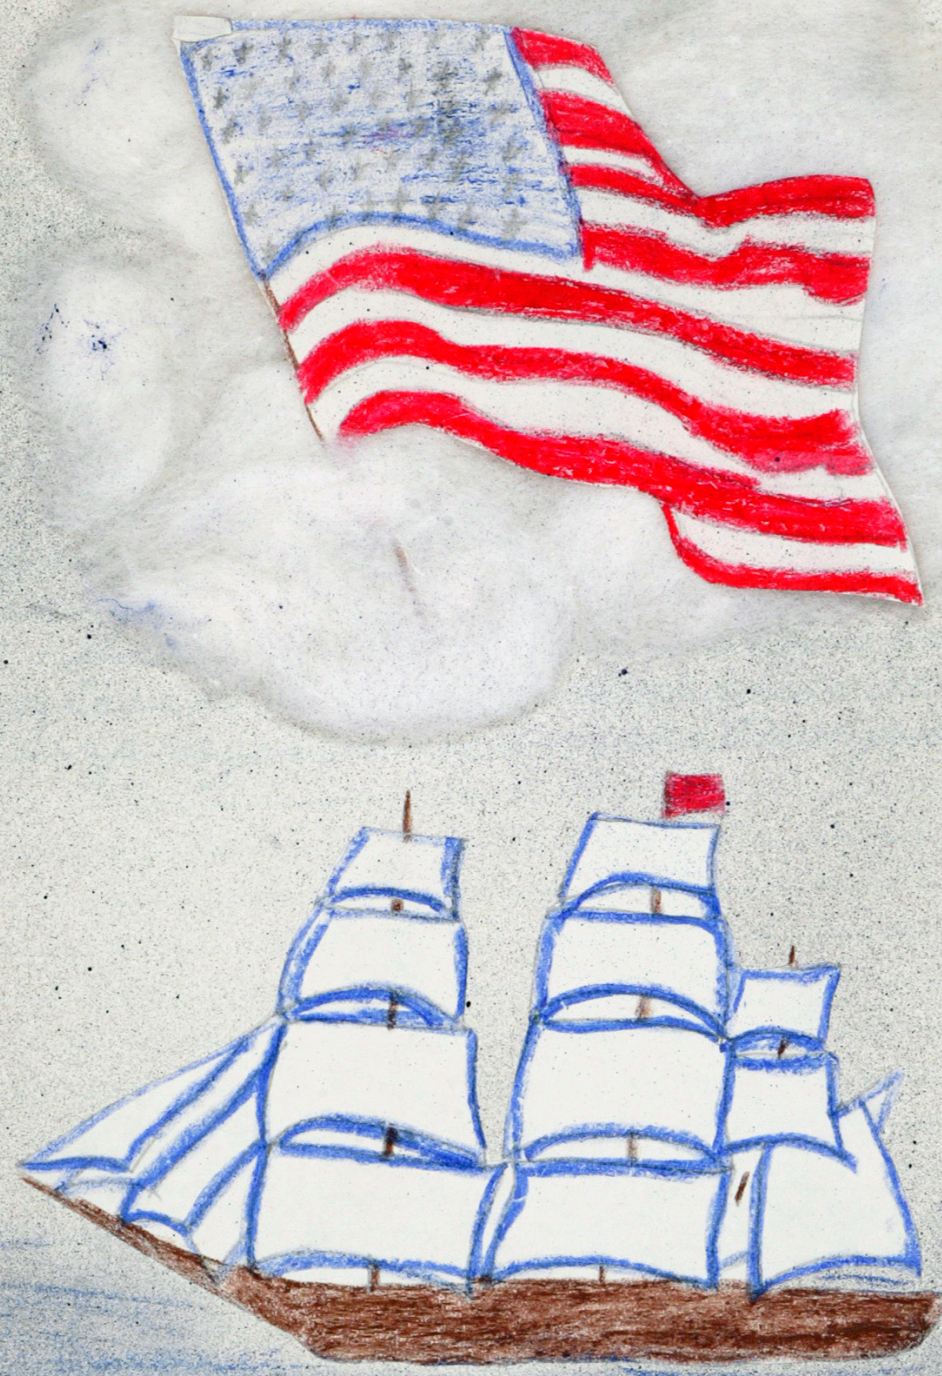

We're in a war,
Lets make the score.

Hitler is on a sub,
Blow it up and he'll be in a tub.

Take a shell make Hitler yell.

Our navy has to scrub the deck.
Let's make Hitler be a nervous wreck.

The school has learned several songs such as "There's a Star Spangled Banner Waving Somewhere", "Army Air Corp", "Anchors Away", "Praise the Lord and Pass the Ammunition".

We are always glad to cooperate with the Church and other organizations in carrying on war programs and several times we have helped to furnish the program.

Saturday night we have two entries in an amateur contest. The prizes are war stamps.

Anchors Aweigh

Anchors Aweigh, my boys, Anchors Aweigh. ——— Farewell to college joys, we sail at break of day-day-day-day! Through our last night on shore drink to the foam, ——— Until we meet once more Here's wishing you a happy voyage home. ——— Heave a-ho there sailor, everybody drink up while you may, Heave a-ho there sailor, for you're gonna sail at break of day, Drink away, Drink away, For you sail at break of day, Heh! Sail Navy down the bay Anchors Aweigh! ——— We'll never change our course we're from the U. S. A. ay-ay-ay We've got a job to do Over the sea ——— Anchors Aweigh, today As we go sailing on to victory. ———

There's a Star Spangled Banner Waving Somewhere

There's a Star Spangled Banner Waving Somewhere, In a distant land So many miles away —— Only Uncle Sam's great herbes get to go there —— Where I wish that I could also live someday. —— I'd see Lincoln, Custer, Washington and Perry —— And Nathan Hale and Colin Kelley too! There's a Star Spangled Banner Waving Somewhere — Waving o'er the land of heroes brave and true.

In this war with it's mad schemes of destruction, —— Of our country fair and our sweet liberty —— By the mad dictators, leaders of corruption Can't the U. S. use a mountain boy like me —— God gave me the right to be a free American —— and for that precious right I'd gladly die— There's a Star Spangled Banner Waving Somewhere —— That is where I want to live when I die.

Tho' I realize I am crippled that is true, sir! —— Please don't judge my courage by my twisted leg —— Let me show my Uncle Sam what I can do, sir! —— Let me help to bring the axis down a peg. —— If I do some great deed I will be a hero ——— And a hero brave is what I want to be ——— There's a Star Spangled Banner Waving Somewhere — In That heaven there should be a place for me.

The Star Spangled Banner

Oh say! can you see by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilights last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, thro' the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watch'd,-- were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets red glare, the-bombs bursting in air, Gave proof thro' the night --- that our flag was still there.

Chorus.

Oh, say, does that Star-spangled Banner yet wave O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave!

Praise The Lord
and Pass The Ammunition

Down went the gunner, a bullet was his fate Down went the gunner, and then the gunner's mate
Up jumped the sky pilot, gave the boys a look and manned the gun himself as he laide aside The Book, shouting:

Refrain
"Praise The Lord, and pass the ammunition!
Praise The Lord, and pass the
ammunition!
Praise The Lord and pass the ammunition
and we'll all stay free!
Praise The Lord and swing into position Can't afford to sit around a'wishin'
Praise The Lord, we're all between perdition and the deep blue sea!"
Yes the sky pilot said it
You've got to give him credit for a son-of-a gun of a gunner was he Shouting:
"Praise the Lord, we're on a mighty mission

all aboard! We're not a goin' fishin'; Praise The Lord, and pass the ammunition
and we'll all stay free.

The Army Air Corps.

Off we go into the wild blue yonder,
Climbing high into the sun;
Here they come, zooming to meet our thunder,
At 'em boys, Give 'er the--- gun!
Down we dive, spouting our flame from under,
Off with one terrible roar!
We live in fame or go down in flame.
Nothing 'll stop the Army--- Air Corps.

Stamps and Bonds

All of our pupils have war stamps books and several have them almost filled.

Joyce Elaine Snyder has three twenty five dollar bonds and Kathryn Pollard, Johnny De Jarnett, Miss Elsie Krober and Miss Georgia Gardner, have bonds.

We want to fill the books quickly because a half filled stamps book is like a half equipped soldier.

To help fill our stamp albums we have organized a Mystery Pal Club. Each child buys their pal a stamp every two weeks.

We are also collecting iorn, scrap, light bulbs, razor blades, and postage stamps. We do not have these articles sold.

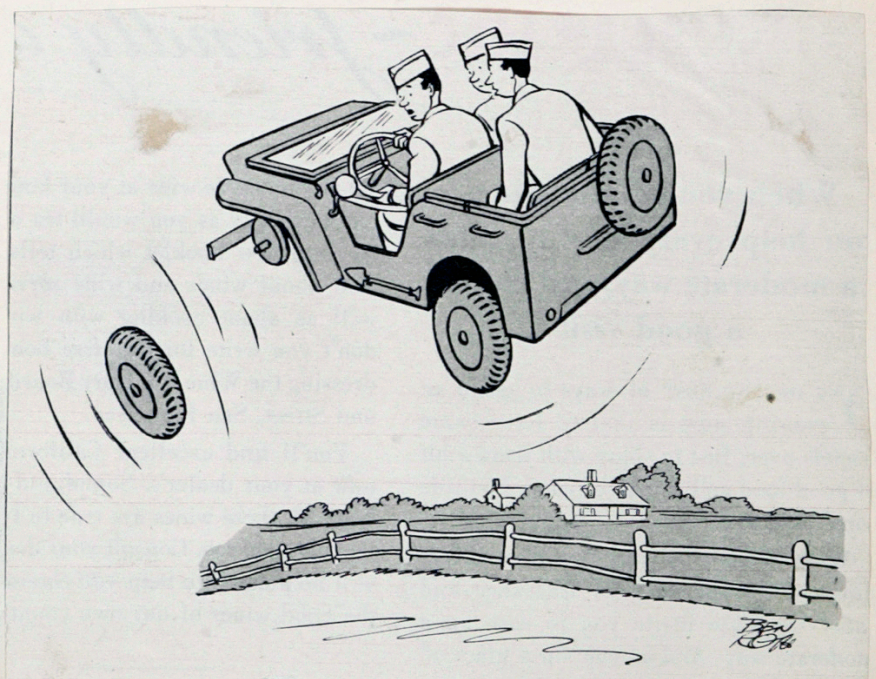

We plan to buy defense stamps with the money.

In Remembrance of Dec. 7

Virginia Henning
8th grade

A bearded man with a saddened face,
Stooped beside a form so limp;
His troubled eyes fell on a gun,
Broken by a bullet's dint.

His face was grim, his eyes were blazing,
As he rose beside his fallen son,
His voice came low in broken whisper,
"Remember December 7, in '41."

The dirty old Japs smiled, December 7,
They said, "This is just a starter."
Americans havent forgotten, they shout,
"Remember Pearl Harbor!"

"We are paying them back for every shot,

For every loss of a son,
We wont quit we never have,
We fight until we've won!"

I heard a fellow brag one day,
"Why the bonds and stamps I'm buyin', I've bought enough for a dozen guns,
and to always, "Keep'em Flyin'!!"
